Long-Standing

Blood Diseases are cured by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

This medicine is an Alterative, and causes a radical change in the system. The process, in some cases, may not be quite so rapid as in others; but, with persistence, the result is certain. Read these testimonials:—

"For two years I suffered from a severe pain in my right side, and had other troubles caused by a torpid liver and dyspepsia. After giving several medicines a fair trial without a cure, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was greatly benefited by the first bottle, and after taking five bottles I was completely cured."—John W. Benson, 70 Lawrence st., Lowell, Mass.

Last May a large carbuncle broke out on my arm. The usual remedies had no effect and I was confined to my bed for eight weeks. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Less than three bottles healed the sore. In all my experience with medicine, I never saw more Wonderful Results.

Another marked effect of the use of this medicine was the strengthening of my sight."—Mrs. Carrie Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

"I had a dry scaly humor for years, and suffered terribly; and, as my brother and sister were similarly afflicted, I presume the malady is hereditary. Last winter, Dr. Tyron, (of Fernandina, Fla.,) recommended me to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and continue it for a year. For five months I took it daily. I have not had a blemish upon my body for the last three months."—T. E. Wiley, 146 Chambers st., New York City.

"Last fall and winter I was troubled with a dull, heavy pain in my side. I did not notice it much at first, but it gradually grew worse until it became almost unbearable. During the latter part of this time, disorders of the stomach and liver increased my troubles. I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after faithfully continuing the use of this medicine for some months, the pain disappeared and I was completely cured."—Mrs. Augusta A. Furbush, Haverhill, Mass.

Tracadie Notes.

Perhaps there is no part of the Island within so small a radius can boast of so many hale old people as in Tracadie, commonly called the Sandhills. All, with two exceptions, are remarkably healthy. The men work in the fields with their sons and grandsons; and all of them, save three, were born in P. E. Island. The exceptions are Mrs. Powell, born in the County Down, Ireland—she is 87 years of age; Mrs. Butler, born in Ireland, aged 87 years; Mrs Beaton, born in Scotland, emigrated to this country 63 years ago at the age of 31. She can relate many incidents which transpired in the Land o' the Heather 80 years ago—she is 94 years of age. This woman is remarkably smart, can knit, and makes frequent visits to her neighbors. The others are:—

	Years
Andrew McPhee	87
Donald A. McDonald	81
Matthew McInnis	72
Peter McInnis	76
Douglad McInnis	70
Joseph McPhee	80
Miss Mary McPhee	76
Ronald A. McDonald	88
Mrs. R. A. McDonald	77
Mrs. McDougald (widow)	87
Mrs. Roderick Smith	70
Mrs. John McKinnon	84
Donald McGillivray	72
Donald McDonald (Little)	80
Miss Catherine McPhee	88
Mrs. Roderick Steel	98

This last-named old lady was born in the western part of the Island, and can walk several miles to visit her children, grand-children and great-grand-children. She walked, a year ago, some distance to see, as she called it, "a wonder," a reaper. Mr. Allen Joseph McDonald, of Blooming Point, was cutting grain with a reaper, when the old lady, accompanied by one of her grand-children, visited him in the field, and was well pleased with the manner in which the reaper did its work, but thought it might cut closer to the ground. When told that the field was "sown down," she said it would protect the clover.

A child 4 years of age, belonging to Mr. John McDougald, of Blooming Point, was accidentally scalded a few days ago by sitting in a vessel containing hot lye. The little fellow is recovering.

Many of the farmers of these parts are hauling produce to Cranberry, Mount Stewart and other points on the East River. The grain and potato crops are not as good as last year.

Some of the bridges in these sections are badly in need of repair.

The Blooming Point school is taught by Mr. Jas. A. McDonald, of Grand Tracadie.

The Piggott Bros., on the North Shore, have closed their fishing business for the season. They report mackerel scarce, with a fair catch of cod and lobsters,

Your correspondent was amused to see one of the sturdy farmers of Blooming Point, Charles C. McDonald, Esq., feeding wild fowl from his hand. Three or four bluejays have frequented Mr. McDonald's premises for the last four years, and are so accustomed to their "rations" that they alight on the head or shoulders of the domestics, and actually lay by a store of food for future use.

Many farmers in Lots 36 and 37 complain of injustice in the measure of potatoes and turnips, when shipping at points on the north side of East River. The old tub measure of 25 gallons is still in use at these places, whereas the new measure of 23 gallons, which is the legal one, is seldom used. The ground for complaint seems to be well founded and the error should be rectified.

This section of the country has materially improved of late, as can be seen from the very large acreage of land under cultivation and the numerous dwellings and outbuildings recently erected.

News Notes.

It is said that England will require to import the current year 18,400,000 quarters of wheat.

In England and Wales there are at present nearly 9,000 persons imprisoned as debtors.

It is said that Jay Gould intends to entirely reconstruct the Manhataan elevated railway.

The Washington Government has decided that barrels used in conveying wood ashes are dutiable at the rate of 100 per cent.

There was a great snowstorm at Denver, Col., on Tuesday last. Roofs are in danger of being crushed by the weight of snow.

Odds and Ends.

Indignant Physician—Man, what have you done? You sent my patient the wrong prescription, and it killed him. Druggist—Vell, vat vas der matter mit you? Last veek I send your odder batient der righd berscription, and dot killed him. How can somebody blease sooch a man?

