

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Last Saturday's night races at the Charlottetown Driving Park attracted the largest attendance of the season. The finishes were really splendid and called forth the greatest enthusiasm. Among the horses that reduced their records was the pacer Alan Mac by Abner T. Clegg 2:04 1/2, owned by Lorne McFarlane, Summerside, and driven by George Sobey, from 2:17 to 2:15. Another winner from the western part of the Province was Abner the Great 2:12 3/5, owned by James Heffell of Summerside and driven by George Sobey. His time was 2:14. The surprise of the Free For All was the winning of the first heat by the trotter Nell Kalmuck 2:10, owned and driven by Willard Kelly, in with a bunch of record pacers that included Colonel Looker 2:07 1/5, Lock Hanover 2:07 2/5, Mannister Direct 2:05, Filbert 2:09 and Babe Britton 2:09 4/5. Nell's win was loudly applauded, and her time—2:12 4/5, Nell's win was loudly applauded, and her time—2:12 4/5—was the fastest of the night. Colonel Looker, owned and driven by Sam Kennedy, won the second dash in 2:13 1/5.

The little free-legged pacer mare Iola Hanley that returned to the races less than two weeks ago, astonished the fans present at Truro last Saturday night by winning the first heat of the fastest class in 2:08 1/5, reducing her record from 2:08 1/4. She is owned and driven by Clayton MacLeod, Westville. But an almost greater performance was that of the runner-up Seven Up Direct 2:10 3/5, driven by Lloyd Walker that from a slow getaway finished right at Iola Hanley's pad. Parties present claimed that he paced in 2:07 3/5. Iola Hanley's mark is a new record for Truro Raceway. The former pacer record of 2:08 1/4 was held jointly by Rhea Mae (2:04 1/2) (Joe O'Brien) made September 1st, 1943, and Leo McKinnon 2:02 1/2 (Clark) on September 13, 1944. In the second heat of the fast class the pacer Victory Dale 2:05 3/5 (Cruikshank), owned by Bert Cruikshank, Halifax, won in 2:08 2/5 with Seven Up Direct second, Iola Hanley 3rd. Other winners were the trotter Friar 2:09 1/4 (Gould) that won Races 5 and 8 with Bud Kalmuck (Given) second each trip. Johnny Conroy was the winner in Race No. 1 with Billy Kalmuck in 2:19 3/5 and second to Nova G. (Haley) in Race No. 4 in 2:17 4/5. Johnny also drove the four-year-old Freddie Scott to victory in Race No. 7 in 2:15 2/5—a new record for Freddie. He is owned by Dr. J. A. Donahoe of Truro, and is by Simcoe Harvest 2:04 1/2 dam, Plucky Scott and is certainly a very much improved pacer.

Last Saturday night the over 2,000 harness horse fans who attended the races at Cape Breton Sports Centre, were treated to one of the best programs in a long, long time. The track must have been in mighty good order because in the main race between Vella La Vella, owned by Arthur Lipton of Sydney and driven by Joe MacDonald, Vella won from P. J. Cadeagan's Ohio Hal, driven by Worrell Lewis, in 2:08 3/5, but the Hal pacer was so good that it took a photo finish to name the victor. Those of us who remember the chunky black pacer when he came here a couple of years ago had no idea that he would show much for all speed, but good care and training and good breeding brings its own reward and our congratulations to owner and driver. The Junior Free For All was a battling good affair with four fast pacers, but Crusader Chief (Lewis) owned by P. J. Cadeagan, beat out Miss Knox (O'Meara) in the last 25 yards to win in 2:12, with Cyclonic (Wickens) 3 and the Wilkin (Ratchford) 4. In the second dash Crusader's opposition came from Cyclonic, who finished a bang up second with Mix Knox third and the Wilkin fourth, time 2:12. The 15-year-old Peter-at-Court that has been racing for 12 years, won both dashes in his class for driver Rennie MacDonald, best time 2:13 4/5. The Sydneysites were taken with Harry Hirsch's slow class performer Joan Chief, that gave a preview of her racing qualities here some time ago. She was a handy winner for driver Mauger in both dashes of the Isle Royale Stake with June B. (R. MacDonald) 3-2 and the three-year-old Gallant Bobby (Carroll) next best in the summary, best time 2:14 2/5. In the Classified Pace Ace Fingo (Ratchford) was 1-2, G.H. Buntain's Dean Swift (O'Meara) 2-1, time 2:18 1/5, 2:18 3/5. Ace Fingo is owned by Richard Jabbers of North Sydney who has been one of the best patrons of harness horse racing in the Maritimes for many years. The first heat was a photo finish with Ace Fingo showing a nose to the good.

