

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 2, 1882.

Canada's Export Trade.

ONE by one, each hope of the Brit politicians vanishes, and each prediction is falsified. In the early days of the National Policy they revelled in the thought that Canada's import trade would be ruined, that the revenue would sink, that the exports would fall off, that all prosperity would gradually die out, and that Canada was entering upon a dark winter of discontent which could only be dispelled by the re-appearance of the glorious sun of Blake.

During the year, ending the 30th June, last, the exports of the country were, in fact, the largest on record. According to the official statements published in the Canada Gazette, the exports of the Dominion (exclusive of those of British Columbia, and exclusive of coin and bullion) were:—

Table with 2 columns: 1880-81, 1881-82. Rows: Produce of Canada, Not produce of Canada.

Total $95,040,743 $94,558,289. Classified under their various headings the exports of the two years (apart from those of British Columbia) were as follows:—

Table with 2 columns: 1880-81, 1881-82. Rows: Produce of the mines, Produce of fisheries, Produce of forest, Animals & products, Agricultural products, Manufactures.

By this comparison, it appears that while there has been a considerable falling off in the export of animals and of produce of the forest, there has been, on the other hand, an increase, amounting to $2,318,000, in the value of exports of manufactures, and an increase amounting to about $10,000,000 in the value of exports of agricultural products.

So that while we are beginning to reap the profits of our extending manufactures, the farmers of Canada have been enabled—under the National Policy—to assist, to an unprecedented extent, in supplying the foreign demand for agricultural produce.

Post Office Wanted.

THE people of Clinton, New London, want a post office. They claim that by establishing one at or in the vicinity of the cross roads, where there are mills, a forge, a schoolhouse, etc., to which they daily resort, about forty families will receive a substantial and greatly needed advantage from the Government.

Thorn Hedges.

THE beauty of this "Gem of the Northern Seas" would be greatly enhanced by the cultivation of hawthorn hedges; and now that materials for fencing are scarce, and getting scarcer every year, it would pay our farmers well to grow them.

Though our climate may not suit the thorn quite so well as that of Great Britain, it thrives well here. There are several hedges about this city, and some in Little York, while Mr. Trowsdale of Crapaud, has a particularly fine one.

Why Not?

St. JOHN, N. B., is pushing its Oratorio Society, and expects great things from it. Why cannot Charlotte-town have a similar society? Our town commands a creditable wealth of musical talent; but never yet has it exerted itself to rise above its petty jealousies, and to work harmoniously.

The New Comet.

TERRIBLE ANTICIPATIONS.

The new Comet is a pretty lively affair. On the 17th, it whirled round the sun in 2 hours, and kept up its speed at the rate of 350 miles a second. A telescope brings it to view during the hours of the day, and an early riser can see it without such aid.

A startling proposition has been advanced by Prof. Boss, of Albany Observatory, regarding this object. Like the great comet of 1843 and of 1880, this comet actually passed through the solar atmosphere, approaching within the short distance of one hundred thousand miles of the solar surface.

The possibility of this catastrophe is certainly great, for at times the sun shoots out portions of its atmosphere to a distance of hundreds of thousands of miles, and, apart from all other causes, that alone might operate in precipitating the comet into the sun.

Prof. Boss has something to say on the subject. He tells that comets are dreadful things, and must be terrible disturbers of nature. If the cometary catastrophe should take place in winter, the boiling heat of the hottest July would prevail in our climate, and vegetation would shoot out with astonishing vigour.

Meeting of Presbytery.

At a pro re nata meeting of the Presbytery of P. E. Island, held on 28th inst., Mr. A. B. McLeod accepted a call from the congregation of West Cape, Campbellton and Brae.

In accepting the call to West Cape, in preference to that from Cardigan and Dundas, or from Woodville and Little Sands, Mr. McLeod stated that he was guided principally by regard to his health, which had for some time been delicate.

JOHN M. McLEOD, Presbytery Clerk.

Dillon's Retirement.

A recent dispatch from Dublin to the Times says:—"It is reasonable to surmise that the programme for a new agitation is not approved by Mr. Dillon, and that although he has hitherto given way he is indisposed to do so now, feeling that the limit of compromise is past and that the line of demarcation between his policy and of his colleagues is now so strongly marked that he cannot consistently with his sense of honor pursue a course which is the more probable because Mr. Dillon has publicly declared his dissatisfaction of what he calls 'milk and water' policy which, it is understood, a majority of the leaders are inclined to recommend at the approaching conference."

MR. J. A. ROWE, Foreman Machinist Esdale Foundry has returned from a visit to some of the foundries of the other provinces. We understand he intended visiting the Kingston Exhibition. A word or two from him how the "hum" is in those places would be in order.

