Joubert Once More Reported Dead—The Critics are at it Again—The March from Bloemfontein—When Lord Roberts Marches Northward General Gatacre will be left in Charge of Bloemfontein—Heavy Floods Reported—The Terrible Sails for China.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE EXAMINER.

THE LATEST REPORT.

LORENZO MARQUES, March 28.—General Joubert is dead.

ANOTHER BIG WAR CLOUD.

LONDON, March 28.—The Standard gives double-leaded prominence to the following despatch from Odessa: "There can no longer be any doubt as to the object of the warlike preparations now being completed in South Russia. Nearly 250,000 troops have already been mobilized for active service.

The Black Sea squadron, with transports, is held in instant readiness.

The tension in the relations between St. Petersburg and the Sublime Porte becomes every day more acute. The position is looked upon with the greatest apprehension. If the Ottoman Government, supported by Germany, should prove stubbornly intractable, with regard to Russia's concession of any demands in Asia Minor, serious complications must inevitably ensue.

The Russian garrisons in the Caucasus and along the Armenian frontier have been increased four-fold and equipped for active service.

THE LONDON CRITIC.

LONDON, March 28.—The Boers are having a little good luck and are showing some boldness again, as a railway party estimated at 400, is believed by the British forces at Warrenton to have crossed the Kimberley-Bloemfontein road on Monday and to have headed for Jacobsdal with the intention of cutting the railway ten miles west.

Commandant Olivier appears to have gotten his 5,000 men and twenty five miles of waggons into a rugged country where he can make an easy rear guard defense.

Charles Williams, military expert, says: "If this column gets through substantially, Commandant Olivier will have carried out a great feat of the war, seeing that he ran every chance of being ground between the upper millstone of Lord Roberts' army and the lower millstone of the broken Basuto frontier.

He will have come within 50 miles or 30 of Lord Roberts' main strength.

Certainly it looked for a week as though Lord Roberts held Olivier in the hollow of his hand. If Olivier gets through to Kroonstadt with even 3000 men it will be an important addition to the Boers gathering there. His escape is attributed in part to the worn-out condition of British cavalry horses.

Lord Roberts' transport appears to have been badly dislocated by its loss at Riet river before Cronje's surrender of the wagon train, and in addition to these the army with which he purposes to advance towards Pretoria is nearly double that of his early rapid movement.

Ten thousand transports, cavalry and gun animals are due to arrive at Cape Town during this and next week.

It is given out at Cape Town that Lord

Robert's advance may be delayed for months, although such statements should be accepted with reserve.

It seems positive that he intends to go to Capetown to meet lady Roberts who is due to arrive there in ten days.

The War Office has issued another table of British losses showing the aggregate of 13,652—which does not include 4004 who have been invalided home.

SOME COMMENTS.

LONDON, March 28.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle, from Kimberley, dated Monday, says: "Four hundred Free Staters have taken possession of the road between Kimberley and Paardberg. They have seized a farm near Pandersfontein, where a number of army horses had been sent to rest and to graze.

It is rumored that their object is to raid the railway by way of Jacobsdale.

The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily News telegraphing on Tuesday, March 27, says: "It is improbable that the march from Bloemfontein will be made for another month. General Clements is advancing to Bloemfontein in four columns. When Lord Roberts begins to march northward, General Gatacre will be left in charge of Bloemfontein.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail from Lorenzo Marques, telegraphing on Sunday, says: "The Transvaal War Office announces that the Southern commandoes from Colesberg and Stromberg will join the main body within forty-eight hours.

Some apprehension exists that Commandant Olivier and Commandant Grobel Maar may be cut off.

FLOODS IN THE NORTH.

CARNARVON, March 28.—It is reported that a British column has been unable to advance from Vanwyksule, owing to the floods which have been without precedent for decades.

The roads are quite impassable.

It is also reported that the rebels are still gathered at Roxburg, waiting for the British to go further north, so that they may raid Carnarvon.

Colonel Harcher, of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, is proceeding to Cape Town on sick leave.

ON THE WAVE.

DURBAN, March 28.—The British cruiser Terrible has sailed for China.
