

Verdict In N. S. Mystery Death

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP)—A coroner's jury Friday found Ella Mae Taylor met "an unknown and violent death." Pathological testimony said the girl was probably smothered by flames swept through the unoccupied summer camp in which her body was found.

The jury said the 19-year-old blonde's death was caused by "means unknown." No recommendations were submitted.

Pathologist William A. Taylor said in a statement read to the jury by the crown prosecutor that examination of charred body's skin and respiratory organs "made it almost certain that death preceded the fire."

He said her death appeared to have resulted from asphyxia "and the appearance would be compatible to strangulation."

The body was found in the ruins of the camp on the outskirts of nearby Pembroke June 29. It was identified a day later as that of Miss Taylor who had been missing from her Pembroke home since June 27.

Camp owner Cyril Aston said an empty gasoline drum found in the ruins by RCMP investigators was left there before the fire and had contained a gallon of fuel oil.

Einstein's Peace Plan Will Be Revealed Today

LONDON (Reuters)—A plan for peace sponsored by Albert Einstein just before his death last April will be revealed to the world today.

Correspondents from many countries will crowd a public hall to hear the final views of the great scientist on the atom and hydrogen bombs which his genius made possible.

Bertrand Russell, 82-year-old British philosopher, will announce plans for using the seven other scientists of international fame as the foundation of a new peace formula.

The world-wide interest aroused has been so great that the philosopher has been forced to hire a much bigger hall than the one originally booked.

Contents of the statement are so far secret. It is aimed probably to impress on the world politicians the view of the scientists that war can no longer be an instrument of policy.

An proposal for peace which Russell will probably put forward is that two neutral nations, such as India and Sweden, should investigate and draw up a detailed report on the ruin which would be brought about by a third world war.

Copies of the report would be forwarded to all governments likely to be involved in a war and they are expected to be invited to concur in its findings.

This plan is known to have been

U. S. Medical Ass'n Gives View On Aspirin

CHICAGO (AP)—An American Medical Association committee says aspirin and other salicylate compounds should be kept out of the reach of children.

The report of the committee on toxicology also recommended that the number of child-type tablets in each container should be limited.

The pills be wrapped in metal or plastic foil so that it cannot be easily removed by a child.

"CONSULT PHYSICIAN"

The label should carry the advice: "Consult your physician on dosage for children under three years of age."

The report, published Friday in the AMA journal, said oil of wintergreen and aspirin are the forms of salicylates most often involved in the poisoning of youngsters. It added:

"Salicylate compounds are known to have caused 113 deaths in the United States in 1952. Of these deaths, 86 occurred in children under five years of age. Twenty-one of these deaths were caused by methyl salicylate, 41 by aspirin."

The committee said the temptation to eat aspirin had been increased by the development of flavored tablets for children.

Crapaud United Church Re-opens Sunday

Crapaud United Church (above) will be re-opened with special services tomorrow, July 10, after recent re-decoration and other improvements having been made by the members of the congregation.

The exterior of the brilliant white, new cement steps and walk have been laid, and the grounds have been made more attractive. The interior of the church has also been much improved in appearance: the walls and ceiling have been finished in light pastel rose and green colors, a completely new and modern lighting system has been installed, seating accommodation has been rearranged and improved, the aisle covered with carpet, new wine drapes provided for the choir wall, a baptismal font installed, and in 1917 the building was heated in the furnace cooler months with an oil furnace which has already been installed.

The re-opening services tomorrow morning will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Lloyd Archer, while Rev. R. L. Bacon, a former minister to this congregation, will be guest speaker for the evening service.

Special music for the services will be provided under the direction of Dr. Peter MacDonald of Crapaud.

What is known today as the United Church at Crapaud had its beginning 129 years ago when small first Methodist Church, 30 people log chapel seating in 1828, on land donated by Christopher Smith, in the eastern part of the Crapaud district on the site of the present Crapaud cemetery.

The land was given under date of September 5, 1826, and the church trustees were: Cecil Town, send, John Robert Wilson, Stephen Wilson, Isaac Trowsdale and Robert Hudson.

This church was replaced by another which was built in 1840, and its opening service was conducted by Rev. William Smith of Charlottetown, on August 30th of that year.

James Bulpitt that year was the first ordained minister to conduct regular services in this church, and trustees at that time were John Lane, William Thomas, Thomas Myers, John Lockie, Charles Beer, George Wigginton and Stephen Archer.

This church was later moved to DesBale, a church at Westmoreland was moved to the village of Crapaud.

On March 13, 1860, approval of the board of Trvon-Bedeque circuit was given for the erection of a Wesleyan chapel, and was erected during that year on land leased to the Methodist Church by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Leard. Trustees at that time were John Lockie, James Best, George Percival, George Leard, Joseph Crew, Thomas Lloyd French and William Sobey.

