GEORGETOWN ROYALTY SCHOOL.

Semi-Annual Examination—Standing of the Pupils

The semi-annual examination of the Georgetown Royalty School took place on Dec. 30th. The pupils acquitted themselves in a manner that reflected credit not only on themselves, but also on their teacher, Miss Mahar. The prompt and correct answers given in the many branches in which they were examined show that very creditable work is being done in the Royalty School. The discipline is excellent. At the close of the examination a basket of candy was distributed among the children, and the following prizes given:

Prize for geometry, presented by Mr. A. J. Fraser, awarded to Maggie Delorie.
Prize for grammar, presented by Mr. Walter Gordon, awarded to Winnie Delorie.
Prize for grammar, presented by Miss Mahar, Ethel Gordon and Winnie Delorie, equal.
Prize for penmanship, presented by Miss Mahar, awarded to Annie Parker.
Prize for history, 1st division, presented by Miss Mahar, awarded to K. G. Gordon.
Prize for history, 2nd division, presented by Miss Mahar, awarded to E. Delorie.
Prize for regular attendance, presented by Miss Mahar, awarded to Janie Gordon.
Prize for highest average in written examinations, presented by Miss Mahar, awarded to Eleanor Gordon and Emma Delorie.

Below is the class standing of the more advanced pupils, which I requested from the teacher:

- Annie Parker, 1st in penmanship, reading and geography; 2nd in geometry, French, History and Latin.
- Ethel Gordon, 1st in grammar, arithmetic, composition; 2nd C. H., French and algebra.
- Kenneth Gordon, 1st in history (1st div.), literature and map drawing; 2nd in grammar and French.
- Wesley Jordan, 1st in S. Temperance, Latin and algebra (2nd div.); 2nd in reading, geography and composition.
- Henry Gordon, 1st in Canadian History and spelling; 2nd in arithmetic, Latin; 3rd in geography.
- Charles Gordon, 2nd in map-drawing and composition, 3rd in history.
- Maggie Delorie, 1st in Geometry, Algebra, French; 2nd in grammar, writing, temperance and arithmetic.
- Minnie Delorie, 1st in grammar, French; 2nd in Reading and Algebra; 3rd in arithmetic and geometry.
- Eugene Delorie, 1st in history (2nd div) Scientific Temperance; 2nd in spelling; 3rd in Geography, reading and geometry.

CHRISTMAS TREE:

The Prince Town Road Methodist Sunday school held their Xmas tree and entertainment on Wednesday evening, the 27th instant. As the night was fine the church was filled before the hour of opening. Rev. A. D. McLeod occupied the chair, and opened the concert with a neat address. Then followed music by the choir, after which Mr. A. T. Dollar, secretary, read a carefully prepared report showing the Sunday school to be in a very efficient state, several of the scholars having been present every Sunday during the term. The programme, consisting of readings, recitations and dialogues, interspersed with music by the choir, was well rendered, and reflects credit on those taking part. Mr. Theo. Abbott, on behalf of the school, presented the Rev. Mr. McLeod with a purse of money, as a slight recognition of his untiring efforts for the advancement of the school. Among the other presentations was a beautifully bound hymnal, presented on behalf of the donors to the organist, Miss Janie Essery. After each teacher and scholar had received a present of Xmas cards, apples and candy, and the closing chorus had been sung, all returned to their homes, well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

—At the beginning of the war the late United States Consul at Pretoria wrote: "The Boers want to make a good fight of it, and will be a mighty hard lot to beat. Seems that he knew!"

ESTREMOXUANG ES.

Mail and Empire: When Le Courier du Canada, the French Conservative organ of Quebec City, invites those who are on the Boer side in the South African struggle to consider what would be the position of the Canadian people if Great Britain were to fall to the status of a third or fourth-rate power, it touches the pith of the question.

The Empire, London: Canada from ocean to ocean is stated to be aflame with patriotic fervour. The temporary depression resulting from the recent reverses to the British arms has given way to quickened Imperial sentiment. Press and people unite in the feeling that Britain must win and Britain will win, and that in this crisis Canada must loyally bear her share of the Imperial burden.

OUR ANNUAL VISITOR.

There is an old chap who pays us occasional visits during autumn, and fall; but when December comes he generally takes up his abode with us for the winter. He is with us now. He was later coming last fall than usual, but now he has arrived he means business. He isn't clanish (as the Scotch say) but visits all, rich and poor.

He makes trade brisker for our merchants, coal and hardware dealers, boot and shoemakers, and blacksmiths. Bakers, butchers and grocers find their trade increasing too, for this old chap is a sort of a doctor, and gives people good appetites and does in charge for the prescription either.

