New Barn To Aid Livestock Shipments Here

The opening of the new livestock barn at Canada Packers has provided the company with accommodations for the handling of 1,000 hogs, 500 lambs and 40 head of cattle.

Opened for business on Monday, the two-day-old structure still retains the cleanliness and orderliness of a new building.

The building is 146 x 75 feet in dimensions. Print-O-Matic type scales inside the entrance at the west end provide for the weighing of animals as they enter the building.

Next to the western entrance is the cattle pen with accommodations for 40 head. Across the walkway are the pig pens each with room for 100 sows.

A drainage system has been installed so that each pen may be drained. The building is provided with a concrete floor and is well lighted and ventilated.

Three livestock buyers are in charge of the operations in the building. They are Messrs. Vernon Fraser, Charlottetown; Somerset Kelly, Morrell and Emerson Ford, Winsloe.

Provision has been made for the construction of feed racks in the building above the livestock pens. This work will be done in the near future.

No Salary Increases, N. S. Teachers Told

HALIFAX, Jan. 9—(CP)—Education Minister Hicks told a delegation from the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union today that any increase in teachers' salaries will have to come from some other source than Provincial revenue.

The Union presented a brief asking for a minimum salary of $1,200 and differential payments for experience and training. Failure to provide increases would mean a serious shortage of teachers.

Dairy Farmers Plan Advertising

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 9—(CP)—The Dairy Farmers of Canada will spend some $350,000 during the next 12 months on national advertising to recoup sagging sales in butter and lowering production in the dairy industry, Orville Shugg of Toronto, told the Dairyman's Association of Western Ontario today. Shugg is public relations official and sales promotion executive for the Dairy Farmers.

Discussion followed the Rev. Director's talk on this vital subject, and the decision was unanimous that the C. W. L. exert every effort to remove objectionable literature, and further the good reading campaign.

Following the National Anthem a social hour was enjoyed, the tea hostesses being Mrs. R. J. McDonald, Mrs. Stephen Trainor and Mrs. C. Corrigan.

It was expected their parents would vacate the cottage, returning to their homes, or the houses of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Carlson, who during her sermons wears a flowing red, gold lined cape, had no "message for the world."

One had been indicated earlier, but today she said: "If interruptions carry on, we might lose all we are fighting for."

"We want to make contact with God, then come out as Christ did, as apostles, and save souls."

But she made one prophecy—still to be interpreted: "Our exit will be terrific—you'll know it."

She had also told reporters: "We are always receiving messages from God."

Mrs. Carlson, a former member of the Pentecostal Church, took over the leadership of the "Children of Light" 14 months ago.

It was not the first time a British Columbia religious sect had awaited "doomsday."

Twenty-four years ago at Sooke, B.C., 25 miles north of Victoria, a group known as the Standfast Bible Students, built a camp to await a "new age."

There were 400 of them; a date was fixed, but when it passed without "turmoil and fire," the camp closed and the "students" returned to their homes.

Activities in this line will re-open during the week and more workers are needed to further the endeavour.

The report of the Convener of Institutions showed that many donations had been received and distributed during the holiday season, thus bringing happiness to many. The convener thanked all who contributed to the success of this work.

Guiding was dealt with by the convener, showing assistance given to the "March of Dimes" campaign, the packing of Christmas dinners, etc. An interesting story was told of the "Scroll of Friendship and Log Book," its origin and exhibition here was told by the convener.

Activities to aid in financing charitable work will include, card parties, a rummage sale, and pantry sale, dates to be duly advertised.

A contribution of $10.00 was voted to the "March of Dimes" campaign.

Director, Father McDonald briefly addressed the meeting, extending greetings for the New Year, and congratulating the sub-division on the worthy work accomplished during the past year and especially, the charitable activities at Christmas time, appreciation of which was expressed in the many acknowledgments received. He spoke of the menace to the morals of children and our youth in the flood of salacious literature to be found on the newsstands, along the line of crime and sex comics.

A list of over 500 comics, entitled "Evaluation of Comic Books" was recommended as a guide for parents and teachers in overseeing children's reading along this line.

Discussion followed the Rev. Director's talk on this vital subject, and the decision was unanimous that the C. W. L. exert every effort to remove objectionable literature, and further the good reading campaign.

Former Ch'town Man May Decide Disputed Will

A former Charlottetown man, Mr. Henry B. MacLean, famed for his handwriting ability, has been assigned the job of determining whether or not a $900,000 British Columbia will is valid.

