

U.N. Report Denounces Soviet Role In Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A United Nations investigating committee accused the Soviet Union Thursday of slaughtering women and children in putting down the Hungarian revolution last fall. The special committee also charged that the Russians deported thousands of Hungarians to Soviet prisons, conducted wholesale executions and set up a puppet government under Janos Kadar to rule without the support of the Hungarian people.

Moscow angrily denounced the committee as a vehicle for "U.S. propaganda."

The committee also reported: The will of the Hungarian people for independence has only been strengthened by the Soviet army's unopposed suppression of the uprising, which cost between 2,500 and 3,000 lives.

What took place in Hungary in October and November, 1956, was a spontaneous national uprising, due to long-standing grievances which had caused resentment among the people.

CHARGES UNSUPPORTED

From start to finish, the revolt was led by students, workers, soldiers and intellectuals, many of them Communists or former Communists. There is no evidence to support Moscow's charge that the revolution was fomented and helped by reactionary circles in Hungary and Western imperialists.

The revolution was not planned in advance. But it appeared Soviet authorities had taken steps as early as Oct. 20 to make armed intervention in Hungary possible.

In its account of hearings at London, New York, Geneva, Rome and Vienna, the committee said it had been told some Soviet soldiers at the start of the rebellion last Oct. 23 showed sympathy for the Hungarians. Then Moscow rushed in thousands of troops in the early days of November to carry out pacification by force.

The committee said these troops apparently were Mongols and Tartars from Central Asia, who had been told and apparently believed they were being sent to Egypt to throw back "Anglo-French imperialists." Some of the troops pointed to the Danube river and called it the Suez Canal.

NOT INVITED

Imre Nagy, leader of the government which was crushed by Soviet power, denied he ever invited the Soviet authorities to assist in quelling the revolution by force.

The grip of the secret police was loosened by the revolutionary fighters. The committee was shocked by what it learned from witnesses who told of sufferings inflicted on the people by the Hungarian secret police (AVH).

It said the secret police were separated from the population by a "wall of hate" and became a state within the state, dedicated to the control of the people by terrorism and oppression. The Hungarian people now are aware of police surveillance and have a real fear and hatred of the new security police, which they identify with the old AVH.

The committee said consideration of the Hungarian question is legally proper. It refused to accept Soviet contentions that the UN was violating charter restrictions against taking up internal affairs.

MASSIVE INTERVENTION

"A massive armed intervention by one power on the territory of another, with the avowed intention of interfering with the internal affairs of the country must, by the Soviet's own definition of aggression, be a matter of international concern," the committee said.

Moscow radio called the report a "propaganda bomb" supported by false evidence. It assailed the committee as illegal on the grounds it violated the UN charter by interfering in the internal affairs of a member state. Its report was described as a "U.S. propaganda offensive."

The Soviet delegation at the UN was officially silent. But it was apparent Soviet diplomats were amazed and angered by the strong language and conclusions of the 150,000-word document boiled down from 2,000 pages of verbatim testimony by 111 Hungarians.

The BBC announced it would devote all possible time to the UN report in broadcasts Thursday and today, beamed to Iron Curtain countries.

CALL FOR ACTION

The British foreign office, Australian foreign minister Richard G. Casey and the U.S. UN delegation immediately called for action on the next step in the Hungarian case. It appeared that the committee's unanimous report will be dealt with early in the 12th regular General Assembly convening Sept. 17.

U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge called the report "big news." He said he will ask an early meeting of representatives of the 24 powers which sponsored the assembly resolution creating the five-member committee. Britain endorsed Lodge's move. The British foreign office called the report "thorough and true."

The representatives on the committee were: Aising Andersen, Denmark, chairman; Mongi Slim, Tunisia; Enrique Rodriguez Fabregat, Uruguay; R. S. Gunewardene, Ceylon; K. C. O. Shann, Australia. Shann was reporter for the committee and did a big share of the drafting of the report.
