

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

NOVEMBER 11, 1889.

Thomas MacKinlay, Esq.

We chronicle, to-day, with great regret, the death of a highly esteemed official of the Government and citizen of Charlottetown—Thomas MacKinlay, Esq., Assistant Commissioner of Public Lands.

Kensington Hall.

This new hall was formally opened yesterday afternoon. The young people of the Methodist Brick Church two or three years ago formed themselves into an association called the "Willing Workers' Band," and ever since have been holding prayer services in a room hired for the purpose in the neighborhood of the place where the hall is located.

Personal.

Mr. H. L. Macdonald, M. P., Cardigan, was in the city to-day. Mr. Lewis B. Hunt, son of Richard Hunt, Esq., Summerside, who has been visiting the Marine Exhibition in Boston, was among the passengers on the Worcester on Saturday evening.

Sermons to Young Men.

In compliance with a request of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city, sermons were preached from the pulpits of most of our churches yesterday for the benefit of our young men. We epitomize the following:—

ST. PETER'S CHURCH.

Rev. Fred. E. J. Lloyd preached in St. Peter's from the text (Tim. iii., 17) "That the man of God may be perfect." He pointed out at the beginning of the discourse that youth is the most critical period of a man's life, and that trials are more intensely bitter than at any other time of life.

made, and concluded with an earnest appeal to make Him the guide of life, the centre of devotion and the object of heart trust.

METHODIST BRICK CHURCH.

The Rev. Mr. Read preached to an overflowing congregation last evening in the Methodist Brick Church. The sermon was addressed especially to young men. The subject was the Patriarch Joseph in his domestic, social and public relations; and the preacher drew a strikingly true and beautiful picture of a pure, tender-hearted, faithful, aspiring, honorable and eminently successful life, which he held up as a pattern worthy of the imitation of the young men of the present day.

Telegraphic Odds and Ends.

A BUDGET OF GENERAL NEWS FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—The president has issued a proclamation admitting Montana into the union.

VIENNA, Nov. 8.—The Warsaw correspondent of the Political Correspondence confirms the report of massing of Russian cavalry on the Austrian frontier.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 8.—Crete is returning to its normal peaceful state. Trade is active at Candia and other places. Christian families are arriving by every steamer.

ROME, Nov. 8.—Dervishes recently attacked and burned Gondar, the capital of Abyssinia. The Abyssinians subsequently defeated the dervishes, killing three chiefs.

ROME, Nov. 8.—The Italian government has received advices from the Sudan to the effect that the Mahdi had summoned all his chiefs to a council at Khartoum. His object is not known.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—The conservative committee at Birmingham to-day discussed the attitude of conservatives towards the liberal unionists, and decided to insist upon a larger representation.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—While the Peters expedition was ascending the Lana river, Lieut. Tiedemann, in a quarrel, was compelled to shoot four Wassis. It is probable, therefore, that vengeance was the motive for the massacre of the party.

HALIFAX, Nov. 8.—A dimasted wreck was seen drifting past Port Maitland, Yarmouth Co. Part of the wreckage washed ashore included cabin furniture, trunks and boxes. One of the latter was addressed W. R. Chapman, Dorchester; and a piece of the vessel's name, a board with the word Annie on it, was abandoned.

BERLIN, Nov. 8.—The North German Gazette denies that Count Von Berschou, under secretary of the foreign office, made any reference during the budget committee of the reichstag, yesterday, to the English influence with which Germany should compete. He merely said the trade of Africa in the rear of the German protectorate was mostly British, and therefore a large field was open to German competition.

ROME, Nov. 8.—It is officially denied that the Bulgarian question will be submitted to the Pope's arbitration.

CAIRO, Nov. 8.—It is reported that Osman Digna is collecting forces at Dongola to advance northward. An Egyptian battalion has been ordered to reinforce the frontier.

Educational Thought.

He that will stand to pick up and examine every pebble that comes in his way, is as unlikely to return enriched and laden with jewels, as the other that travelled full speed.—Locke.

Every day there should be implanted in the mind of each pupil in our schools some instinct for right and noble action, deep and strong. The day is well-nigh lost without this.—Penn. School Journal.

It is the habitual thought that frames itself into our life. It affects us even more than our intimate social relations do. Our confidential friends have not so much to do in shaping our lives as thoughts have which we harbor.—Ez.

As it is evident that the possession of truths and development of the mind in which they are deposited are not identical, considered as ends, and in relation to each other, the knowledge of truth is not supreme but subordinate to the knowing mind.—Sir William Hamilton.

Educators should feel beyond everything that character is the highest attainment of a human being, and use their influence accordingly. We know that character can always be counted on. Conditions and circumstances may shift and change, but the vital elements of character remain the same.—Ohio Educ. Monthly.

"Think truly, and thy thought shall the world's famine feed; Speak truly, and each word of thine shall be a fruitful seed; Live truly, and thy life shall be a great and noble creed."—H. A. S. in National Educator.

WHAT?

McLeod & McKenzie, Star Merchant Tailors.

MODESTY forbids us (to use a slang phrase) to blow our own horn, and as it is contrary to our opinion (according to the old proverb) when in Rome to do as Rome does, we shall endeavor, as heretofore, to present facts so undeniable as to be beyond the reach of dispute. True, people have gained for themselves a name (not an enviable one) which, to all appearances, served the purpose they had in view. But wisdom dictates, before posing as leaders in the great race for supremacy, that we should look well to the foundation upon which those assertions are based. To throw the mantle of charity over such people is our motto; and instead of revealing to the public gaze, through your columns, the errors into which they have fallen, we will endeavor to lead them gently into the light. That you will acquiesce in what we say, is a foregone conclusion, namely, as Fathers of the trade in this Province we treat the several branches of the trade in this city with the same consideration as a loving parent would his innocent offspring; and to this end we invite such traders to aim high and co-operate in elevating this, the first profession, to the high status to which it is entitled. In the meantime, call and see our handsome goods, in NAPS, MELTONS, SCOTCH TWEEDS, WORSTEDS, etc., made up in the latest styles and cheap.
