DISTRESS IN TASCANY.—Accounts from Tascany represent a fearful state of increasing distress, caused partly by bad harvests, partly by cholera, and partly by misgovernment. Already thousands of the Florentine and his neighbor were seeking refuge in crime from impending starvation, and the other day a Mr. Corrie, an Englishman, was found murdered in his bed, in Florence, by persons who had explicitly done so for the sake of plunder. It would be utterly just to impute to aggravated misdeeds the people of Tascany now suffer to an alone of the cases mentioned. A succession of bad harvests has done severe injury to the agriculturist; the cholera has deprived many families of their main support for it has been peculiarly destructive to men in Florence this year; the government has destroyed confidence, and consequently crippled trade during the last seven years, and all these causes combined are likely to produce a winter of unparalleled suffering in Tascany.

STUNNED ON HARKING MARK.—Some twenty-five years since, the capture of this valuable fish was prosecuted very successfully from Luis Boffin and the vicinity of Westport, at which town, as well as Newry, there were works erected for frying out the oil. About that date, as much as five pipes of oil of 120 gallons were received by one Dublin house at about per season. It has much decreased of late years, which is attributable rather to the decline of the means of pursuit than to the absence of the fish, as it is seen every year in large numbers on the distant banks, and occasionally close to the shore, in packs of twenty-five or thirty, in very fine weather. There were four taken at Galway this year, but they were small in the vicinity of the Aran Islands. The average size is about 35 lbs. long, but in circumference in the largest part, the shape resembling a large cod. The liver has hitherto been considered the only valuable part, averaging thirty hundred weight, and containing about 180 gallons of oil oil, second only to sperm, and selling from 1s. to 2s. per gallon. The carcass, which may be estimated at from four to five tons, is of a gelatinous character, consequently of great value it is now thrown away or made. Neither skill nor courage is required in the capture; it being of a sluggish nature and literally presenting its most vulnerable part to the harpoon.—Synon's Observations on the Fishes of the West Coast of Ireland.

SUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT.—It is supposed that with the exception of the Bible, the lexiconic works of Noah Webster have the largest circulation of any books in the English language.
Nearly twelve hundred thousand copies of his "Spelling Book" were sold by the firm in New York last year, and it is estimated that more than ten times as many are sold of Webster's Dictionary as of any other article in this country. Few articles are the school books published in the United States are sold to own Webster, as their standard. The State of New York has placed 10,000 copies of Webster's "Unabridged Dictionary" in as many of her public schools, Massachusetts has, in like manner, supplied 3218 of her schools; and Wisconsin and New Jersey all their schools.

JEWISH SCHOOL.—An important movement, according to the London Morning Herald, is in progress amongst the most influential of the English Jews for the establishment of a college for the education of members of the ancient faith in London. With a view of obtaining degrees in the London University, attendance on the classrooms of the Hebrew School will be part of the scheme. Hebrew and theology are to be placed under the direction of the Chief Rabbi.
A school is to be established in connection with a large quantity, it is to be had (wholesale and retail) from some local agent. It will be an advantageous person for to treat the expense of vending, I think I could make it to your advantage to do so.

WOMEN'S RIGHTS.—A wedding lately came off at Memphis, Tennessee, where was the ninth occasion on which the bride had been made nappy by matrimony.

A child upwards of 4 years of age, came to his death at Memphis, Tennessee, who was being shot through the head with a loaded musket, with which he and an older boy were playing. Another caution to parents and guardians.

RUSSIAN AGRICULTURE.—Measures of great severity have just been ordered by the Czar against those who continue to reside abroad.
In Livonia, the estates of several noblemen who reside abroad have been placed under guardianship, although their term of permission has not expired. According to a communication lately made to the authorities, the Emperor is determined to put an end to the mania of absentment on the part of the Russian nobles.
In case of any landowner remaining abroad without leave, the tribunal will manage the estate, and order an account of the revenues to the owners for one year, at the expiration of which term, the estates, if the owners still remain abroad, will be confiscated, unless particular circumstances can be brought forward to justify a longer delay being granted.

The Great American Hair Tonic.

Boyle's celebrated Hyperion Tonic for the growth and preservation of the Hair is well known to be without a rival on this continent. Hundreds of imitations have started up, but the only genuine one since the introduction of this unrivalled Hair restorative, and their doom been sealed, whilst Boyle's Hyperion has gained a popularity never attained by any other article, goes on "conquering and to conquer." There is no invader, which can affect the Hair, that can be cured by the incomparable preparation. To ladies it is invaluable; and on children's heads it lays the foundation of a good head of Hair. It is now published by the Great American Dispensary, Boston, and commands an extensive sale throughout Europe.
Boyle's Electric Hair Dye converts red or grey hair into the natural color of the hair, and is applied, liberally drying the Hair soft and glossy without the skin and leaves the Hair soft & glossy without any other hair dyes.

Boyle's Anapole Shaving compound renders that usually unpleasant operation (shaving) a decided luxury.

Boyle's Hebeonion removes freckles and tan from the face in the shortest possible time, and is acknowledged to be the very best article for beautifying the complexion.