Mr. MacLean has been studying the disputed document since it was first found 13 months ago in the corner of a Vancouver real estate office. He will be asked to give his opinion around the middle of the present month.

States a Vancouver paper "if the courts accept his testimony on whether the will is genuine or a forgery, it would not be the first time an entire case has rested on Mr. MacLean's words. It has happened countless times before in Vancouver courts."

Mr. MacLean, a retired school teacher, resides in Vancouver. He is the son of the late Rev. Daniel MacLean of this City. Mr. N. D. MacLean is a brother and Mrs. B. Earle MacFadyen of Charlottetown are sisters.

Mr. MacLean visited this Province a little over a year ago. At that time he delighted club gatherings with his slight of hand and magic tricks.

Grand Jurors Present Report

Following is the report of the Grand Jury presented at the opening session of the Supreme Court yesterday:

"We the Grand Jurors duly impanelled for this term of the sitting of this Supreme Court, wish to report as follows:

"We have duly inspected Queen's County Jail, Falconwood Hospital, the Infirmary and the Annex thereto at Beach Grove Inn.

"INFIRMARY: We found the Infirmary under the most capable management of Mrs. Sadie Garrick. The housekeeping was excellent, but we would recommend suitable floor coverings where needed. We find that the laundry equipment is absolutely inadequate. As usual, crowded into this institution originally planned for 75 beds we find 180 patients—105 female, 75 male. The food seemed to be of good quality.

"FALCONWOOD HOSPITAL: Under the capable management of Mr. Montgomery, we found the buildings clean and sanitary; the inmates well cared for. Food is good, with store houses clean and sanitary. Quality of meals is excellent. We would strongly recommend that an electric meat cutter be procured. We find that the hot water supply is very limited, and would strongly recommend that this should be improved during the year. We would also recommend that a water softener be purchased for the laundry. And we would further recommend that the cells be padded in the male section where needed. Both female and male quarters are very crowded. Patients at Falconwood total 286—139 female, 156 male.

"QUEEN'S COUNTY JAIL: We found the Jail under the management of Mr. Lloyd Simpson to be in very good condition and well cared for, with 30 prisoners confined at the present time. Conditions are very satisfactory at the Jail. We find that the jailer Mr. Simpson and his assistant are well equipped for their duties, and we would recommend that an additional man be put on, with each man working 8 hours.

"BEACH GROVE INN: This institution is under the capable management of Mr. Harry Bonnell, and we find everything in excellent condition, and no words of ours can speak too highly of the way this institution is being run. Patients at Beach Grove Inn at present are 152.

"In conclusion, we wish to extend to the management and staffs of the above named institutions our heartfelt appreciation for the many courtesies extended to us today, and for the excellent manner in which they are carrying out their various duties."

Witness In Army Sabotage Case Reported Missing

TORONTO, Jan. 9—(CP)—Army Central Command headquarters reported today that Staff Sgt. M. H. Reif, principal witness in an army sabotage case, has been reported absent without leave since Friday.

Capt. A. L. Ferguson, army public relations officer, said a description of the missing man was given both City Police and R.C.M.P. when Reif did not show up at a closed army inquiry into the incidents.

The inquiry was to have started Friday, but was postponed awaiting a report from the Fire Marshal's Department. Reif, who was on duty at the University Avenue Armouries at the night two fires broke out, was to have testified at the hearing.

Earlier, at a public hearing conducted by the Fire Marshal, Reif testified he discovered two fires in the Armouries on New Year's Day. He said one was in the battery charging room and the other in a pile of rubbish at the opposite end of the building.

He also told of chasing two prowlers over a fence, hitting one on the heel with a club. Two weeks earlier, 17 trucks at the University Avenue Armouries were damaged. Gasoline tanks were punctured and distributor caps removed.

day units will give way to other crops on 50 per cent of the cultivated land. The new scheme will be organized as seven-year plan.

New Fertilizer Plant Now In Operation At Old Kensington Range

Fertilizer mixing operations in the huge Island Fertilizer Co. plant on the old Kensington Rifle Range are underway six and one-half months after the construction of the building was commenced.

The Associated Shippers waxing plant on the same grounds has been completed and the installation of a waxing machine and conveyors is being carried out.

At the west corner of the site, building operations are progressing on the Provincial Government owned garage. This building is not expected to be entirely completed until next spring, the Guardian learned yesterday from the foreman, Mr. Harry Nesbitt.

The 528 X 200 foot fertilizer plant is the scene of night and day activity. Yesterday the various ingredients were being mixed into the potato fertilizer, and at night the different materials are being unloaded from the freight cars on the railway siding inside the building.