A NEW YORK paper says:—"Not only can Brooklyn claim the greater number of churches and more church-going people than any other city in the United States, but it can also lay claim to a large number of charitable persons. These people who take pleasure in this noble object are not, as many suppose, the wealthier class, but are, in the majority of cases, those whose means are limited. What more noble act can one lay claim to than the dispensing of charity? We answer the question by saying:—"There is none more grand, more noble." Among these there is one we must not fail to mention, Miss Mary Conway, who, some three months ago, was a stranger to us. Ever ready to visit the needy and dispense with unstinted hand, she has earned the love of all who know her.

Some time ago she visited Charlottetown, P. E. I., the scene of her childhood, to see those with whom she had passed many happy days, and who, it is needless to say, were glad to see her. Since her return to Brooklyn she has devoted to charitable purposes some $500. It is hardly necessary to say that her friends, both in Charlottetown and Brooklyn, will be pleased to learn this, and we are certain all wish her a bright future, void of all trouble and sorrow."

A CORRESPONDENT, signing himself "A Pleasure Seeker," sends the following: "On the afternoon of Saturday last, quite a number of the students of the Prince of Wales College, and some other young folks of both sexes belonging to our city, engaged a suitable sailboat from the very obliging Mr. Phillips, for the purpose of going on an excursion to the magnificent Lunatic Asylum, and to recruit from the fatigue sustained by excessive study of the past week. The day being pleasant and breeze delightful, the boat was swiftly wafted along, bearing one of the most beautiful and happiest cargoes that could possibly be selected. The excursionists spent the pleasant hours in amusing conversation, interspersed with occasional singing, rendered more harmonious by the fairer sex, whose vocal capacity in that line was much esteemed. The stay at the great building was not long owing to the rapid approach of the night only giving time to view its massive walls and handsome walks, when we again spread sail before the gentle breeze which triumphantly, yet pleasantly, bore us back to the place from which we had started; while the effects of the sail gave every countenance the expression of satisfaction, with determination to prosecute the studies of the coming week with greater efficacy. The happy company separated, hoping ere long to partake of an afternoon's pleasure of a similar nature."

Exhibition Notes.

Ample space is also provided for the hand made cloths, and other domestic goods.

In a word no effort is being spared to make the P. E. Island Exhibition, 1882, a grand success.

Carpenters are at work enlarging stalls for animals in Sections 1, 5, 9 and 12 of class one in Prize List. A large number of entries in those sections is anticipated. The sound of the hammer is heard in the Drill Shed fitting up the stands for grain, roots, vegetables. Also a concrete table seventy-five feet long for the grand exhibit from the Woolen Factories, which this year will eclipse all previous efforts. These annual preparations forces upon every intelligent man and woman in the Province, the absolute necessity for an Exhibition Building.

Seymour Decorated.

Review of British Troops.

Special Dispatch to the Examiner.

CAIRO, Oct. 1.

The Khedive has decorated Admiral Seymour with the Osmanic Order in recognition of his services during the Egyptian campaign, and for the important part he took in restoring the authority of the Khedive.

A grand review of British troops was held at Cairo yesterday. The affair passed off in splendid order. The strength of the force and the exhibition of the military manoeuvres made a great impression upon the natives.

The Courts-martial on the rebel leaders and all implicated in the late revolt, commenced yesterday.

[On the 27th September, the Ministers agreed on three decrees relating to the trials, which the Khedive intended to sign. The first institutes a special commission for the prosecution of all acts of rebellion committed by the military or civilians. The commission will consist of nine members, under the presidency of Ismail Bey. The second orders that a court-martial, with eight members, Reouf Pasha presiding shall be held at Cairo, and it shall give judgment according to the military code, without appeal, in all cases submitted by the above-named commission. The third directs the assembling in Alexandria of another court martial to try all cases submitted by tribunals recently appointed in Alexandria and Tantah. The proceedings of both courts-martial will be public, and the accused will be permitted to employ counsel.]

Dwyer Gray Released.

Special to the Examiner.

DUBLIN, Oct. 1.

Mr. E. Dwyer Gray, High Sheriff of Dublin and proprietor of an Irish newspaper has been released from custody by the order of Judge Lawson, and on the payment of £500 fine.

[In the Dublin Commission Court on Wednesday, August 16th last, Justice Lawson sentenced Mr. E. Dwyer Gray, M. P., High Sheriff of Dublin and proprietor of the Freeman's Journal, to imprisonment for three months for publishing articles in his paper commenting upon recent trial of Hynes for murder. The principal article was based on a letter of Mr. O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, which insinuated that the jury were under the influence of drink on the night previous to the conviction of Hynes. Other articles charged the representatives of the Crown with setting aside Catholic jurors in order to pack the juries with Protestants. Mr. Gray was also ordered to pay a fine of £500, and at the expiration of his imprisonment to find bail himself in £5,000 and two sureties in £2,500 each, or in default an additional three months imprisonment. Judge Lawson warned other papers of the consequence of commenting on future trials.]