St. Peter's Raceway was all dolled up for the occasion Wednesday afternoon. The track was perfect, showing just the print of the horses hooves and between heats was carefully brushed and watered. The stands and everything that needed paint had been freshened up and remembering the good programs of previous years over 2,000 people were present. Every heat was a battle royal with photo finishes called for several times. In the classified trot the Peter Astra filly Anyway, owned by Roy Bevan and driven by Roach McGregor, making her first appearance, won and took a creditable record of 2:17. The second heat was won by the very reliable Rutherta (Moreside) and the third heat by little Judy Kalmuck, owned by Lester Johnson and driven by Willard Kelly. Everyone knew that this well bred mare had speed but in previous appearances she had changed to the pace or did something that kept her from making the headlines. However, her win was a nice one in 2:18 2/5 from Rutherta and in the race 411 Rutherta was first in 2:18 5/5. She is owned by Oliver Gallant, who has picked up quite a piece of change with her this season.

In the No. 1 Classified Trot Jennie Kalmuck 2:11 1/5 showed again that she is probably the peer of any trotter in the Maritimes in the three heat route. The public looked like a winner in the first heat until the last 30 yards when Jennie flashed by in 2:13 3/5. In the second heat Rosalie Hooper, splendidly handled by Willard Kelly, was leading until about 25 yards from the wire when Jennie out-footed her to win in the fastest heat of the afternoon—2:12 2/5. The track trotting record is 2:11 made by Lee Brewer 2:06 3/5 and driven by Emmett Bernard, August 31, 1949. The No. 2 Classified was one of the best on the card with the dainty little pacer Just Flicka, owned and driven by Harold Cudmore, winning the first heat in 2:15 2/5. Lily Marlene second, in the second heat the game little trotter Jimmie A. that had changed drivers, Tim O'Donnell substituting for owner Sheen, showed the stuff of which heroes are made by coming through in a roaring finish to win in 2:14 3/5—a new record for Jimmie. Lily Marlene, owned by Rhodes Warren and driven by Roach McGregor, won the third in 2:15 3/5. In the race off Flicka was best.

The Classified Pace, final event of the afternoon, had eight starters all closely matched. The first heat Harold Bill, owned and driven by Harold Stead, drew the pole and was leading from start to finish in the fastest mile of this event—2:18 2/5, with Captain Missouri (Lowery) 2. In the second heat Bonnie June (Cornier) went to the front early and Lindy H. was leading at the three-quarters and on the lower turn was being pushed by Captain Missouri (Lowery), then something happened and the Missouri horse turned head over heels with driver Lowery hurtling through the air. Trailing behind was Belle Eudora, driven by Rennie MacDonald. It happened so quickly that she went right over the prostrate horse and driver Lowery. Driver MacDonald extricated himself quickly and apparently was not badly injured as he drove in the next heat, but driver Lowery had had facial injuries, possibly a

Next week is going to be a busy one for officials and competitors in rifle and golfing circles when the two leading annual features in both divisions will be held to highlight sporting activities here that should provide interesting entertainment for the keenest calibre of competition for the many followers of both sports. The only complaint that spectators might have who are interested in following both features, is the fact that they are being run off at the same time, commencing on Monday and continuing on to conclude on Thursday.

