Sudden Death Of Well Known S'side Woman

The death occurred suddenly at her home on Myrtle Street, Summerside, about six o'clock last evening of Miss Georgie Green, she was 84 years of age.

Miss Green lived alone and was showing some prospective tenants through the house when she collapsed. A doctor was quickly summoned but she was dead when he arrived.

The late Miss Green was a native of this Town and was well known to the people of the older generation. Her birthplace was the building which is now the nurses' home of the Prince County Hospital.

As a young girl she moved to Boston where she worked in a department store for quite a few years. Later she travelled extensively in the United States and Canada and lived for a time in Banff, Alta.

Thirty years ago she returned to Summerside and made her home here till the time of her death. The last few winters she boarded out but always returned to her own home about the first of April.

She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Penn Green and was the last of a family of four. A brother, Dr. Cecil Green of Montague died about three years ago.

Mr. Maynard Lefurgey of Summerside is a first cousin. Miss Green was a popular person and was always welcome in many homes. She will be missed by many. Possessing the gift of wit, she had the ability to make people laugh and she had many friends.

The body is resting at the Bowness Funeral Home and funeral services will be conducted at St. Mary's Anglican Church on Wednesday, April 19th at 2.30 p.m. Interment in the People's Cemetery.—S

Debate Resumes On Gas Pipeline Bill

OTTAWA, April 17 —(CP) — The Commons, fresh from its Easter holidays, stepped back into the pipe-line filibuster today and heard renewed Opposition demands that the projected Alberta-to-British Columbia pipelines be built on Canadian soil.

The main debate swirled around a private bill to incorporate Alberta Natural Gas Company, one of two companies seeking the right to extend a gas line from the Alberta oil fields to the west coast.

It was given second reading—approval in principle—after two votes and sent to the railway committee for detailed study.

The first vote—100 to 28—was on a strategic Liberal move calling for second reading; the second—101 to 29—was on second reading itself. Both motions were carried and Opposition efforts to block the measure were defeated.

Opposition to the bill stemmed from a joint C. C. F.-Progressive Conservative demand that the sponsors give assurance that their gasline will run through Canadian territory. They fear the line will be built through the United States, with American consumers being given first choice when the gas becomes available.

In the two votes, George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley), who has opposed the pipeline legislation, voted with the opposing C. C. F. and Progressive Conservative parties. The Social Credit group sided with the Liberals.

Then, with the Alberta Natural Gas Bill moved to committee, the Chamber turned to debate on second reading a bill to incorporate Prairie Transmission Lines Limited, which also seeks the right to construct a west coast pipeline.

Linked with the contentious debate was a bill introduced today by John Sinnott- (L—Springfield), another opponent, which would make it law that any such pipe lines be built in Canada. His bill was given first reading and will come up later.

Taking part in today's debate were Howard Green (PC—Vancouver-Quadra), A. L. Smith (PC—Calgary West), Ross Harkness (PC—Calgary East), O. L. Jones (CCF—Yale) and Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver East).

Earlier, Trade Minister Howe announced the Government is extending its guaranteed price for radioactive ores for another three years. This is a new step to spur the search for uranium, used in creating atomic energy.

A motion was also passed that a committee be appointed to look into the matter of building a new Legion home. The committee is to be appointed later.

Mr. M. P. Titus, reporting for the newly organized Legion band, said that regular practices are held on Wednesday evenings with additional practices on Monday evenings for beginners. Unfortunately a few of the instruments have not yet arrived.

Cold War Between Arab States And Israel Worsening

By LARRY ALLEN
(For J. M. Roberts, Jr.)
Associated Press News Analyst

TEL AVIV, Israel, April 17 — (AP) — The "cold war" between the Arab states and Israel is worsening — and Jews daily are warned there might come a sudden "hot blitz."

The country's newspapers join army and government leaders in telling Israelis there's plenty of good, sound reason for thinking the Arab states might try a "second round" attack against this country.

They point to the recent Arab League's Council decisions in Cairo and the formation of a political, economic and military alliance by the Arab states. There no longer appears to be much, if any doubt, in the average Israeli mind but that the Arab countries would again resort to arms if they fail to crush Israel through an economic blockade.

