

CAR-HORSE IN COLLISION

A car-horse collision on the Malpeque Road near Kensington Tuesday evening around 9:00 o'clock resulted in the instantaneous death of the horse and the severe damage to the vehicle (above) but miraculously the two occupants of the car were unhurt. The 1957 Pontiac sedan, a rented U-drive vehicle from Saint John N.B. was driven by Albert Bruce Leard of the Canadian Army, Camp Petawawa, who was on leave and visiting his home in Cavendish. He was accompanied by Joseph Peters, stationed with the army at London, Ont. who was also on leave and visiting his home in Rustico. The horse, owned by Thomas Dunphy, Kensington R.R. jumped from the ditch on to the road in front of the oncoming car resulting in the collision. The horse was thrown completely over the top of the vehicle and knocked out the rear window as well as causing other damage to the rear portion of the new car.

6,000 Meals Served At Big Carnival

Almost 6,000 meals were served at the 1957 Summerside lobster carnival according to information presented last evening to the carnival committee. Meeting for the purpose of approving bills for payment the committee learned that 5,973 pounds of lobsters had been purchased and that the 5,972 meals had resulted in a gross income of $688.

The meals showed an increase in number of 1,090 over that of 1956, and in the busiest day this year 1,541 lobster suppers were served.

While revenue from other sources was also reported, the expenditures for which payment was approved last night will be charged against these incomes and a financial statement will be presented by the treasurer, Earl Hickey, at a meeting which will be called when the statement is completed.

The meeting was presided over by the chairman of the carnival committee, Edgar Cannon, and others present included John Ellis, W.E. Jenkins, Buddy D'Athe, Charles Hogan Earl Hickey, Ben Champion, Roy Johnston and Vaughan Groom.

Jr. Girls End Camp Keir Stay

Having followed the routine of older brothers and sisters who had earlier attended the Boys Camp and the Sr. Girls Camp, the younger girls of the various households from the length and breadth of the Island took their departure from Camp Keir Jr. Girls Camp on Wednesday the 7th. The weather man did not always provide the most ideal camping weather, but nevertheless there was ample time for outdoor sports and enough swimming instruction so that a goodly number passed the Red Cross Swimming tests.

As they approached the last mile or two, some of the parents were perhaps a little dismayed to find road conditions difficult due to new road construction. But all were happy to put up with a little difficulty this year in order that they may have improved roads from the French River corner down to Camp Keir which is located at the entrance to the New London Harbour, just above the New London Harbour Light.

The Camp Director for the Girls Camp this year was Miss Donna Truscott of Hamilton, Ontario, a Student Deaconess who has been serving in the Moncton N.B. area this summer. Working with Miss Truscott was Mrs. E.H. Bean, Kensington who has served as Camp Registrar and Leader-in-Charge of Handicrafts. The Red Cross Swimming Instructor was Miss Joyce Bryan, Malpeque. Other Leaders

Fay Hickox, Miss Sonda Sutherland of Charlottetown; Miss Sandra Jardine and Miss Marlene Paynter of Freetown; and the Camp Nurse was Mrs. W.B. Seaman of Charlottetown. The Campers included Ann Hickox, Elaine Reynolds, Sandra Johnston, Connie Whitlock, Wilma Jean MacDonald, Betty Ann Moore, Lynn Currie, Donna Sutherland, Virginia MacNutt, Margaret Burns, Sandra MacKay, Loretta MacDonald, Heather MacDonald, Peggy Ann Sheifoon all of Charlottetown.

June Nicholson, Fredericton; Doreen Balderston and Ruth Molyneux of Southport; Cheryl MacLeod, Lorraine Henderson, Myrna Clow, Lynn McClure and Sharon Buell all of Montague; Roma Bagnall, Carol Bernard Dorothy MacLean of Hunter River.

Ruth Johnston, Mayfield; Margaret MacDonald, Susan MacEwan, Parkdale; Margaret MacLeod, Jean MacLeod, Milton; Lona Ford, North Milton; Linda Pigeon, French River; Elizabeth Taylor, Winslow; Myrna Ballen, Marshfield; Donna Nicholson, Summerside; Elizabeth Anne MacLean, Tyne Valley. Ann Clark, Jacqueline Ann Clark and Faye Atkinson of Alberton.

Following the departure of the Junior Girls the Camp will experience a still quieter for a little over a month until the Young Peoples Camp begins on August 24th. The Leaders for this Camp this year will be the Rev. Neil Ramsarop, a Minister of the Presbyterian Church in British Guiana and who is visiting Summerside, and E.H. Bean of Kensington.

Fish Landings Show A Drop

OTTAWA (CP) — Failure of the cod-trap fishery in Newfoundland and below-normal salmon and halibut catches on the West Coast caused a sharp drop in Canada's sea-fish landings in June.

The bureau of statistics said today landings in the month totalled 180,399,000 pounds, compared with 220,218,000 in the corresponding month in 1956. The value of fish caught fell 16 per cent to $9,956,000 from $11,831,000.

In the January-June period landings were down 24 per cent at 676,376,000 pounds from 894,955,000 last year. The landed value dropped 19 per cent to $29,930,000 from $36,215,000.

N. B. Has Hay

FREDERICTON (CP) — New Brunswick will be able to make up part of Nova Scotia's hay shortage, Agriculture Minister C. B. Sherwood said Monday. The upper St. John River area had a good hay crop although it was a little below normal in southern New Brunswick. Recent precipitation had improved pasture and even in southern counties there would be no acute shortage.