Spotlighting the rifle competitions, scheduled to get underway at eight o'clock with practice rounds and opening competition at 8:30 in the DeBlois Brothers Match, will be the 79th holding of the Provincial Rifle Association's Annual Prize Meeting. The four days of competition will decide the Provincial champion marksmen in several of the most popular divisions. It will also select the members who will comprise the Island's 1951 representative team at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association annual prize meet to be held later this summer at Ottawa, which in turn will select next year's Dominion team that will compete at Bisley, England, in 1952.

The Provincial representative team to Ottawa is composed each year of the 22 highest shots, including eight tyros, in the Ottawa Aggregate. The Ottawa Aggregate is compiled from the Grand Aggregate plus the total scores in the MacKinnon Match, a competition of 10 rounds before the 300 yard range. The highest 27 shots made by the Grand Aggregate, which is compiled from the total scores in the DeBlois Bros. City of Charlottetown Cameron-Vinnicombe, British Consols, Prowse Bros, Moore & McLeod and Jones Memorial Matches, qualify to compete in the MacKinnon Match. The five highest Cadet shots also compete in the Dominion competitions at Ottawa.

If numbers are an indication of the ultimate success of the meet, then this year's event should be one of its best in history. Nearly sixty entries from among the Island's leading marksmen have already been received and many more are expected before the matches get underway. High scores and close competitive shooting has always been a prominent feature of this annual rifle meeting that boasts a long, successful history that is now well beyond the three-quarter century mark, and the forthcoming prize meet is not expected to be an exception—unless it prove to be an even greater success.

When the best in golfing circles from the three seaside Provinces tee-off at the Belvedere links of the Charlottetown Golf Club today it will be the send-off to what is expected to be the best display of top-notch club wielding to be witnessed here for many years. Battling it out over fairway and green, a large field of golfers, that will embrace the sharpest shot makklers in the Maritimes, will decide Maritime titles in amateur, junior and professional ranks during the course of the four-day event.

For the second Sunday in a row, the City Baseball League will remain idle to make room for an exhibition clash between the Charlottetown Abegwets and the Summerside R.C.A.F. nine. Last Sunday the Abbies were the visiting team at the Western Capital where they scored a 4-0 victory over the Summerside Town League entry, and now the same two clubs will meet in a return match here at Memorial Field tomorrow afternoon.

It will be the first appearance of the R.C.A.F. Royals over the local diamond this season and many ball enthusiasts are expected to turn out to see the visitors make their try for a comeback against the Abbie ballsters. The game should produce plenty of action and good ball. The contest will be the second time the Abbies have taken the field this season, and their first turnout before their own fans.

Sugar Ray Predicts Early K.O. Over Turpin

LE HAVRE, France, July 27 (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson predicted today he would knock out middleweight champion Randy Turpin "before the 10th" round when they clash in a return title bout at the New York polo grounds Sept. 12.

Major Upsets And Great Battles At The Track; Racing Again Tonight

Last night's ten-dash racing card at the Exhibition track provided a large crowd of fans with some startling upsets and thrilling track duels as many of the favourites were beaten out at the wire in driving photo finishes by the proverbial "dark horses".

With practically every event presenting large fields stirring battles for positions over the mile route were enacted at every turn of the track and were capped off with break-neck drives down the stretch to the finish wire that left the verdict in doubt until the photo finish camera decided the winners.

Another big nine, one-mile dash program will be staged there again this evening commencing at 8:30, featuring a free-for-all pace and a free-for-all trot with leading entries from mainland and Island strables competing.

Abner the Great, a four year old gelding, owned by Mr. James Heffell of Summerside and driven by George Sobey, took the spotlight at last night's show when he came up with the fastest paced mile of the program: 2:12, to shear 3/5 of a second of his standing mark, the third time he has lowered it this season. Abner the Great took firsts in both the sixth and ninth dashes.

Leading driver of the night, James McGreggor of Charlottetown piloted three winners for a top performance. Handling the lines of Anyway, owned by Roy Bevan, City, he capped off honors in the second dash, and chucked up two more wins with Campbell's Buddy in the fifth and eighth events.