Hundreds of tons of materials are piled inside the huge plant awaiting transportation to the mixer. From the mixer the finished product is trucked to another section of the building where it is piled up by means of a steam shovel.

The large quantity of mixed fertilizer is piled about 40 feet from the bagging machine. This fertilizer will be bagged and shipped out next spring.

Ingredients used in the formation of the fertilizer are nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash. Liquid ammonia is taken into the mixer from tank cars on the railway siding by means of an overhead pipe.

Construction operations on the building are not quite completed. A small section of the floor is being laid in the west end and this section will be divided by boards from the main plant.

The building was constructed from two airport hangars joined together in the centre by a 40 foot span. The floor is made of heavy concrete and the building is produced with good lighting facilities through large windows and electric power. A railway spur from the main line runs directly into the plant.

About 17 or 18 men were at work in the plant yesterday. Plant manager is Mr. Louis Saddler.

Government Garage

There is still considerable work to be done on the outside of the Government Garage but work will continue as long as the weather does not get worse, it was learned from Mr. Nesbitt.

The 160 X 224 foot structure, made from an airport hangar, is pretty well boarded up. The roof has been covered in by boards and has been about half covered with tar and paper.

Tar and paper laying operations have been held up for the past few days due to bad weather but under favorable conditions the roof could be completed in three days. As soon as the roof is finished the Government will be able to move equipment into the dirt floor building for protection.

A concrete ground floor is expected to be laid in the building until next spring. A second floor will be installed and the remainder of the construction work wound up in the meantime.

About thirty workers are employed on the structure with eight of the men being laborers and the remainder carpenters.

The Associated Shippers waxing plant which contains a basement and two floors was built under the supervision of Mr. Frank Roper. The building is 126 X 40 feet in dimensions.

The waxing plant will be on the first floor along with a storage room. The second floor will also be used for storage and turnups used for stores in the basement. The will be stored and used only for the waxing and grading of turnups. These operations are expected to commence shortly.

Gov't Arsenal Ready For Big War Orders

By HAROLD MORRISON OTTAWA, Jan. 9—(CP)—Canada's Government arsenals, slowly gathering steam, produced 10,900,000 worth of armament in 1950 and probably will produce "three or five times" that amount in 1951, Maj.-Gen. John H. MacQueen said today.

The president of Canadian Arsenal Limited, a $90,000,000 crown corporation, added that the plants' labor force in Ontario and Quebec now totals 3,600 and will probably be doubled by the end of the year.

Heaviest concentration in 1951 production, he predicted in an interview, will be in development of radar and the 155-millimetre gun, a United States artillery piece.

Retooling Program

He anticipated, too, that a multi-million-dollar retooling program soon will be approved to re-equip plants now functioning in low gear and that more millions will be set aside for resumption of giant armament production in Canada.

The retooling program and the production plan, which would extend over several years, may be approved within the next few months, said Gen. MacQueen, a native of New Glasgow, N.S.

Coupled with these moves is one to expand electronics production facilities with the building of a new $2,000,000 plant in Toronto. This development still is in initial stages.

Gen. MacQueen, a veteran of two world wars, said prospects for armament production in Canada appear promising, but arsenals still can absorb a lot more orders than they are getting.

Some are working only at 10 per cent of capacity. He hoped to be able to interest the United States, for example, in placing more defence orders in this country, particularly for those kinds of small arms ammunition and guns that Canada can produce easily.

Far Below Capacity

As an example, the small arms ammunition plant at Quebec produced $3,400,000 worth of Canadian and United States ammunition in 1950, employing 465 workers. It still is working at far below capacity.

The gun division at Longueuil, Que., produced $24,000 worth of two-pounder and six-pounder guns, mortars and rocket-launchers, and now is working on the 105 and 155-millimetre U.S. weapon for the Canadian army.

The filling plant at St. Paul L'Ermite, Que., produced $3,146,000 worth of business in 1950, employing 440 persons. This plant is expected to increase to 10 or 15 per cent in 1951.

The explosives division at Valleyfield, Que., produced only $55,000 worth of explosive in 1950; employs 542 workers, mostly on rehabilitation, it now is being re-energized and likely will concentrate on RDX, an explosive many times more powerful than TNT.

RAILWAY MARK

The Grand Trunk Pacific Railroad completed its connection between Moncton, N. B., and Prince Rupert, B.C., in 1915.

A concrete ground floor is expected to be laid in the building until next spring. A second floor will be installed and the remainder of the construction work wound up in the meantime.</