300 Scholarships

000 a-year revenue, may total about $800,000 annually. They will range between $300 and $5,000 and will be granted only to those doing work in the fields of arts, humanities and social sciences. Some of the grants to be made: Pre-master's degree scholarships averaging $1,200 for study leading to a master's degree, tenable in the graduate faculty of any Canadian university for one year subject to renewal. Candidates will require an honors bachelor's degree or equivalent training.

DOCTOR'S DEGREE Senior fellowships, averaging $2,000, as well as travel allowance, for study leading to a doctor's degree, tenable in Canada or abroad for one year and subject to renewal. Candidates will require a master's degree or equivalent training.

Junior arts fellowships averaging $2,000 and travel allowance tenable for one year in Canada or elsewhere, for young artists, scholars, musicians, writers and others arts practitioners and teachers with exceptional promise.

Scholarships or fellowships for secondary school teachers, averaging $2,000 and travel allowance, tenable for one year. School boards are expected to provide successful candidates with salary allowances.

Fellowships averaging $2,000 for arts teachers tenable for one year in Canada or elsewhere.

ADVANCED WORK Grants of between $300 and $700 for graduate students doing and varied work or teachers doing special jobs in the summer months or for part of a year. This is subject to renewal.

Fellowships of $5,000 and travel expenses for senior foreign fellows to study in Canada. The grant is to be $2,000 for younger scholars or workers showing exceptional promise.

Fellowships averaging $3,000 for journalists, broadcasters and others. Recipients must be experienced in creative and interpretive work.

Application for these grants are to be made to the council secretary here. Helping to recommend selections will be the National Conference of Canadian Universities, the humanities and social sciences research councils, the Canada Foundation and similar agencies.

The council also decided to provide aid for special projects and publish special works. These are to be considered on their merit. A number of distinguished foreign lecturers are to be brought to Canada. Prizes and medals are to be established for outstanding works in the arts, humanities and social sciences.

OTHER PROJECTS "A number of other projects and plans received consideration," council chairman Brooke Claxton announced after a two day meeting.

These included ways of bringing art to the homes of the people, the use of television and broadcast programs, the cultural aspects of the celebration of the centenary of Confederation, preservation of Canadian folklore, exhibition and preservation of Canadian Indian and Eskimo art and handicraft, assistance in the publication of Canadian works, projection of Canada abroad through lectureships, exhibitions and performances, co-operation with students, institution of regional councils, Commonwealth and foreign co-operation.

"Announcement of additional plans and grants will be made as they are arrived at." The council was set up last April and armed by Parliament with $100,000,000. Half was to aid in university construction and the other half set up as an endowment fund.

The university capital is to be distributed over a period of 10 years in the form of matching grants to be spent for buildings for the arts, humanities and social sciences. Grants applicable to each province will be made to eligible universities in proportion to the student population working towards degrees.

clashes. Finally, when the two groups threatened to lock in battle police broke up the demonstration with tear gas bombs.

Edgar Fortin, 29-year-old strikers, died at his home of a heart attack 20 minutes after the offices were attacked. His sister, Mrs. Edmond Breaux, said her brother had taken part in the picketing during the day. He was on the balcony of his home with his wife and children.

"Suddenly my brother said: 'Here come the scabs.' They were running down the street, armed with bats and knives. He collapsed after taking his family indoors.

The violence Monday came in the wake of five tense strike months in the small Gaspe Peninsula mining town. But the central issue over which the company and the union have been wrangling for more than a year is recognition of the USWA as bargaining agent for the workers.

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP)—Claude Jodoin, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, Tuesday termed the sacking of union offices at strike-ridden Murdochville as "terrorism practised by hired goons."

In a prepared statement issued from this lower St. Lawrence town where he stayed overnight, Mr. Jodoin said he is convinced the attackers "are not Gaspeians."

"What has happened confirms what I said earlier in a telegram to Premier Duplessis. This is terrorism practised by hired goons. Representations will be made to the competent authorities." Roger Provost, president of the Quebec Labor Federation, said the pillage and the stoning of labor delegates shows Gaspe Copper mines Limited wants to exercise "complete control" over the mining town.

EXHIBITION OPENS TODAY

Alberton's Fair Grounds Was Busy Spot Yesterday

Last evening the exhibition grounds at Alberton were pulsing with activity as entries of livestock were being brought in. At nine o'clock the barns were reported to be almost filled. Some entries of flowers, fruit and vegetables were being placed. Domestic science and ladies' work had been judged and the ladies in charge of these classes were busy endeavouring to arrange the displays so that they might be satisfactorily viewed by the public. Their greatest problem appeared to be how to place all the cakes, cookies, etc. in a very much overcrowded showcase.

In the dining hall another group of ladies were setting tables and making other preparations for the serving of meals which will give promise of being up to the delectable standard of previous years. Booths were also being prepared for the sale of lunches, fruit cream, soft drinks etc. Burns' Pipe Band will be in hand this afternoon to provide entertainment and there will be swings and other amusements. The official opening will be at two o'clock when a number of prominent speakers will be present. Judging of livestock will begin today and be continued on Thursday. After it is completed there will be a sale of choice livestock. Thursday evening the two-day fair will conclude with the popular exhibition dance. Music for modern dancing will be furnished by the Lowell Huestis Orchestra from Summerside and for old time dancing by the Leonard Barnett Orchestra from Elmsdale.