"Polonius was a splendid bit of character work." "Yes, but he had his drawbacks. When he started off and said, 'Neither a borrower nor a lender be,' he lost the best chance in the world to show off his wisdom." "How's that?" "Why, he should have said, 'But if thou must do one or t'other, let it be borrowing; there's money in't.'"

As a family medicine, Ayer's Pills excel all others. They are suited to every age and being sugar-coated, are easy to take. Though searching and thorough in effect, they are mild and pleasant in action, and their use is attended with no injurious results.

The richest man in Virginia has just died, leaving $1,600,000. He would have been considered a pauper in New York city, and would not have been expected to subscribe more than $1.85 to the world's fair.

Money invested in clothing at Prowse Bros'. will pay much better than real estate.

The Cronin Trial.

CAMP 20 MEN ON THE STAND—WITNESSES WRIGGLING.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 29.—The old legal adage that an apparent attempt to suppress the truth is as powerful as its declaration had application in the Cronin trial to-day, when five members of camp 20 of the Clan-na Gael, the hotbed of conspirators, were placed on the stand by the state. They were called to testify as to the inner workings of this numerous camp, but, with a single exception, the witnesses resorted to all manner of strategy to hamper the prosecution. The men who were summoned were recording secretary John F. O'Connor, Andrew Foy, junior warden Michael J. Kelley, Patrick J. Ford and Stephen Calloran. They were all intensely nervous and embarrassed. O'Connor was confused and palpably evasive. Foy was rambling and incoherent. Kelley, although more precise than his predecessors, had an amazingly treacherous memory. Ford was more satisfactory to the state. His testimony, however, was not sensational. Big Stephen Calloran, who was the close friend of Burke before the assassination, and whose clean-shaven face and massive jaws bear a striking resemblance to those of the supposed tenant of the Carlson cottage, proved to be the only valuable witness the public prosecutors have yet drawn from the camp which is claimed to have plotted the death of Dr. Cronin.

THE EMBARASSMENT OF ALL THE CLAN-NA-GAEL WITMESSES.

was painfully apparent. They quibbled and hesitated, and made some astounding assertions for men who admitted that they were present at the now famous meetings of the camp on the nights of Feb. 8 and 22.

Shorn of all verbiage, the sensational testimony of the witnesses showed that Begg was acquainted with Burke; that Coughlan, Cooney and Burke were close friends, and that all four were particularly interested in one another during the four months preceding the butchery. Collaran was not a willing witness, but it was evident that he was not possessed of the subtlety of his camp colleagues who had appeared earlier in the day. Whenever he hesitated the finger and blazing eye of Luther Laflin Mills met his almost despairing gaze and seemed to wring from him the damaging admission which the prisoners heard. Coughlin glared steadily at the witness during the time he wriggled in his chair, and Burke's face paled and flushed as though colored lights were being cast upon it. O'Sullivan and Beggs showed no uneasiness. Little Kunze laughed and threw his legs over the arm of his chair as though his testimony did not concern him in the least. When the hour for adjournment came, Calloran was still on the stand. His direct examination will be resumed by Mr. Mill to-morrow morning.

During the examination of the Clan-na Gael witnesses, Mr. Forrest, representing all the defendants with the exception of Beggs, kept up a constant and offensive fire of objections. He was on his feet nearly every moment. When he was not objecting to the interrogatories of the state he was objecting to Mr. Foster's method of cross-examination in behalf of Mr. Beggs. Mr. Foster demanded a searching examination into the conduct of his client.

Telegraphic Odds and Ends.

A BUDGET OF GENERAL NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31.—Four officers of Iglesias revolutionary force have been captured at Callaco, Peru, endeavoring to gain possession of the new gun boat Lima by bribing the officers. They will be shot.

DUBLIN, Oct. 31.—The Irish Times says Parnell has had a conference with the speaker of the House of Commons relative to the best mode of executing his intentions at the next session of Parliament in trying to establish complicity of the Government in the attacks made by the London Times on the Parnellites.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—So successful is the training at Kingston Military College that the British war office has issued an order that the four graduates of the college who accepted the commissions in the Royal Engineers last year, are to leave the school of engineering at Chatham in March next, eight months ahead of their time. The usual two years hard work at Chatham were found to be unnecessary in their case.

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—There will likely be a demand made upon the Dominion Government to alter the tariff to admit establishing the iron ship building industry in Canada. At present ships constructed in England or Scotland are admitted free. The materials for constructing such ships in Canada are subject to duties. It is said that the new shipyard of the Polsons, at Owen Sound, and the proposed yard of Doty, at Collingwood, would grow into a great industry by a readjustment of the duty.

MADRID, Oct. 31.—Minister Gonsoles read the budget in the Cortes to-day. The revenue is 803,000,000 pesetas, slightly exceeding the expenditures. The Government proposes a tariff on wheat and flour.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 31.—In the Risdag to-day the Premier gave notice of a bill to abolish tariffs on coal, coffee, rice, tea, salt, raw iron and train oil, to reduce the duty on petroleum, increase duties on wine, spirits, beer, tobacco, fruit, asparagus, flowers, spices, cakes, cocoa, boots and shoes.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 31.—An agent of the associated charities of this city, just returned from an extended trip in Ramsay Co., Dakota, says the stories of destitution are exaggerated. The people who are compelled to pay 80 to 100 per cent. a year for loans are suffering more from mortgage sharks than from the failure of crops. He advocates the formation of a trust company to loan them money at respectable interest.