In 1873 Trvon was organized into a separate circuit consisting of Trvon, Mt. Trvon, Westmoreland, Crapaud and Cape Traverser.

ON PRESENT SITE

On June 16, 1877 land was acquired in the village of Crapaud from George Howatt, to which the present church, shown above, was moved, and renovations were made which included the addition of a spire.

Rev. Thomas Deindead was the first minister of this church, and Mr. Wesley Calbeck is believed to have been the first organist.

Included among the congregation at that time were the family names of Howatt, Bentley, Trowsdale, Myers, Lowther, Leard, Nicholson, Best, Simmons, Call-Nicholson, MacLean, MacKeeg, Richard Cameron was recording steward for the circuit from 1893-1916, and also secretary treasurer of the church at Crapaud.

In 1893 the Trvon circuit, in which Crapaud was included, was rearranged to Bedeque, leaving Trvon, Victoria, Crapaud, DesBale, Augustine Cove, Mt. Trvon and Appin Road. Rev. J. K. King was minister at this time, and was followed by Rev. G. W.

Fisher in the same year.

On July 31, 1911, Cornelius Lowther deeded his house and lot to Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Thompson for their lifetime, and then to the Methodist Church. Rev. Mr. Thompson had been born in Crapaud.

On June 9, 1924, the Methodist Church sold their interest in this property, and the proceeds were applied to the purchase of the lot known as the Mark Trowsdale property, adjoining the church property, for the erection of a horse shed on this lot.

With steady improvement in the highways through the years the use of automobiles replaced the horse as a means of transportation and the church shed was sold and removed from the property in 1932.

In 1913 electric lights were installed in the church, and in 1917 extensive repairs were made to the interior which included new news and redecorating. The trustees at this time were Joseph B. Wadman, Isaac Beer, George Nicholson and George E. Leard.

On June 10, 1925, Crapaud Methodist Church entered the church union and became a part of the United Church of Canada. The circuit was again re-arranged so that it included only Trvon and Crapaud, and became the third member of the circuit which exists today.

In 1929 the late William Cullet bequeathed five hundred dollars to the church to be used for repairs, and beautifying the church.

In 1931, new windows were installed and church was painted.

In the summer of 1946 the spire of the church was set on fire when struck by lightning, but the church was saved through the prompt action of the Victoria and Crapaud Fire Departments.

Repairs to the spire and some interior redecorating was made necessary at this time as a result of the damage by fire and lightning.

In 1952 the Sturdy family made five hundred dollars available to the church in memory of their late sister, Elizabeth Sturdy.

Part of this money was used to purchase an individual communion set which was suitably engraved. In this year, also, the furnace was installed in the church.

Other recent bequests include gifts of hymn books from Mr. George Fall in memory of his wife, hymn books from Miss Muriel MacLean, baptismal font from Mrs. Bert Warren and Mrs. Hibbard Howatt in memory of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cameron; and drapes for the choir wall from Dr. N. R. Boyver.

All times the congregation have endeavoured to keep their church in a neat and attractive condition, and its present splendid appearance is an indication of the time and effort given by its members to this endeavour.

Officials of the church at the present time are, elders, John Nicholson, William Waddell, Norman MacDonald, Stewards and trustees, Dr. N. R. Boyver, Percy Dawson, Charlie Harvey, John Simmons, Frank MacDonald, John Nicholson, Hubert Harvey, William Waddell, Ralph Myers, R. N. Dawson, Harold Harvey, Norman MacDonald and B. J. Trowsdale. Organist is Mrs. John Simmons; Sunday school superintendent, Mrs. Waddell; president of women's missionary society, Mrs. Ralph Myers; mission band leaders, Mrs. John Nicholson and Mrs. Norman MacDonald.

Serious Effort To Close Rift Between Pope, Peron

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Cables between the Pope and President Juan D. Peron indicated Friday a serious effort is under way to close the rift between the Vatican and Argentina.

They also hint that the Argentine president may have started to seek lifting of the excommunication imposed on him June 16 by the Roman Catholic Church.

The Pontiff's brief message to Peron was in Spanish. He said he "prayed that God would illumine and move your heart so that the loved people of Argentina may freely live the Catholic tradition."

The 78-year-old head of the Catholic church sent his cable Sunday, three days after receiving one from Peron.

The Argentine president, upon the occasion of the Feast of St. Peter and St. Paul, had called his "respectful salute" to the Pontiff.

Both messages were published Friday by the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano.

The Vatican released the texts of the cables following several days during which it had pleaded ignorance when asked about reports in Buenos Aires of such messages.

In those days, Vatican circles belied Friday, definite steps were taken by the Vatican to mend the state-church quarrel in Argentina. This clash had led to the expulsion June 15 of Buenos Aires' auxiliary bishop, Msgr. Manuel Tato and his assistant Msgr. Ramon Pablo Novoa. Then followed excommunication by the Vatican of those responsible for the expulsion, and bloody although brief revolution in Argentina.

