Cough medicines, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is in greater demand than ever. No preparation for Throat and Lung Troubles is so prompt in its effects, so agreeable to the taste, and so widely known, as this. It is the family medicine in thousands of households.

"I have suffered for years from a bronchial trouble that, whenever I take cold or am exposed to inclement weather, shows itself by a very annoying tickling sensation in the throat and by difficulty in breathing. I have tried a great many remedies, but none do so well as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral which always gives prompt relief in returns of my old complaint."—Ernest A. Hepler, Inspector of Public Roads, Parish Terre Bonne, La.

"I consider Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a most important remedy.

For Home Use.
I have tested its curative power, in my family, many times during the past thirty years, and have never known it to fail. It will relieve the most serious affections of the throat and lungs, whether in children or adults."—Mrs. E. G. Edgeley, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

"Twenty years ago I was troubled with a disease of the lungs. Doctors afforded me no relief and considered my case hopeless. I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and before I had finished one bottle, found relief. I continued to take this medicine until a cure was effected. I believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—Samuel Griggs, Waukegan, Ill.

"Six years ago I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and soon developed all the alarming symptoms of Consumption. I had a cough, night sweats, bleeding of the lungs, pains in chest and sides, and was so prostrated as to be confined to my bed most of the time. After trying various prescriptions, without benefit, my physician finally determined to give me Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I took it, and the effect was magical. I seemed to rally from the first dose of this medicine, and, after using only three bottles, as well as sound as ever."—Rodney Johnson, Springfield, Ill.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Notes on "Souris Notes."

Sir,—I see by the Patriot of the 16th inst. that its Souris correspondent is again to the front with his budget of "Souris Notes." It is really a pity that this paragrapher would not confine his notes from time to time to items of general interest, instead of indulging, as he usually does, in coarse personalities which few besides himself can appreciate. News notes from Souris or any other locality are always acceptable to the reading public, providing they contain bona fide items of news; but when they are used as a cloak under which to deal cowardly blows at private character, or crack painful jokes, they are utterly distasteful to all but the really malicious. This week's contribution to the Patriot, under the head of "Souris Notes," is much in keeping, in this respect, with former productions of the same pen. First, we are told that "the Hall School has undergone a change of teachers"; that "Miss Leslie has given place to Miss Amelia Campbell, of Rock Barra School," and that "it is hoped that the change will be followed by an improvement in the work of the school." If this is not a stab at Miss Leslie, I don't understand what it means. I have no desire to discuss the relative merits of these young ladies as teachers; but this I know, Miss Leslie enjoys the reputation of being an excellent teacher, notwithstanding the unkind remarks of the Patriot's scribe. She belongs to a respectable family of more than ordinary talent; she has a good education, and is said to have displayed considerable zeal in her vocation. If she has failed, in her method of teaching, to please the fastidious taste of the Patriot man, to have her give place to another should be ample revenge for him. Parading a young lady's name in a public newspaper, for the obvious purpose of injuring her, is anything but gallant. It is simply contemptible. I believe Miss Campbell is a good teacher, and a very worthy person, and if she does "improve the work of the school," I am sure it will be very pleasing to all concerned.

The next paragraph of "Souris Notes" deals with the firm of McEachern & Co., and is evidently intended either as a puff or a skit. If the former, it is ill-advised and in bad taste; if the latter, it is very unkind to say the least. The concluding paragraph foreshadows some dire calamity about to befall the Tory party. Truly this man of the Patriot must be a very sharp fellow, indeed, for he is continually seeing some mischief brewing in the Tory camp, as he calls it. He informs us that "McEachern, of Bull Creek, is a thorn in their side. They say he wants to run with Little John. They know he will not have the ghost of a chance, and a third consecutive defeat for the Tory candidate would be terrible, but he is a veritable 'old man of the sea,' etc." Whether Mr. McEachern is a "thorn" in any person's side or not I cannot say, but one thing is certain: his years and his personal respectability should entitle him to a more courteous reference in newspaper columns, even by a political opponent. I may, however, inform this seer of the Patriot that the Conservative party are in no hurry to choose candidates for the next election. But speaking of candidates, is it not true that he, himself, has been "skurrying" about for some time past trying to select a colleague. His last election was won through the misplaced confidence of his then colleague, and common gratitude should now forbid any further treachery.

Yours truly,
NEMESIS.

Bayfield, Oct. 18, 1889.

Letter of Condolence

TO THE PARENTS OF OUR DECEASED BROTHER
HAMMOND J. SMITH, WHO DEPARTED
THIS LIFE ON THE 5TH INST.

As it has pleased Almighty God in the dispensation of His divine will to remove from amongst us your beloved son, and our much esteemed brother, the members of Clyde Council Royal Templars of Temperance desire, in these few lines, to give expression to their heartfelt sorrow and extend to you their deepest sympathy in this sad hour of affliction.

