"SHE NODDIT TO ME."

The following poem, which recently appeared in the Bon Accord, a weekly comic journal published in Aberdeen, attracted the notice of the Queen, and Her Majesty wrote expressing a desire to be furnished with the name of the author:

I'm but an auld body Livin' up in Deeside, In a twa room'd bit hoosie Wi' a toofa' beside, Wi' my coo and my grumpy I'm as happy's a bee, But I'm far proodier noo Since she noddit to me!

I'm nae sae far past wi'— I'm gie' trig and hail, Can plant twa-three tawties, An' look after my kail; And when our Queen passes I'm ott to see, Gin by luck she micht notice And nod oot to me!

But I've aye been uncluey, And the blinds were aye door, Till last week the time O' her vesit cam' roon', I waved my bit apron As brisk's I could dae, An' the Queen lauch'd fu' kindly An' noddit to me!

My son sleeps in Egypt— It's nae case to fret— An' yet when I think o't I'm sair like to greet. She may feel for my sorrow— She's a mither, ye see— An' maybe she kent o't When she noddit to me!

LIFE'S MYSTERY.

We live, and love, and die; And if we question why The weal, the woe, And to what end, a sigh Bears Nature's sole reply; We live, and love, and die, Ere we may know.

AN ELECTOR OF CHARLOTTETOWN AND ROYALTY.

Sir,—An elector of Charlottetown and Royalty thinks that a Fourth District elector is mistaken in his views; but I tell him that he would be sadly mistaken in his present opinion, for let me tell him that we got James R. McLean representing us, and never for the term of four years has there been so little expended on our public roads, and not for scores of years have the roads in our district been in such a disgraceful state. Roads that have been open for sixty years, and where there is a low place that had to be filled with brush and clay, and had been kept ever since in fair repair, we find that not a load of clay was put there for the last four years. All the clay is wasted or worn away, and now carriages thump over stumps and roots in a shocking way. We got bridges of which before the last election the railings had to be propped up with rails, and I am informed that fifty cents apiece was paid for them as boogie, and that after this election it was to receive a new rail and the bridge repaired. But today there is not a rail on the bridge, and a man nearly lost his life last fall by this neglect. It is kept on hand, Sir, for another boogie before the election. There are other bridges for years now without a railing, and when the cross ties in them get higher than the clay, there is a piece cut out of the middle so that carriages can pass by. So this is the way we are having our roads kept in repair. Milk carriers, peddlars, truckmen from the lobster factories, postmen and the travelling public all declare that they never saw the roads in such a state, and make no secret in condemning them. True there was a good deal of money spent in this district four years ago. But how was it expended? In opening out new roads and also private roads, in some instances seventy or eighty chains being opened for a few private persons and twelve dollars a chain given for the land; to-day it is not opened to the public, neither is it fenced, and I am informed that a road over half a mile long was opened on the north side almost for private use, and then the fencing of it was let by tender and had to be paid out of the treasury, so that it can be seen that our public roads do not have the money expended on them, but is spent for electing our members. Our roads are harrowed up in such a manner by the road machine that it is a danger to travel after night without people being in danger of their lives. If you want new roads opened out for booding purposes you would do well to invite some of those gentlemen to represent you.

Rev. Martin Monaghan leaves Rome this week for home, having completed his studies' which have extended over a period of seven years in the Eternal City. Before embarking for this Continent he will make a tour of Great Britain and Ireland, and see for himself many of the historic centres and picturesque landscapes which have remained so green in the memory of the pioneers of this Province. Father Monaghan is one of the ripest scholars this Island has produced.

—Watchman. Master Frank Macdonald, of this city, is home from the Halifax School for the Blind for his holidays. Frank, who is a general favorite at the school, is making rapid progress in his musical and other studies. Mr. William Farrell, of Sturgeon who has completed his musical course, Masters Vernon Jones, of Pownal, Roy McGregor, of Lot 48, and George McPherson and Arthur Rice, of this city, also returned. The boys speak loudly in praise of this noble institution, of Principal Fraser and his estimable wife, and their staff of kind and efficient assistants.

POWNAI SCHOOL.

The semi-annual examination of the Pownal School took place on Thursday, the 13th inst. The junior department was the first visited. The room was tastefully decorated with flowers, etc. by the teacher, Miss Finlayson, and the children. The examination occupied all the forenoon, and was conducted by the principal, Mr. Jones, and the trustees. The reading and spelling was excellent for such small children and the simultaneous reading was perfect. They were well up in geography, showed a good knowledge of the rudiments of grammar and were quick at mental arithmetic and working sums. The pupils acquitted themselves admirably and reflected great credit on their teacher. Highly complimentary speeches were made by Mr. Albert Gay and the trustees, special reference being made to the perfect order maintained, all agreeing that this was the best examination held for some years at least. Miss Finlayson is engaged for another term.

In the afternoon the senior department was examined. Here as in the junior, the air was redolent with the perfume of flowers, and the smiling faces that greeted us showed the pleasant relations existing between teacher and pupils. The examination which was most thorough was conducted by Miss Finlayson, the Trustees, the Principal, and Mr. Robert Jones, student of the Prince of Wales College. The reading of the different classes showed very careful training and we venture the assertion that better readers cannot be found in any school on the Island. Equal proficiency was shown in all the different branches, and it was pleasing to hear the ready answers to the rapid and almost bewildering questions. The many young teacher's heart must have bounded with joy as he listened to the unstinted and justly earned praise of himself and pupils by the Trustees, Mr. Albert Gay and others. Mr. Jones replied in a few eloquent and feeling words, urging the pupils to greater diligence, if possible, so that at the next examination they would merit a greater meed of praise than they had received today. Thus ended a most enjoyable and highly successful examination. Mr. Jones has been engaged for another term.

SUCCESS AT MCGILL.—The results of the medical examinations at McGill University, published in the Star, show that Mr. Geoffrey Bayfield, of this city, passed in all the subjects of the third year, and obtained honors in medicine.

Mr. W. O. Rose, of East Point, passed in all the subjects of the same year, and obtained honors in Materia Medica, Medical Jurisprudence, Pathology, Medicine and Clinical Chemistry, as well as in the aggregate of third year subjects.

Mr. Fred L. Haszard passed in all subjects of the first year.

There may be other successful students from this Province, but we do not recognize their names. We heartily congratulate Messrs. Bayfield, Rose and Haszard upon the success of their college careers.

A CLOSE CALL.—The Summerside correspondent of the Guardian writes: An accident that barely escaped fatal consequences occurred here Saturday afternoon. The parties consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. William Tarton, Mrs. Theodore Pickering and Miss Ross, of Stanley Bridge and Mrs. Stevenson and child, of Fredericton, left Linkletter Road in sail boat for Summerside and when turning off Queen's Wharf the boat jibed and upset, throwing all the occupants into the water. They managed to cling to the boat until two boats came to their assistance from the shore and rescued them. Mrs. Stevenson, who is an invalid, was almost exhausted and with her child in her arms had dropped off from the boat and both would doubtless have perished had not help arrived just when it did. They were taken to Mr. Albert Gau's hotel where Dr. Covey rendered such medical aid as was necessary, and in a few hours they were sufficiently recovered to return to their homes.
