PM Says Research In Progress To Combat ICBM

By DAVE McINTOSH
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Countering the Intercontinental ballistic missile has been likened to tossing needles from opposite ends of a darkened hallway, with the hope they will collide.

This is the gigantic problem facing Canadian and American defence scientists. They say a solution is technically possible. But whether the engineers can translate a technical solution into actual equipment is another question.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Wednesday in the Commons Canada's Defence Research Board and the United States Air Force now are collaborating on a research program aimed at devising a system to detect and intercept the intercontinental ballistic missile.

The prime minister added that Canada will give "high priority" to creation of a defence against the missile.

Officials said it is far too early to determine that this will mean in the way of defence expenditures. But cost of a defence system against the missile has been estimated at $2,000,000,000 or more, probably more.

Though Mr. Diefenbaker introduced the subject in the Commons only Wednesday, Defence Research Board officials disclosed more than a year ago that basic research on missile defence had already started.

NEED TO DETECT FIRST

The defence will involve several factors: A long-range radar network to detect the missile, an automatic signal system to communicate the missile's track to the firing point, the anti-missile missile itself, its guidance system and the propellants to drive it hundreds of miles into space.

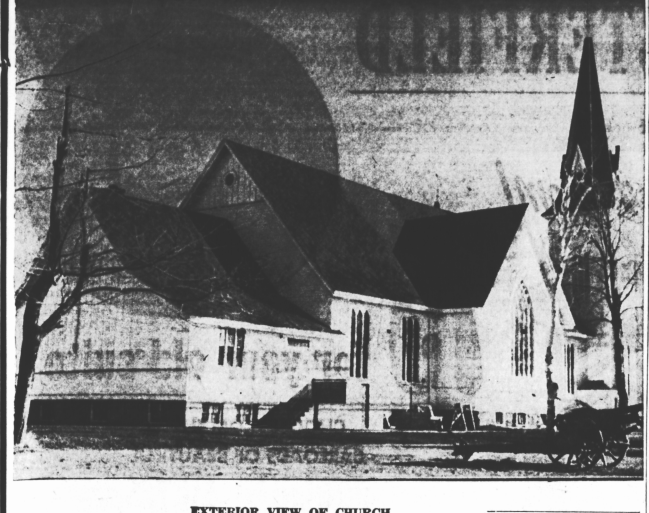
The intercontinental ballistic missile, with a range of some 5,000 miles, will travel at about 15,000 miles an hour and at the top of its trajectory will be some 600 miles above the earth.

North America's present warning system, officials readily admit, is inacapable of detecting the flight of such a weapon.

This system, built at a cost of more than $1,000,000,000, was designed to detect manned bombers flying below 100,000 feet.

The intercontinental missile will have to be detected soon after its takeoff to provide time for interception. This means that radar, or a similar detection system, will require a range of thousands of miles compared to the present maximum of about 400 miles.

A major problem in this field is that the ionosphere, an electrically-charged layer 60 to 300 miles above the earth, bends radio or radar signals.



EXTERIOR VIEW OF CHURCH

THE MEMBERS of the building committee of Trinity United Church were charged with the project of presenting to the congregational committee plans for the renovation of the church. LEFT SEATED Duncan MacDonald, Silas MacFarlane (chairman), Mrs. Arthur Allan. J. Frank Arnett. STANDING Allison MacLean, Arthur Allen, Harold Rodd (secretary), Ewen Nicholson. Other members of the committee not present at the time the picture was taken are Mrs. Ferno Rogers and Harold MacLennan, and Douglas Webber B.SC. M. R.A.I.C. Halifax.

Plan Rededication Services At Trinity Church On Sunday

Reopening and dedication services of Trinity United Church Summerside will be held on Sunday, November 17th at 10:30 a.m. presided over by the minister Rev. C.R. Webber Guest speaker for the occasion will be Very Rev. C. M. Nicholson, B.A. B.D., Principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, and past Moderator of United Church of Canada.

