Italy has twenty-two crematories. There are in all 135,000 miles of cable. Twenty-eight thousand patents were granted last year. There are 525,000 Congregationalists in the United States. The Bank of England requires sixty folio ledgers for its daily accounts. Five thousand women are engaged in the retail liquor business in Chicago. A boy near Grand Rapids, Mich., is raising crickets by thousands and sells them to anglers for bait. Nine per cent., or about 7,500 of the criminals of the United States from 1880 to 1890 were homicides. Every woman who talked to Lew Wallace during the Minneapolis Convention made some mention of the chariot race in "Ben Hur". Picardy, France, claims the honor of being the place where the first plate glass was made. The process was discovered by accident in 1688. There is a sign on the entrance to a cemetery at North Wales, Montgomery Co., Pa., which reads: "No admittance except on business." The modest maidens of Old Orchard have adopted the custom of bathing by night in the surf since the extremely hot days have set in.

At the residence of the Rev. parents, on July 20th, by Rev F D Davison, Richard Henderson, of Bannockburn, P E I, and Bessie, youngest daughter of Peter Warren, Esq, North River.

Citizens' Band Concert.

Sir,—“Wasn't the music lovely?” “Wouldn't it be so nice to have these concerts, say three times a week says another?” “I could stay all night here and listen to such music as that,” another says. Yes, that it all very true. You are getting it for nothing. Do you know that band music is expensive, that instruments for a band are costly, that to play as the Citizens' Band played means hard work and loss of time, and that good band leaders are scarce in this city? Are we to sponge on those good natured people any longer? I hope not. Mr. Galbraith, our veteran leader, has been working for the public the past twenty-five years, and I think it is almost time he and his band received something tangible for their services. This band is a credit to our town and ought to be kept up. I hope a good committee will be started to take the matter in hand, when I am sure any person who carries a note of music in his soul, will put in his mite to help along what we need in this town, a “good band.” Success to Mr. Galbraith and the Citizens' Band. S. N. EARLE.

The 3 minute class did not fill, and in lieu thereof a purse was put up for an exhibition race between Millions, owned by D. Byrne, and Maul B., owned by D. Bell, which was an interesting contest. No time was given in this race, though the performances of both horses were remarkably good.