While a member of our order brother Smith showed, both by precept and example, that he had the interest of the cause of temperance at heart, and by his Christian spirit and honest, straightforward manner he won the love and esteem of those who knew him. We can point to him as a true specimen of a Royal Templar. He was faithful in the discharge of every duty, noble in all the impulses of his nature, and has left an example worthy of our imitation. We cherish his memory as one greatly beloved, and crown it with the choicest sentiments of our hearts. Now that he has entered into the portals of that great unknown whose doors never outward swing, and as he shall walk the golden streets of that eternal city, and there, face to face with the Supreme Councillor of men, may it not be said to him, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

Signed in behalf of Council,
R. E. BARNALL,
Provincial Deputy.
R. W. STEVENSON,
Select Councillor.
New Glasgow, Oct. 21st.

Mill Cove.
This section of the county has improved very much of late years, as can be seen from the well cultivated fields and the number of new dwellings and out-buildings being erected and in course of construction, among which which may be mentioned a fine residence by Mr. Michael Campbell, 31 by 23 feet, containing eight rooms, which commands a fine view of the surrounding country. Mr. Thomas Hughes and Mrs. Francis Lannon are also building new houses. Philip Hughes, Esq., has recently moved into a new residence, which reflects credit on the owner as well as the architect.

Mr. William McGrath, Postmaster, and William McIntyre were awarded second and third prizes for foals at the late exhibition. The former second and the latter third.

The Mill Cove School is taught by a Miss Curley, of Charlottetown.
Since Lots 35 and 36 got rid of landlordism, the inhabitants live in peace, plenty and contentment.

For Delicate, Sickly Children
Scott's Emulsion is unequalled. See what Dr. C. A. Black, of Amherst, N. S., says: "I have been acquainted with Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, for years, and consider it one of the finest preparations now before the public. Its pleasant flavor makes it the great favorite for children, and I do highly recommend it for all wasting diseases of children and adults." Sold by Druggists, 50 cts. and $1.00.

INTERCOLONIAL RAILWAY EXTENSION.—The Town Council of Lewis, Quebec, has unanimously adopted resolutions approving of the extension of the Intercolonial Railway to Montreal along the south shore and providing for its representation at the convention of the delegates to be held at Nicolet on the 26th inst.

There is comfort for the man with a prematurely grey beard in Buckingham's Dye, because it never fails to color an even brown or black hair as young the desired.

Montague News.

Since shipping commenced our village has presented a very busy appearance. Vessels loading and unloading is the order of the day. There are now 21 vessels at the wharves taking in produce for the American and the Provincial markets. The potatoes being shipped are of excellent quality, and should command a good price. The average number of bushels shipped daily is about as follows: Potatoes, 5,000; oats, 2,500, and turnips 1,000. The prices are: Whites and Rose, 25c.; McIntyres, 22c.; turnips, 18c., and oats 34c.

During the last few months several influential and highly respected persons have cast their lot in our midst, viz: Dr. Martin, physician; Dr. Gordon, dentist; D. G. Cameron, merchant; Poole & Thompson, lumber and produce dealers; W. McKinnon furniture store; McDougall, tailor, besides several others. Although several buildings were erected lately, and others enlarged and repaired, still there is not a vacant house to be had in the village.

Poole & Thompson, a new firm, who have lately established a lumber and produce business here, are doing quite a lively trade. Their yard is well stocked with every variety of lumber for building purposes. They intend this winter to build a large L to their already large and substantial wharf to facilitate the handling of a much larger stock.

Mr. Wightman's new vessel will be launched in about three weeks time. She is a handsome model and well built. The caulking, under the able superintendence of our genial friend, John J. McDonald, is being pushed forward rapidly.

It affords us much pleasure to see our worthy citizen, Mr. J. M. Aitken, out again, after his long and very severe illness. J. D. Bell is doing a large business in the stove and tinware line. In fact, all our merchants and tradesmen appear to be doing a thriving business in their several departments.

The Government wharves here are undergoing thorough repair, and will soon be ready for the accommodation of the public. It would have been much better if the work had been commenced a month sooner. The delay is in no way attributable to the gentleman who has the work in hand, but to the person whose duty it is to look after such matters.

Montague, Oct. 21, 1889.

Grand Tracadie.

The fishing season at this place is pretty well closed, with unfavorable results for the fishermen.
A fleet of vessels and boats from Nova Scotia left the harbor a few days ago for winter quarters.

It is to be regretted that so important a place as Tracadie harbor should so long be neglected, at the expense of inferior ports on the north coast, whose harbors have been improved materially by Government aid. A good breakwater at this harbor would tend to improve the condition of the channel; and would be a boon to the farmers of the surrounding country, so they could ship their produce, not only at the harbor, but also at Corran Bar and other points up the bay; for there is sufficient water to admit vessels of ordinary tonnage, were it not for the sand obstructions on the bar, which could be greatly improved by the erection of a breakwater which would tend to cause the heavy receding waters of the Winter River and Bedford Bay to run in a direct course instead of the zig-zag direction they now take. It is to be hoped that the inhabitants of these sections, irrespective of party feeling, will, ere long, unite their efforts in securing from the Dominion Government a liberal grant for the above-named object.

Mr. J. W. McDonald, a popular young merchant here, is building a fine dwelling and store, which, when completed, will be an ornament to Grand Tracadie Cross. Mr. McDonald shipped quantities of codfish and mackerel to the Boston market this season.

The Grand Tracadie School, so ably conducted by a Miss McInnis, is now taught by Mr. Terrence Campbell, of Mill Cove. He is a popular young man and a second class teacher.