The decision to renovate and enlarge Trinity United Church was arrived at after careful consideration by the congregational committee and the authority of that body was given to the building committee to proceed with the project in January of this year. The contract was left to the firm of M. F. Schurman Co, Ltd. in April and work began about the first of May. Architects were G. Keith Pickard B. Arch. M.R.A.I.C., Summerside

The contract will be officially concluded Saturday morning at which time the beautiful church will be handed over to the minister and congregation. During the past week at a meeting of the building committee a representative of this newspaper was privileged to view the newly renovated interior which presents a breathtaking scene of church architectural beauty when viewed from any part of the interior. Upon entering from either of the two front entrances one comes first into the narthex, where space is reserved to hang coats and hats.

CENTRE AISLE

In the nave of the church beautiful new seats have been installed, finished in sun tan. A center aisle and two side aisles now are used instead of only two side aisles as before. The church now has a seating capacity of 700 people, approximately in increase of 300 over its former capacity. All three aisles are heavily carpeted with a thick foam rubber underlay.

In the north transcept provision has been made to hang plaques, honor rolls, etc. With the exception of those which are of stained class, the windows of the church are of cathedral glass.

The church now has a divided chancel, the pulpit on the left, the lectern on the right. Provision has been made for 30 seats in the choir, while at the rear of the chancel will be installed the Communion Table.

To the left of the chancel the organ is located and the organ pipes have been all rearranged and are concealed behind the rear wall of the chancel. The rearrangement of the organ pipes have highly improved the tone and volume of the instrument. The chancel itself is lit by semi-recessed lights with spotlights illuminating the cross and the communion table.

A doorway to the left of the chancel leads to the minister's study which is finished in birch plywood, fluorescent lighting and has a tiled flooring. To the right of the chancel is the choir room also finished in birch plywood.

In the basement section of the church at the rear the boiler room is located and has been made completely fireproof. Three thermostats control the heating system, one in the nave of the church, one in the minister's study and one in the church Sunday School.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

The Sunday School assembly room in the basement runs the entire length of the church and here (8) classrooms have been added bringing the total to 21 in all.

A nursery and playroom have been installed for the small children.

This assembly room has (2) exits independant of the church exits and with the boiler room now located away in the rear, safety precautions are well looked after. The basement, finished in two tones of green, is lit by Flouresscent lighting.

LET'S TALK IT OVER

Educational Methods Will Be Under More Attacks

Modern educational methods are under fresh attack because of the supremacy which Russia has shown in the scientific world of late because of the two Sputniks, wife and without dog, and the assertion that they have perfected an intercontinental ballistic missile. Did it occur to the critics that our educational methods have not been concentrated on world massacre to the extent the Russian system is, and one wonders if this sort of thing is education at all, in the true sense of the word.

Might not the Russian success be due to the fact that they have neglected scientific research that will make the world a better place to live in? We doubt if a man such as Banting was would be held in very high esteem by the Russian leaders. All he did was to help alleviate the suffering of his fellowman. You must make a better man-trap than your neighbor before the Russians will make a beaten path to your door.

LEFT HANDED

Did you know that the word dexterity" comes from the Latin "dexter" meaning "right," and that "adroitness" is from the French, also meaning right; The Latin word for "left" is "sinister" of all things. "Gauche" meaning "awkward" is the French word for "left" Isn't there anything we left-handers can do about derivation insults? The fellow that made these words could never have heard of Warren Spahn or Whitey Ford.

Y's Men Hear Report On Recent Trip

Club member Keith Hobson was guest speaker last night at the regular weekly meeting of the Summerside Y's Men's Club.

After being introduced by John Leuty, the speaker gave the club a very interesting and often humorous account of his recent trip to England as naval reserve chaplain of a frigate squadron. At the conclusion of his talk he was thanked on behalf of the club by Morley Bell.

Another highlight of the meeting occurred when Horace MacFarlane, vice president representing Prince County on the Boy Scout Provincial Council presented Eric Tanton with the Boy Scout long service medal for ten years of efficient service as a scouter. Also in connection with scouting it was announced that the names of the Boy Scouts workers, Lester Desrochers and Desmond Gaudet, had been inadvertently omitted when the report of the Boy Scout committee was given last week.

On motion by Keith Hobson, the club voted unanimously to support the Prince County Hospital in their forthcoming fund raising drive.