Other winning horses were Bonnie Dale in the opening dash with driver Willard Kelly at the helm, Prince Budlong in the third dash, owned and driven by Harold Cudmore, Brackley, Yankee Dale with Harold Stead up in the fourth dash, while Miss Donna Mae, owned by Lorne Leitcher of Springhill, N. S., and driven by Henry O'Donnell, was the other big double winner with victories in the seventh and tenth dashes.

HUNTERS' CORNER

The record run of sea trout that set in during Festive Week has absorbed heavy punishment. Trout can take all that an angler can throw at them in the way of hook and line and still come up smiling. I'll admit a heavy blob of worms manipulated by a fisherman with patience and know how will feel a lot of the cagey 'big' uns but it is the 'jigger', 'netter' and what have you, that cuts deep into the rank of the finny schools and sends the few survivors darting for parts unknown at the mere dimple of an artificial fly on the surface.

On Thursday morning of this week, as the clear light that presages the rising of the sun threw every stone and pebble on the bottom into clear relief, I stood on a foot bridge across a noted trout pool and gazed into its transparent depths. In the past I have stood over the same pool and watched a dozen or sometimes many more, big trout milling aimlessly around or have spotted the nose tips and the wide fluke tails of several old wallpapers protruding past the edges of 14 inch wide stringers lying athwart the pool bed. This pool is situated on a former old mill site.

I wasn't a fishin' bent... just sort of on the prowl... but nevertheless it puzzled me to see the pool so devoid of life. Withal I wasn't greatly puzzled as to the cause as the pool banks were trampled hard by countless human feet. As I turned to leave I spit on the water dumped surface and, on the water dumped surface, a foot long darted from under a stringer in a mad dash that took it into nowhere faster than it takes to write it. Later when the sun came up it took just a flicker of my shadow over a pool to send any trout in it scurrying for parts unknown. That trout stream had had it. The only fish an angler could hope to hook there, unless in the wee sma' hours of the morning, would be a greenhorn fresh from the sea.

This situation applies to many pools and streams. Fishermen on the prowl in quest of trout on all streams and at all hours of the day and night witness many such happenings but aside from holering their heads off about trout fishing being spoiled for honest fishermen do absolutely nothing to remedy the situation. If an enforcement officer questions them about it they either close up like a clam or give him a bum steer.

A week ago I was told about a certain trout fisherman who watch a poacher in the broad light of midday, spear three sea trout in the pound and a half fork. The poacher fork manipulator would use means to frighten the trout from a hidden recess into the open shallows. Apart from those he speared and got, others were punctured and escaped to eventually die.

I was also told that this fisherman and his poacher name and history of his past doings along the spearing line. I made it a point to talk to this angler. I have been in the game long enough to sense when one is getting the "run around". Imagine a dyed-in-the-wool trout fisherman forgetting a man's name after seeing him pull off stunk like that. He pulled his eye brows into a worried frown: "For the life of me I can't remember his name. It was either this or that or something like it... I'm not sure, etc."

"Okay then, give me his description if you are sure of his name". I was informed that he was about 30 years old and light complexioned and slightly heavier than he who was supplying the description. After a lot of enquiring and beating around the bush, I found out that my quarry was not 30 and light but 18 and dark with a name that didn't remotely resemble the name given. By the time I had worked out the cold trail I found my man had left for the mainland the day before.

As mentioned earlier the present trout run, with several streams and at least one river excepted,

Maritime Welterweight Title Fight Tuesday

Local fight fans should be in for a whale of a boxing match here when Tommy "Gun" Spencer of New Waterford, N. S. defends his newly-gained Maritime welterweight championship against Harry "Kid" Poulton of this City, challenger and former title holder. Losing his first fight in over eighteen months, Poulton dropped a split decision to Spencer in a title bout at New Glasgow, N. S., on July 16th, and the local boxer has been training ever since for this condition of his career in his determined effort to regain his title here on Tuesday night.

Although Poulton took an easy decision from Spencer in a 10-round contest in Halifax a few weeks prior to the New Glasgow match, he is still sporting some of the bruises caused by the hard hitting power of the present champion, who termed in Poulton's own words, "never stops punching."