The Jews aren't afraid. The average one is confident — and so is the newspaper he reads—that if the Arabs try to smash Israel by force as they did after the Jewish state was proclaimed May 15, 1948 the Arabs once again would be whipped.

Nevertheless no individual Jew, nor the country as a whole, intends to be caught napping if the Arabs really start trouble.

Jews who want peace are far from encouraged by the developments in Cairo. They know now the road ahead is far rockier than ever before. Because, now, under the Arab League's decisions, any Arab country that dares to talk peace with the Israelis would be expelled and made the target of economic sanctions by other Arab states.

Thtis appears to have squelched the "feelers" put out by Hashemite Jordan to turn its armistice with Israel into a peace treaty.

The premiers of Syria, Iraq and Lebanon have declared peace talks with Israel are "futile." Certainly no move has been made by Egypt to open such negotiations. The question now is how long Israeli armistices with these states can remain effective. Technically, the armistices are to run until a peace settlement.

Aside from banning separate peace talks, the Arab League has tightened the noose of economic blockade about Israel.

Arab countries are denying supplies and port facilities to any vessels bound for any Israeli port. They also are refusing to give visas to anyone who already possesses a permit to enter Israel. Furthermore, it seems that no ship bound for an Israeli port can get through the Suez Canal, regardless of what cargo it may be carrying.

In face of all this Israel also has to cope with the problem of how she can arm herself.

The Arab states, under treaties with Britain, are getting ships, tanks, guns and planes for "internal security."

Britain has denied an Israel request for similar supplies. Israel appealed also to the United States. Her request has been received coldly with an indication only she may be able to buy light arms and some surplus jet aircraft. But that might be predicated upon Israel disclosing to the U.S. the strength of her fighting forces. This Israel has already refused to do.

Israel, anyway, is going ahead the best she can to develop her "defensive capacity to the maximum." She has taken every possible step to keep regular and reserve forces in readiness for any eventuality. Pursuing a policy of neutrality in foreign affairs, Israel has let the gate open for any eastern country who wishes to sell her arms.

"THE SNAKE PIT" AT CAPITOL, SUMMERSIDE

—Darryl F. Zanuck's presentation of "The Snake Pit," which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre, is a motion picture that is destined to rank as one of Hollywood's finest efforts. Based on Mary Jane Ward's best-selling novel, the film is a realistic portrayal of a compelling love story ... an emotional drama on a rare and pregnant theme.

"The Snake Pit" is great entertainment. For in addition to the love story, there is pathos, sympathy, understanding and emotion. It has all these, plus humor and faith, the striving for security and mental calm which combine into one all-encompassing, beautifully produced motion picture.

In the able hands of Director Anatole Litvak, who with Robert Bassler co-produced the film, the story moves swiftly, surely through a series of carefully contrived flashbacks which tell the compelling story of Virginia Cunningham. Tracing the insidious forces that lead to her breakdown, the film honestly and accurately pictures Virginia's experiences inside a hospital where a successful attempt is made to restore her normal place in society.

Olivia de Havilland's performance as Virginia is brilliant. It is a portrayal that has fire, force and compelling drive, marking her as the screen's outstanding dramatic actress. Her complete mastery of the demanding role marks a climax to her distinguished career.

Magicians To Hold Meeting At Chicago

LONDON, April 17 — (AP) — If any American magicians don't know how to cut a lady in two they will have a chance to learn.

A delegation of about six British wizards will go to Chicago next month for sessions of the International Brotherhood of Magicians. They will take along their most treasured possession, three ponderous padlocked volumes which are the life's work of a famous British magician, the late Will Goldston.

The three books tell all about magic, explaining tricks as much as 1,000 years old. They are rarely unlocked, but will be opened for serious American scholars.

Goldston and Harry Houdini founded the British Magicians' Club in 1913. The books, to which Houdini's genius contributed, explain the most efficient methods of cutting a lady in two. There are four ways of doing it — the simplest being to use two girls, the saw going between them.
