National Parks For Use Of All, Rotarians Told

"From the small area of ten square miles at Banff, Alta. set apart in 1885, the National Park system has been extended until it embraces 37 separate areas, totalling more than 29,000 square miles", Eric Kipping, superintendent of the P. E. Island National Park said in addressing the Rotary Club at the weekly luncheon in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

The erection of "Bridges of Friendship" between 15 clubs in Canada and other parts of the world, with the Charlottetown Club designated as one of the participants, was announced by Norman Lowther, chairman of international-contacts and information.

Mr. Kipping described the feature attractions of many of the parks, stressing the ease with which a family may pitch a tent for the nominal fee of $4 for a two-week holiday with all the amusement and recreational facilities as freely available as to the most pretentious hotel guests.

Guests of Rotary were: David Scates, and John Martin, city; L. H. Poole, Montague; Norman Howatt, and Roddie Foster, Montreal. Paul MacGillivray, Amherst, N. S. was a visiting Rotarian.

Prior to the Second World War about a million visitors came to the National Parks of Canada, and last year the total exceeded for millions. Approximately 80 per cent of these visitors have been Canadians, and the great bulk of the remaining 20 per cent crossed our southern border from the U.S.A.

The facilities of the Island National Park were taken advantage of by 21,375 persons last year as compared with 14,000 the previous year and 3,651 in 1955, and that clearly shows the trend, Mr. Kipping said.

A beautifully executed film in natural colors shown by John Martin of the National Film Board fully supported the claims of Mr. Kipping as to the scenic beauty of many of the National Parks.

The speaker was introduced by chairman Don Martin and thanked by co-chairman Clive Currie.

President Gerry Hartlen regretted the illness of George Thompson, who is a patient in the P. E. Island Hospital.

Refreshments were served in the dining room with Mrs. R.C. pouring. Serving were, Mrs. W.W. Reid, Mrs. Walter LePage, Mrs.

Increased Tax Collections Are Reported By City Hall

The city tax office up to the end of September has collected $6,000 more education tax than during the same period in 1958. The collections from this source for the first nine-month period of 1959 was $81,750 compared to $45,693 to the end of September 1958.

Personal property taxes on the other hand showed little difference. The $167,690 collected during the first three quarters was only some $200 more than last year. Taxes on real estate for the first nine months were $330,624 compared to $323,511 during the 1958 period.

With 1960 being election year, it is estimated that the total revenue will exceed the million dollar mark from these three sources. During the year the city has collected $123,670 in tax arrears, a considerable increase from the $87,890 collected in arrears during the same period in 1958. This marked increase is due to taxes from government property, it is explained.

In spite of arrears of taxes collected during the past few years, outstanding taxes still present a formidable figure. They are as follows: education a former poll tax, $190,150; personal property $160,935 and real estate $195,044.

Some of these taxes have been of long standing and as a result will have to be written off as uncollectible but efforts put forth to collect unpaid taxes during the past three years have resulted in getting accounts squared as far back as 1934.

Opening Of Switch Causes 45-Minute Power Failure

Electric power was interrupted last evening in different sections of the city for a period of 45 minutes in some cases. The interruption was caused by the opening of a protective switch at the Maritime Electric Company plant. This shut down the two boilers which were carrying the load at the time. As a result shift engineer Lorne Simond had to shed load by taking off the electrical circuits during the city. The first feed was cut off at 4:45 p.m. and fifth feeder at 4:54.

Meanwhile system electrician, W. Benson had located the trouble and by-passed the open switch. Under the direction of operating engineer W. W. Anderson, fireman John Beer had raised steam in the boiler and the city feeders were switched on as the plant's steam capacity was regained. The first feed was re-connected at 5:14 p.m. and the last feeder at 5:31.

NO ACCIDENTS City police report all was quiet during the power break and despite the fact traffic lights were not working, no accidents are reported as most drivers drove carefully and courteously.

Traffic jams were numerous however at most busy intersections as the supper hour traffic fought its way home through the rain.

Quiet Hallow'en Is Anticipated

City Police are hoping for a quiet Hallow'en this year but Deputy Police Chief Sterns Webster, who is acting in the absence of Chief MacArthur, said yesterday every effort will be made to keep in subjection the small minority of thoughtless youngsters who do not seem to have regard for the property of others.

ized that the police will in no way interfere with innocent pranks and anything within reason will be overlooked.

In anticipation of further increases to the peak load a fifth officer has been ordered for the plant from Moster - Wheeler Co. Ltd., St. Catharines, Ont., as stated last night.

On the other hand, he asserted that anyone caught in acts of vandalism will be given no alternative but to be taken in and give an account of their actions in either the juvenile or magistrate's court.

M. F. Schurman Co. Ltd. are already constructing the foundation for this boiler which is scheduled to go into service in October of next year, the spokesman for Maritime Electric declared.

The police will co-operate with service organizations who are already planning Hallow'en parties for the children. "We want everybody to enjoy themselves, so long as they do not do it at the expense of damaged property," Deputy Chief Webster concluded.

The power interruption occurred in many Charlottetown households were preparing the evening meal for their families. Outside of causing some inconvenience at meal hour, it also caused walls of anguish from young-

WHO IS MY NEIGHBOUR? WHAT IS YOUR ANSWER?

This question was asked by a thoughtful lawyer 2000 years ago—and the story of The Good Samaritan became a classic example of the meeting of human need.

There is much trouble and want in the world but strange to say, we are too often inclined to look beyond our own community and see vividly the need in far away places, while near our own doors or often within a "stone's throw" of our comfortable homes and well fed families, there is heart break, hunger and desperate want.

In the Biblical story, representatives of different segments of the community passed by on the other side, indifferent to the suffering and need of the wounded and hungry man, but the good Samaritan stopped... gave immediate relief, guided him to an inn and made arrangements for temporary care.

This week in Charlottetown we are to be given an opportunity of being "good Samaritans" to hundreds of needy neighbors. These neighbors will need food, clothing, fuel, shelter and medicine—and what is more—encouragement and guidance to enable them to become self-supporting and happy members of the community.

The Protestant Family Service Bureau is an organization of citizens, who with professional guidance and hand-in-hand with the churches, give practical emphasis to the spirit of the good neighbor. The words of Christ still re-echo down the ages, "Inasmuch as ye did it... ye did it unto Me."