Both boys have had plenty of ring experience, are smooth, tricky boxers that are always ready to mix it. Spencer, who has met the best Maritime welterweights in the course of his career, plus many top-ranking upper Canadian and U. S. mit allingers, is a rugged body puncher and packs a lethal left hand that can spell curtains for an opponent. If it connects, Poulton, on the other hand, is fast and hard to hit, is very effective with a jabbing left hand and sports a beautiful right that can really shake up his man.

In support of the main event, a six-round semi-final between two City boys, Louis "Kid" Lafferty and Austin Squarebriggs should be a crowd-pleaser all the way, while a rough and rugged contest can be the least expected of another special six-rounder, bringing together Soggy Reid and Johnny Russell, both of Charlottetown.

A four-round preliminary between Bobby Gallant of this city, and Bud Ramsay of Summerside will round off a promising boxing card.

Stage Set For Golf Tourney

The Charlottetown Golf Club will be the centre of attraction next week. The Maritime Amateur Championship, the Maritime Junior Championship and the Maritime Professional Championship will be decided in the near future.

The Amateur and Juniors will tee off Monday while the Professionals start on Wednesday. The tournament should bring together the greatest collection of golfing greats seen in these parts for quite a number of years.

Maurice "Moose" Dowling, a local product now representing the Moncton Club, will be on hand to defend his Amateur title. He will find stiff opposition from such visiting notables as Eddie Crowell, Halifax, Ben Innor, Moncton, Fred art, St. Stephen. Then too, there are such local lights as Art MacKenzie, Wm. "Pud" Beer, Frank MacInnis, Alan Macmillan and Kelly, Fredericton, and Tom Steward Saunders. All can be counted on to provide thrilling competition over the beautiful Belvedere links.

McNamee Heading For Swim Title

VANCOUVER, July 27 (CP)—Gerry McNamee of Vancouver, who seemingly could outdistance a fish at any distance, brushed aside human swimmers today in his bid to become Canada's greatest spring swimmer since Bob Pirie of Toronto, Peter Salmon of Victoria and Allan Gilchrist of Ocean Falls, B. C.

He has already won the men's 100-yard and 200-yard freestyle titles at the Canadian Swimming Championships here.

Yanks Get Weather Break To Win Over Chicago 3-1 Indians Down Bosox 3-2

(By The Canadian Press) The weatherman played a big part yesterday in helping New York Yankees increase their American League lead over Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians.

With the bases loaded, three runs in and one out in the top of the ninth inning, Chicago were leading 4-3 when the clouds really opened up and for the second time in the game, time was called. Finally, after an hour and two minutes, the game was called with the score reverting to the last of the eighth, at which point New York led 3-1.

That gave the game to New York and increased their league lead to one game over the second place Indians and Red Sox. Cleveland had downed the Red Sox 3-2 a couple of hours previously to pull on even terms with Boston in the standings.

The 50,125 fans who braved the frequent showers never will forget that stormy ninth that was enlivened by protests from both managers.

Stengel raised violent objections to umpire Bill McGowan's abrupt dismissal of third baseman Gil McDougald in the ninth. The Yankees' ruckie came in to talk with Tom Morgan, when he was pitching to pinchhitter Floyd Baker with men on first and second and one out. At the time the Yanks led 3-1.

McGowan promptly waved McDougald away and out of the ball game, apparently for delaying the game. Stengel informed the press box he was playing under protest. A few minutes later, after Baker singled home pinch runner Joe Demaretri to make it 3-2, the first hard storm stopped the game. Manager Paul Richards of the White Sox protested because the umpire and ground crew were not prompt in covering the field.

However, the game was resumed some 26 minutes later and continued for another 15 minutes. In that time Stengel had followed Morgan with Joe Ostrowski, Spec Shea, Jack Kramer and had Lopez ready. Pinch hitter Bob Dillinger had forced Baker at second for the first out. But pinch hitter Don Lenhardt was walked by Shea and Haas singled off Kramer to drive in the two runs that gave Chicago its "phantom" lead. Nelson Fox also singled off Kramer to load the bases again before the final deluge ended the night's merry action.

