

except when in want of the flesh, or to get their heads as specimens, to grace his collection of sporting trophies, which is described as being now so extensive as almost to require a small ship to send them home. He is said to have discovered an entirely new sort of antelope, unknown not only to science, but even to the native tribes living under the tropics. It is a very beautiful species, and with much time and difficulty, he procured twenty-two specimens both male and female.—His losses have, unfortunately, counterbalanced the excellence of his sport. He has lost all his horses, (15,) all his oxen, (30,) and his dogs, (20,) and his best wagon driver. His horses were killed either by lions or horse sickness, and the fly called tsetse. All his oxen were killed by this insect. His dogs were killed, some by the lions, some by the phanter, crocodile, and by different kinds of game. The wagon driver was carried off on a dark and cloudy evening, by a monster lion, which Mr. Cumming shot next day."

Upon receiving the enclosed certificate I am directed by the Grand Worthy Patriarch to state, that as soon as practicable, he will attend with the Grand Conductor, or will send a Deputy duly authorised, to open the Division.

As it is desirable that the principles of this truly noble and philanthropic order should be diffused throughout the Island, it is to be hoped, that those persons who are in favour of Temperance would unite, so that Divisions may be established in every settlement of the Colony. The leading principles of the Order are as follows:—

1. A universal Temperance reformation.
2. A Brotherhood, in Love, Purity and Fidelity.
3. The pecuniary relief of sick Brethren.
4. The encouragement of morality.
5. The diffusion of good will to all mankind.

Besides others equally exalted and ennobling. The initiation fee to each Brother on opening Division is twelve shillings, and which is retained in the Division, and from this fund the expenses for Charter &c. are paid.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS the Vessel now on the Stocks, near Kildare River Bridge, of 120 tons O. M., and put in frame by me during the Summer of 1847, under a contract with Mr. Thomas Caie, Trader, of Tignish, for the building of the same, which vessel was stopped in building in the autumn of the aforesaid year (1847) by the non-fulfilment of the contract on the part of Mr. Caie, he not having the means of completing the same; and as it has come to my knowledge that the aforesaid Thomas Caie, instead of completing his agreement with me according to contract, has endeavoured to dispose of the vessel to several persons as his property, but could not succeed with the parties to whom he applied to, from a knowledge of the contract for building;—I do hereby give public notice, that all persons may govern themselves accordingly, that the aforesaid Thomas Caie has no power or authority from me to sell the aforesaid vessel, and that any person or persons found trespassing in the shipyard in my possession, either in meddling with the Vessel on the Stocks, the Timber, Plank, Knees, &c. in the Yard and Woods belonging to me, will be prosecuted as the Law directs.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE EXAMINER.

SIR—I have just received the EXAMINER of this week, and perceive a notice by James Fitzgibbon, who engaged to build a vessel for me of the size he mentions in your paper, which he was to have completed in June last, and for which I advanced him £210 up to the 12th August, 1847: for this advance I took a Bill of Sale and delivery, and afterwards made a further advance of about £70, which, together with the naval stores and Blacksmith's work provided for him by me would have been the value of the Vessel when built. Finding that he was a bad character, and that he did not intend completing the vessel, I refused giving him more advances after the vessel lay several months longer on the Stocks than the time he engaged to have her completed; and finding that he could do nothing towards her, I determined on disposing of the vessel, which I did for a little more than one-third of what I advanced him, which I considered the value of her. He, however, thought proper to pull the vessel down, and being informed of this circumstance, I had him brought before Nicholas Conroy, Esq., J. P., and fined 5l. and costs. He had not the means of paying the fine, and swore to an appeal, without sureties, in order, I believe to get time to abscond. Consequently, after the time allowed by law expired, N. Conroy, Esq. issued an execution, which was handed to the Constable; but on going to Fitzgibbon's house, found it barred inside, and no admission to be gained. The constable learnt, however, from Fitzgibbon's nearest neighbour, that he had absconded at daylight with a bundle in one hand, and a rusty dagger in the other, no doubt to avoid the punishment that would be inflicted upon him in default of payment of the fine.

Persons wanting a Shipbuilder are hereby cautioned against employing him, as he is not a mechanic, and has destroyed several jobs that he had taken from Shipbuilders at Lot One and Lot Eleven.

Yours respectfully,

THOMAS J. CAIE.
