Knowing How

is as much an element of success in the Wall Paper business as it is in politics. The "knowing how" on the part of the makers to design handsome papers makes it an important industry. Our "knowing how" to procure just the Wall Paper you want, has made this the biggest Wall Paper business in the province. Come in and let us show you that we "know how to please you.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.

THURSDAY, April 29.

House met at 11.15. Mr Rogers (city) introduced a bill to further amend the City of Charlottetown Incorporation Act. The bill provides for the electing of City Councillors by a vote of the whole city the same as the mayor, and for paying each Councillor $100 a year and the Mayor a similar amount. It also provides for increasing the tax on banks to $250, and for imposing a tax of not more than $2 on bicycles.

Mr. Bell asked the Commissioner of Public Works if a petition had been received from certain residents of Sea Cow Head, Lot 25 and vicinity, asking for the opening of a new road from Sea Cow Head Road to the road leading to Hurd's Point Wharf, and what action the Government intend to take in the matter; also whether a petition had been received from certain inhabitants of Lot 27, asking for the opening of a road from County Line to the Connolly Road, Lot 27, and whether it is the intention of the Government to grant the prayer of the petition; also whether a petition had been received from certain inhabitants of Kinkora and North Tryon, asking for the opening of a new road from Kinkora to North Tryon, and what action the Government proposes to take in the matter.

Hon. Mr. McLean said petitions had been received and would be considered by the Government. During recess the matters would be investigated.

Mr. Gallant asked the Commissioner of Public Works if he had received a petition from the inhabitants of Cape Egmont, Lot 15, asking for the opening of a new road from Cape Egmont to Abram's Village, it so, what action he intends to take in the matter; also if he had received a petition from the inhabitants of Lot 15, asking for the opening of a new road from Back Settlement, 15 Point, to Egmont Bay Road, Lot 16, if so, what action he intends to take in the matter; also if he had received a petition from the inhabitants of Lots 11, 12, 13, 14 and 16 praying for the construction of a bridge across Grand River, Lot 14, and if so what action he intends to take in the matter; also if he has received a petition from the inhabitants of Lots 13 and 14 for the opening of a new road from Line Road of Lots 13 and 14 to St. Gilbert Road, if so what action he intends to take in the matter.

Hon. Mr. McLean said the petitions asked about had been received. In regard to the Grand River bridge the cost would be considerable and the Government would look into the matter. During recess the matters referred to in the other questions would be investigated.

Mr. Gallant moved the House into committee on the second reading of the bill incorporating the trustees of the Darnley Public Hall. The bill was reported agreed to and set down for third reading to-morrow.

Hon. Mr. Farquharson moved the House into committee on the bill incorporating the Cornwall Hall Company. The bill was reported agreed to and set down for third reading to-morrow.

House adjourned until 3 p. m.

GOLD! GOLD! GOLD!—Geo. D. Scott, whose ad. appears in this issue of our paper, has established another office at Victoria, B. C. Mr. Scott is an Island boy, being a son of Robert Scott, of the late firm of J. & R. Scott, carriage manufacturers of this city. Mr. Scott left here nine years ago, going to British Columbia, where he succeeded in working his way up to the management for B. C. of the London and Lancashire Life Assurance Co., and is on record as having written the second largest individual business of all their agents in the world. Mr. Scott was one of the first to become interested in the development of the West Koot-nay, where he has large mining interests, and personally spends much of his time, keeping his family at Victoria.

A STATESMAN'S ADVENT.

People Expected a Sensation, and They Were Not Disappointed.

The galleries were crowded. A hush of expectancy pervaded the legislative chamber. It had been rumored that the new member from Spike county would address the house. He sat motionless in his seat, apparently oblivious of the fact that hundreds of eyes were upon him. A close observer, however, might have noticed that his face was slightly paler than usual and that a resolute purpose expressed itself in his set features, the rigid poise of his head and a certain faraway look in his large gray eyes.

Presently he rose and in a deep voice that trembled slightly, not from embarrassment, but from excess of earnestness, began to speak.

"In behalf of the honest yeomanry of the county I have the honor to represent in the legislature of this great state, Mr. Speaker," he said, "and for the purpose of placing on record my own solemn conviction as well, I arise, sir, to give notice that I shall introduce next Thursday a bill for an act declaring it to be a crime against civilization, subversive of the peace and quiet of all orderly communities and an offense punishable by fine and imprisonment at the discretion of courts and juries, for any family within the boundaries of this state to keep more than one parrot, one canary bird or one cat!"

Amid a buzz of gratified expectation he sat down, and people looked at each other and nodded their heads. The hour and the man had come. Another statesman and reformer had burst upon the world.—Chicago Tribune.

Great Expectations.

There had been a collision between the street car and the bicyclist. The street car had made the touchdown.

"How did this thing happen?" demanded the policeman. "I don't know," replied the cyclist earnestly. "I did everything I could. I rang my bell and yelled for the blamed old car to get out of the way, but it didn't. That's all."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Quality never lowers here, but prices do, you'll always find values here to exceed the advertisement's claim.

We want you to always think of this store as a quality store. We want to be famous for worth rather than notorious for cheapness.

Our store as you see it today is a wonder and of bargains full of suggestions to buyers. Freshest of goods from home and abroad; a vast variety to select from. Best opportunities to see every thing. No solicitations to buy. No compulsion to keep after you have bought if not satisfied. Perfect satisfaction with qualities. Perfect confidence that prices are the lowest.

BUYING AT HOME.

Here are some extracts from an editorial in a recent issue of the Canton, Ohio Roller:

"Have you ever thought how much you might hasten the return of prosperity by buying your goods at home? If not, it is time you gave the matter serious consideration. At this particular season of the year, you are constantly receiving catalogues and circulars setting forth the special bargains of out-of-town merchants and dealers, and too often you yield to those flattering offers, sending your good, hard cash in advance for something, a sample of which in many instances you have never seen; and when you get the article itself disappointment often greets you for it is no better and quite frequently not as good as you could have gotten right at home or the same or even less money. Your home merchant is indeed your friend, if you will only stand by him as you should.

"The entire patronage of any community is due the home merchant because he has invested his capital and adds to the general wealth of the locality in which he is situated by the value of the stock he carries and by his business ability. He is also wide awake to the securing of new industries and a liberal contributor to all legitimate purposes. Notwithstanding all this he's a much abused man, for when you have money to spend you go somewhere else, but when you want credit you come to him. Now you can keep up this drain on the community and make it poorer by every dollar you send away from home, or you can patronize your home dealer, benefit your community and in fact yourself by the ultimate reduction which in time he would be able to make in price."