So one hour and 43 minutes after the ninth inning started, the score finally went back to the eighth and the remnants of the crowd trundled home.

In the Boston-Cleveland game, two home runs by Ray Boone and another by Al Rosen accounted for all Cleveland runs. Bob Lemon held the Red Sox to five hits, including a pinch-hit two-run homer by Charlie Maxwell in the seventh inning.

Boone's four-baggers were off starter Ray Scarborough in the seventh and Ellis Kinder in the ninth.

Rosen's homer, his 15th of the season, came in the fifth. Lemon had held the Red Sox under a firm check until the seventh when Clyde Volmer stroked his first and only hit while leading off for the Red Sox as they trailed 2-0.

Manager Steve O'Neill then sent up Maxwell to bat for catcher Al Evans.

Maxwell poled a 400-foot drive into the right field bullpen to deadlock matters. But the cool Lemon bore down hard and retired the next three batters.

In the ninth, after Billy Goodman had drawn Lemon's fifth and last base on balls, the packed 34,298 crowd pleaded with Volmer to lash another of his game-winning blows.

But after two conferences with manager Al Lopez, Lemon served Volmer a pitch he socked deep to Larry Doby who caught it back at the centrefield fence.

Philadelphia ended a seven-game losing streak by out-lasting Detroit 10-8. The A's pounded four Tiger hurlers for 15 hits as Gus Zernial and Elmer Vaio paced the attack with three blows apiece. Zernial also shared honors with rookie first baseman Loy Limmer in runs batted in as the pair chased home three each. Zernial now has 80 R.B.I.'s.

Conrado Marrero held St. Louis Browns to eight scattered hits and pitched Washington to a 7-0 American League victory tonight for his 10th win. Mickey Vernon led the Senators' 10-hit attack with two doubles and a single.

Boston Braves hit four homers as Howie Pollock, but the Pittsburgh pitcher was tight in the clutch as he hurled the Pirates to an 8-4 victory. It was his fourth win of the year against six defeats.

Sid Gordon smashed two of the Braves' homers, the others coming off the bats of Roy Hartfield and Walker Cooper.

New York Giants broke a 3-3 tie with two runs in the seventh inning to whip Cincinnati 8-5-3. It was Cincinnati's sixth straight National League loss to the Giants in Cincinnati.

Don Mueller powered the New York attack with two triples. Big Ted Kluszewski homered with one on for the Reds.

Roy Campanella hammered a three-run homer in the ninth to give the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers a 12-9 verdict over St. Louis Cardinals in a wild contest before a crowd of 26,429. The Brooks trailed by six runs in the fifth but finally tied the score with three runs in the eighth.

UMKOMAAAS, South Africa (CP)—Kite fishing from the beach in this Natal fishing village, an angler foul-hooked an airplane and suffered the loss of his kite, hundreds of feet of line, and badly lacerated fingers. Fishermen here fly their bait out to sea from giant kites.

SATURDAY'S NIGHT RACE
NINE DASHES FIRST DASH 8.30

Here's the Free-For-All you have been waiting for—

Vella La Vella, Cheeky Chief, Argot Pointer, Mannister Direct, Col. Looker, Miss Knox, Lock Hanover, Ohio Hal.

Can Vella La Vella beat Cheeky Chief this week? That's probably what you are thinking, but what about the rest of the field—don't overlook a single horse in this race—Ohio Hal, P. J. Cadeagan's great pacer, just nosed out in photo finish in 2:08 1-5; Horace Willis' pacer, Argot Pointer, who last week was in 2:09 2-5; Sam Kennedy's Col. Looker, winner of a dash in the Junior Free-For-All last Saturday, and don't overlook the great crowd pleaser, Cmdr. Buntain's Miss Knox.

Also, the Free-For-All Trot with the Great Doon, Jennie Kalmuck, Lucilia, Walt 'N' Sen, Nell Kalmuck, Feather Duster, Cobblestone, Senator Craigmyle.

You know the battles these trotters always put on, so don't miss these thrilling events Saturday at 8:30 P.M.
