

A Feature for Every Friday Among The Farmers Federation Of Agriculture News

The Spring Is Late

During April prospects were for an early spring and early cropping but, the weatherman changed his mind about the matter and broken weather conditions for the past few weeks have, particularly on low land, delayed seeding operations to the point where large acreages of grain and root crops still remain to be seeded.

Wool Marketing

At the present time farmers who have stayed in the breeding of sheep are now coming into their own. The demand for wool is keen and prices are strong and if the number of itinerant wool buyers in the Province is any indication, then the handling of this product must hold very good prospects of profit for those buyers.

This method of marketing any agricultural product in spite of claims made to the contrary by those who engage in it is not in the interest of producers and on the average returns, the producer less money and results in disorganized marketing. Producers of wool have an excellent marketing organization of their own which has no other object than to see the producer gets the maximum returns for his product.

New Policies

In the past few days the press carried announcement of recently inaugurated policies which should be beneficial to livestock producers. The sire policy is designed to promote the use of better bulls and thus improve the average quality of our cattle. Grants of $100.00 are available to groups or individuals where 50 cows are available. This policy is a double-barrel one, beneficial both to the breeders of grade cattle and to the breeders of registered sires.

Veterinary Service Policy

The inauguration of this policy will fill a long felt want and will undoubtedly return its cost many times over in livestock saved and increased profits for livestock farmers.

For the past number of years losses have been occurring due to the insufficient number of veterinarians available. Farmers are now in a position to avail themselves of skilled service and should not hesitate to make use of it. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Call a veterinarian early.

For the information of those who may not have seen the advertisement we list the names of the doctors and the areas which they will service. Dr. Hilton Currie, located at O'Leary, will work in Lots 1 to 13 in Prince County.

Dr. Glen R. Hendry, 222 Duke Street, Summerside, will have the balance of Prince County and Lots 20, 21, 22, 67, 29, and 30 in Queen's.

Dr. John E. Sterns, Charlottetown, will provide service to Lots 26, 24, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 65, 48 and 49 in Queen's County and Lots 38, 39, and 40 in King's County.

Dr. J. R. MacRae will look after King's County with the exception of Lots 38, 39, and 40 and in addition will provide service to Lots 50, 57, 58, 60, and 62 in Queen's County.

We suggest that farmers keep a copy either of this schedule or of the advertisement in the press to enable them to contact the proper veterinarians for their area.

Swat The Rat

One of the most destructive and dangerous pests the farmer has to cope with is the ordinary rat. The rat is a cunning and intelligent animal which multiplies with great rapidity unless continuous warfare is waged against them.

A wide variety of traps and drugs, some effective and some dangerous to other animals, have been used to hold the rat in check. It is estimated that one rat can be responsible for destruction in a single year to the value of $10.00.

A new drug, Warfarin, has recently appeared on the market and has received wide and fa-

What Mr. Gardiner probably meant was that the provinces could, through proper use of their marketing legislation, set up Boards which could regulate the distribution and price of butter.

Hogs Are Up

At time of writing hogs are quoted at $38.00 per hundred, not dressed weight, delivered Moncton and in Charlottetown $37.00 F.O.B. country points.

Recent price increases are due to short supply of Canadian hogs and keen demand. American prices have not moved up accordingly and carlots from the states are already reported headed to Toronto and Montreal.

This movement will likely continue until such time as prices level out between ourselves and U. S. A.

Farm Forum Conference

Next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday will see Farm Forum representatives from across Canada meet for their annual Conference at Amherst.

Delayed cropping operations will make it difficult for many local Forum members to attend. It is likely that a group of the delegates will visit the Province over the week-end. At that time of the year our Province should look at its best and make a good impression on the delegates.

Membership Campaign

Membership returns are coming steadily into the office and indicate that farmers are prepared to support the Federation on a permanent basis. Results are quite satisfactory in districts where the secretary and chairman have taken the time to contact the members. Secretaries and chairmen are urged to contact the cash members as soon as possible to bring the membership up to date.

NICE CATCH

HALIFAX—(CP)—A salmon weighing 25 pounds was recorded among latest catches of Atlantic salmon in provincial rivers and streams. Department of Fisheries reports the big one was caught at the famous St. Mary's stream in Guysborough. Average weight is around nine pounds.
