MASERU, Basutoland (Reuters) — The body of a 41-year-old French-Canadian priest was found Friday in a pool of blood in his study at the Roman Catholic mission at Tsoseng, about 30 miles from here.

Police believe the priest, Father Almaraz Meinard, was shot in the head Thursday night and that the motive for the murder was robbery.

Three nuns found the body, clad only in a shirt and lying in the middle of the room, after Father Meinard failed to appear at early-morning mass.

Police believe Father Meinard was dragged from his bedroom to the study, where he is believed to have had about 30 rand ($70), a week's pay for his small staff of casual laborers in a safe.

ESCAPE BID FAILS

Blood-stained finger prints on a window in the study indicated he tried to escape from his assailant before dying.

The mission is not far from another mission where five armed men robbed priests of 1,500 rand ($4,200) at gunpoint Wednesday.

But police said they were satisfied there is no connection between the two incidents. They have arrested the five men believed to be responsible for the earlier holdup.

Jewish Charges To Be Studied

OTTAWA (CP) — The external affairs department said that it will study carefully a letter from a Jewish organization alleging war crimes against four former Latvians now living in Canada.

A spokesman confirmed that the Canadian embassy in Vienna received a letter from Simon Wiesenthal, head of the documentation centre of the Association of Jewish Survivors of Nazism, charging crimes were committed by the four against Jews in Eastern Europe during the Second World War.

A report from Vienna Monday quoted Mr. Wiesenthal as saying the names of the four Latvians passed on to the embassy identified three as now living in Toronto and the fourth in St. Catharines.

Pakistan Denies Chinese Threat

RAWALPINDI (Reuters) — Pakistan has strongly denied there is any Chinese threat to the Indian sub-continent.

The denial was contained in a statement issued shortly after the arrival of Chinese Premier Chou En-lai for talks with President Mohammed Ayub Khan.

The statement issued by Pakistan's foreign office accused India's government of playing up an imaginary Chinese threat "to mislead world opinion and extort maximum economic and military aid from other countries."

Observers here said the statement was Pakistan's clearest declaration of intent toward China since the retirement 10 days ago of pro-Chinese Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto.

There was speculation that Pakistan's policy towards China could change following the foreign minister's retirement.

Securities Proposals

OTTAWA (CP) — A two-day federal-provincial conference on securities regulation has recommended the federal and provincial governments consider establishing a national securities fraud investigation unit and a central registry of securities regulations.

The conference also agreed to an Ontario suggestion that the federal and provincial governments consider regulating mutual funds and investment contract companies, and various aspects of corporate disclosure including insider trading.

Ontario's brief to the conference said the province will not dilute the new, tightened securities laws it has introduced but recommends them as a model to the other provinces and to the federal government.

The conference, held in camera Monday and Tuesday, was attended only by government officials. Its recommendations go to the federal and provincial cabinets for study and consideration of the political policy involved.

Man Charged In '65 Murder

MONTREAL (CP) — Marcel Chevalier, who will be 21 July 1, has been charged with capital murder in a gangland-style killing 15 months ago.

Chevalier was charged with the shooting death of Laurier Labelle, 23, and with the attempted murder of Tony Calbro on March 17, 1965.

The shootings followed an altercation in a nightclub Labelle and Calbro were forced at gunpoint into a car and later shot on a quiet street Calbro survived.

Chevalier was found criminally responsible for Labelle's death by a coroner's jury Monday.

His brother, Roger, has been convicted of capital murder in the slaying and sentenced to be hanged. The case is under appeal.