Complete Plans For Canvass In Hospital Drive

Representatives of seven Summerside service clubs and organizations met last evening to complete plans for a house-to-house canvass on behalf of Prince County Hospital.

All the organizations had previously endorsed the canvass, and their members, in addition to individual financial contributions, have volunteered to conduct the solicitations; they are the Y's Rotary, Kinsmen, and Lions Clubs, the Canadian Legion, Knights of Columbus, and R. C. A. F. Association.

The area to be covered by the members of these organizations will include Summerside, St. Eleanors and Slemon Park.

This canvass is being conducted because of the Hospital's serious financial situation resulting from costs of providing the buildings and equipment and the necessity of maintaining hospital services and facilities on a 24-hour a day basis, the total costs of which considerably exceed the income derived from charges and payments made by patients who require hospitalization.

The meeting last night completed arrangements for a "know your hospital" meeting of canvassers when more than 200 members from the participating clubs will meet in the Civic Auditorium at 7 P. M. on Monday evening, November 25th, prior to the canvass in Summerside the following (Tuesday) evening.

The canvass in Slemon Park will be conducted on another evening.

Major Changes

other hand, if a pensioner left Canada anytime in the month of February and returned on or after September 1, the pensioner would receive payments for the months of February and September but not for any of the months between February and September.

The third change pertains to the reduction in the qualifying factor from twenty years to ten years of residence in Canada prior to the first month of entitlement to the pension. A person who is evenly years of age is entitled to the Old Age Security pension if he has resided in Canada for the last ten years before his seventieth birthday. On the other hand, if an applicant has not been in Canada for the last ten years, he is required to have been a resident of Canada in the years before that period for a total of at least twice the number of years of absence in Canada for one full year before the first month of entitlement.

In the past the Charlottetown office has received application forms from applicants who were told that they did not qualify for the pension at that time because they had not lived the required number of years as a resident of Canada. Some of these persons may qullify for the pension. Steps are now being taken in the Regional Office to notify these persons immediately whether or not each applicant is required to re-apply.

If any of these persons do not hear from the Regional Director's office before the end of this month, the Regional Director suggests that an application form be obtained at any post and after the 5th of this month it should be forwarded to Old Age Security Office. Since the effective date of this change is November 1, the first month of payments for any of these applicants could not be before December, 1957.

Persons sixty-nine and a half years of age or over who have never made applications for the Old Age Security pension, should apply immediately to the Regional Office in Charlottetown in payment of the pension is based on the date when such application form is received in the Regional Office. In those cases where a prospective applicant wishes further clarification of this recent change in the legislation, the Regional Director's office will welcome any inquiries.

Prince Catholic Welfare Meets

The regular meeting of the Prince County Catholic Welfare Agency was held in the Knights of Columbus Home Wednesday evening with the president Dr. Hubert McNeill in the chair. Opening and closing prayer was said by Rt. Rev. G.J. MacLellan.

A letter was read from Mr. W. W. Reid, Deputy Minister of Welfare, enclosing the cheque for the annual government grant of $200.00.

The executive director, Sister Mary Eugene, advised the meeting that according to a ruling of the Catholic Charities Commissions the Agency would control all admissions to St. Vincent's Orphanage from Prince County. It will be the responsibility of the Agency to approve the admission of all children before they will be accepted at the orphanage.

The meeting decided to join with the Catholic and Protestant Welfare Agencies of Charlottetown to request a reply from the Provincial Government to a brief presented last February. In this brief the Agencies asked that the Government pay maintenance for wards of the Agency. It was pointed out that when the Agencies take children from broken homes and place them in a boarding home there are no funds available for their board unless they are turned over to the child welfare officer when the Government will have to look after them. As an alternative it had been suggested that the Government pay for their board and the Agencies would look after supervision.

The executive director reported on work carried on throughout the country and said that it is difficult to find placements for older children from broken homes. She reported that a well baby clinic had been held and 11 children had been examined.

Mr. Earle McDonald reported on the work of the child welfare committee and Mr. Mercier Muilin was appointed chairman of the Family Welfare Committee.

LONDON (CP) — J. R. Hancock has been elected chairman of the National Federation of Football Supporters' clubs. He is a director of Queen's Park Rangers soccer club.