He drives the loafers away from the street corners, for they take more notice of him than they do of the police-men. Even the lazy but hard, who walks around with his hands in his pockets, gets a move on now when our visitor is here, and looks almost as though he might be persuaded to scratch for a living instead of making his poor wife do so.

This old chap is an artist also. He makes lovely pictures on our windows, and ornamental work on the boughs of the trees sometimes. Just now he is at work building bridges. He doesn't talk about it like the Grits, and go no further; but he goes to work in earnest and soon has the job completed. Though his bridges are only temporary, yet they prove very handy for the farmers who have hauling to do during the winter months.

But he has a few bad habits too. We put on outside doors and windows to keep him out, but sometimes the old scamp breaks in, spoils our nice plants and breaks our water pitchers.

And he is pretty savage at times too. He has been known to lay hold of people and bite them. Some have actually died from the effects of his ill-treatment. Men, women and children hurry along as if they were afraid he would catch them. But he isn't a bad sort of an old fellow after all, if we look out for ourselves and keep him at a distance. But it doesn't do to get too intimate with him. He will probably stay with us until the spring, though he may take a short vacation now, and then, O, I don't believe I told you his name yet. We call him Jack Frost.
ONE WHO ISN'T AFRAID OF JACK.

GRANT INTERVIEWED.

Sufferer From Bright's Disease Tells How He Was Cured By Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Bright's Disease, Like Diabetes, No Longer Incurable—Mr. Ewen Grant's Case of Three Year's Standing—But a Few Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Him.

QUINN, P. Q., Jan. 5.—The case of Mr. Ewen Grant, cured of Bright's Disease by Dodd's Kidney Pills, continues to excite attention here. Many enquires are received by Mr. Grant regarding Dodd's Kidney Pills, and people are never tired of asking him personally about his case. In view of the wide interest for the public attached to any cure of Bright's Disease, which was until comparatively recently considered incurable, your correspondent interviewed Mr. Grant, as follows:

"When did you first feel the symptoms of kidney disease?"
"About three years ago. I experienced sensations of continual lassitude and tiredness."
"Did you consult a doctor?"
"Yes, several, who pronounced that I had an excess of blood and prescribed without result."
"Was your work interfered with?"
"Yes, I was in the Glenwood sawmill and at last got so bad I had to quit."
"That was hard, was it not?"
"As I had a wife and six children to support, it was indeed. My back at this time became entirely useless."
"Did you know what was the matter with you?"
"No, my whole nervous system was completely upset, but I did not look sick, being full-blooded."
"How did you come to use Dodd's Kidney Pills?"
"Well, I read of a case exactly like my own one day. It was described as Bright's Disease and the patient was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I determined to try them. My wife had lost faith and said they would be like the others, but I thought I might as well give them a fair trial. I took several boxes and was soon able to go back to work."
"How do you feel at present?"
"I am not in the best of health, vigor and spirits, and heartily recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to my fellow-men," Mr. Ewen concluded.

Stormy in Ireland.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Severe gales, rain and snowstorms are reported in the mountains of Ireland. At Nenagh, near the Nenagh river, a landslide, followed by a rush of water, swept away two farm houses, with their occupants. Much damage has been done to other property.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS.

"I'm going to turn over a new leaf," said Snickers.
"Good," said Bickers.
"I mean it," said Snickers.
"Your intentions are always irrevocable," said Bickers, "there is only one thing wrong with them."
"What's that?" asked Snickers.
"They're so seldom carried out."
"You just keep an eye on me this time," said Snickers.
"What are you going to do?" asked Bickers.
"I'm going to take a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet after every meal."
"What!"
"That's right."
"Say it again," said Bickers.
"I'm going to take a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet after each meal," repeated Snickers deliberately.
"What for?"
"For a moath or two?" said Snickers.
"Yes, but what's the matter with you that you're going to take Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets?"
"Doesn't it occur to you that it is probably because I have dyspepsia?"
"Why don't you go to a doctor then?" demanded Bickers.
"Because Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are twice as good and ten times as cheap," said Snickers. "Not that I have any prejudice against doctors, you understand."
"Well, that's all right, I suppose, if Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are liable to cure you."
"My dear boy, if you only knew how many people are using and have used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, there would be no question in your mind as to their efficiency. Why, they're sold all through Canada, the United States, England and Australia. It must be up in the millions."
"Well, all I can say is, when you make a good resolution you want to stick to it," said Bickers.