The Vatican's pronouncement of excommunication, published in L'Osservatore, mentioned no names, but Vatican sources said it clearly included Peron and members of his government.

U. S. Employment At Highest Peak

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 64,000,000 Americans were employed in June, the greatest number in the country's history, the commerce and labor departments reported Friday.

Unemployment, on the other hand, increased by only 190,000 to a total of 2,679,000. This was one of the smallest increases for the month of June since the Second World War.

Young job seekers were dumped on the labor market by the closing of schools, as is usual in June, but this was offset by rising adult employment on farms and vigorous rehiring in booming industries.

The number of job holders has climbed by four million from the state-church quarrel in Argentina. This clash had led to the expulsion June 15 of Buenos Aires' auxiliary bishop, Msgr. Manuel Tato and his assistant Msgr. Ramon Pablo Novoa. Then followed excommunication by the Vatican of those responsible for the expulsion, and bloody although brief revolution in Argentina.

Red Party Not Growing In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Friday there is "clear evidence" that the Communist party is not growing in numbers or influence in Canada.

He said in the Commons that he does not want to state the government's estimate of actual party membership. It would not help work of the RCMP's anti-subversive squad.

Mr. Garson said, however, that evidence of the party's strength is shown in votes for the Labor-Progressive party in federal and local elections. The 63,000 Labor-Progressive votes in the 1953 federal election represented party members, fellow-travellers and "a goodly number" of non-Communists who had made protest votes because they were merely angry or frustrated.

The minister was replying to a claim by John Blackmore (S.C.) that the Communist party is a "growing problem in Canada" and "growing in size, intricacy and audacity."

The discussion arose during consideration of justice department estimates.

17 SCHOOLS

Mr. Blackmore said there were a reported 17 schools of communism in Toronto last year and several more in Sudbury, Ont. He asked why they are allowed to continue.

Mr. Garson said he knows about the schools.

"After most careful consideration," he said, "we think that from the security standpoint the practices we have been following are in the best interests of the country."

He did not amplify except to say that Canada is getting better results than other countries which carry out vigorous anti-Red campaigns.

Mr. Blackmore said that judging from university newspapers, two universities in Canada "have gone almost completely Red." He maintained that the publicly-owned CBC is giving Canadians "an absolute drenching of communism, program after program."

He spoke at length about the CBC until CCF Leader Coldwell interrupted to say he was out of order speaking of the CBC during a study of the justice department.

"Let's get to the business before us and not hear all sorts of attacks on unnamed persons and institutions," Mr. Coldwell said.

Province Model

Another project described by the speaker was "emergency feeding" which could be put into effect at a moment's notice in the event of a national emergency. All clubs are asked to put on such a demonstration two or three times a year.

Mr. Smith, in conclusion thanked the Prince Edward Island Institute for their kind invitation to have her speak at their convention. "I have been tremendously happy and I shall take back some very lovely memories of my trip to your beautiful province," she said.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

At the opening of the evening session a very impressive ceremony conducted by Mrs. Harold Laird was carried out when the newly elected officers of the executive were installed.

Commencing with "O Canada" the delegates then sang the Institute Ode which was followed by the repeating of the Institute motto, "For Home and Country."

"Are you ready and willing to accept the responsibility of your new office?" ran the words of the charge delivered by Mrs. Laird. The newly elected officers accepted according to the ritual made their money closed the evening in union of the Mary Stewart Society.

The newly elected president, Mrs. Murdoch MacGowan, thanked the delegates for the honour conferred upon her and at the same time pledged her best in the service of home and country.

GM Reports Record Sales

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors reported Friday its car divisions sold a record-breaking 1,347,906 new and 2,510,980 used cars in this year's first six months.

The former record for new car sales was 1,475,943 units sold in the first half of 1950. The old record for used car sales was 2,179,791 units delivered in the first half of 1941.

The GM report said every passenger car division—Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac—set records for both new and used car sales in the January-June period.

TORONTO (CP)—A mother wakened by her baby's coughing during the night groped in the dark for the cough syrup. She found later she had administered disinfectant instead. Police said Mrs. Joan Hill called an ambulance immediately and her 20-month-old son, Ronald, was soon under emergency treatment in hospital. His condition was reported satisfactory.

Declares Canadians Consume Plenty Fat

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians should be discouraged from consuming more fats than at present, Dr. L. B. Pett, head of the health department's nutrition division said Friday.

"There is enough evidence now to suggest there is some actual danger to health if fat consumption rises above 25 or 30 per cent of total calories," he told the closing session of the second Canadian nutrition conference.

Fat makes up about 38 per cent of the Canadian diet at present, he said.

Excessive consumption of fat is a factor in causing arteriosclerosis, a disease of the blood vessels which causes heart attacks and strokes.

Cutting fat consumption would mean watching receipts, greater use of skim milk powder and use of leaner meat, Dr. Pett said.
