MR. AND MRS. IRA HILLSON CARR

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Young Couple

On April 18th., 1959, at 12 noon, at Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, Rev. A.F. MacLean united in marriage in a double ring ceremony, Mary Elizabeth Agnethe Jorgensen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Jorgensen, of Malpeque and Ira Hillson Car son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Carr, Kent St., Charlottetown.

The lovely young bride wore a fitted suit, of sapphire blue, with white and black accessories. Her corsage was red roses. She carried a white Bible, a gift of the groom.

The bride's attendant was Miss Mary Woodside, of Summerside, who wore a beige suit, with beige and brown accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses.

The groom was ably supported by his brother, Mr. Wendell Carr, of Charlottetown. The wedding was attended by immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

For the occasion the bride's mother chose a sheath dress of pale blue floral terylene, with pink accessories and a corsage of rose carnations. The groom's mother wore a navy blue dress and duster, with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Adding greatly to the happiness of the occasion, was the fact that the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon MacGougan, Malpeque, attended the wedding.

A reception was held at the home of the groom.

Following the reception, the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to the New England States.

IDA BAILEY ALLEN

Dinner In 45 Minutes A Boon To Working Wife

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

The glamorous Continental Restaurant in Paramus, N.J., was abloom with beautiful flower arrangements as 12 New Jersey food editors assembled for a party and conference. They had volunteered to tell me what food problems and questions the readers of their respective newspapers asked most often.

These inquiries proved both interesting and provocative. I am planning to answer a number of them, from time to time, in this column.

Food editor Helen Gelbreath asked, "How can a homemaker with a full-time outside job make quick and interesting dinners for a family of five?"

CAN BE DONE

On first thought, it may seem impossible. But it can be done. Here's how:

Rearrange the kitchen for efficient work.

Appoint a member of the family to help—even a nine-year-old is not too young.

Plan to have dinner ready in 45 minutes.

Choose a main course partly prepared in advance and refrigerated or frozen. Or select one that can be quickly broiled, skillet-prepared or fast-cooked in a pressure-cooker (a method that should be practiced by every double-job homemaker).

Add a first course of fruit, juice or soup. Round out the main course with a tossed salad in place of a second vegetable. Make a dessert of fruit compote, baked apples or pears, or something from the oven that can finish baking while the other foods are being enjoyed.

TORMORROW'S DINNER

Mushroom Soup or Tossed Salad
Baked Pork Chops Sesame
Sweet Potatoes
Apple Slices Saute
New Cabbage
Deep-Dish Tutti-Frutti Pie
Coffee Tea Milk

To save time in preparing this dinner, use canned mushroom soup and prepared salad greens. Open a jar of vacuum - packed sweet potatoes or use pre-cooked potatoes. Use canned fruit cocktail or fruit compote for the deep-dish pie filling. Make the pie crust with pastry mix.

Measurements are level.

Baked pork chops with sweet potatoes: Trim excess fat from 6 good-sized pork chops. Rub chops with ½ tsp. each powdered sage or oregano, 1 tsp. salt and ¼ tsp. pepper. Brush with vegetable oil; cover with 1-3 c. each fine dry bread crumbs and sesame seeds, mixed.

Place in well - oiled pan. Surround with halved cooked or canned Jersey sweet potatoes. Cover with foil.

Bake 25 min. in mod. oven, 350 degrees F. Turn; bake uncovered 20 min., or until well-browned.

Note: Pressure - cooking will save min. time.

Apple slices saute: Core, peel and slice 3 tart apples into rings ½" thick.

Spread with 1 tbsp. sugar and ½ tbsp. butter or margarine creamed together.

Place in buttered pan. Add ¼" hot water. Bake 30 min. in mod. oven, 350 degrees F.

TRICK OF THE CHEF

Make a sauce for new cabbage by mixing 2 tbsp. melted butter or margarine, 1 tbsp. sweet pickle vinegar and ½ tsp. horseradish.

STYLISH FOR TODDLERS

BY ALICE ALDEN

NO, this isn't high fashion for little daughter but it is an appealing and practical outfit—a bib-top coverall. High-light of this toddler-toggery is the trim, which carries delicate petit point embroidery on the pockets in a Dutch girl and windmill motif. The poplin coverall has a white blouse with white piping. Elastic at the waist insures neat fit. The low price is a treat, too. For mothers and for doting aunts and grandmas.

HOWLAN

Friends of Thomas Arsenault, of Duvar, regret to hear of his accident in O'Leary, on Tuesday. He was rushed to community hospital in an unconscious condition.

Some people from Howlan attended the play entitled "The Charming Intruder," in O'Leary, Monday night.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat . . . actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat . . . unblocks it . . . for easier and more complete digestion.

Carter's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carter's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carter's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat. Only 43¢.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Your Looks Will Do! Remember, "Handsome Is.."

One may hear the birds singing into the dusk these days. Or in the business of cramming the day to brim with worw done, do we not notice this enchantment? We like to listen. The wonder and freshness of spring vanishes so soon.

At first waking, in that perfect moment of day before rising we hear them. Not for long however, because farm-folks must now be up betimes with the days of the cropping drawing near.

We listen... There is Papa Starling-reputation questionable and yet, we smile, not a bad fellow in many ways and most ingratiating when we chat... And that shadow which flits by the small eastern window? It is the song-sparrow that presently expresses its joie de vivre, its happiness at just being alive, as it sings in the sunshine of the creeper which clings to the old but sturdy shingles without.

And coming up from the direction of the dam where fine spruces barter with those winds which invade the low of the valley are the lazy calls of the crows. How good to hear the Spring-sounds in the morning-quiet.

Should we enjoy them just a minute more? But there is a fire to kindle, a breakfast-kettle to boil. Have we, we wonder, the makings of a good meal on hand: Because as we know, a household should not be sent out to face its day without adequate food...and cheer.

In today's sunlight the grass greened. And we recalled the wonder in Granddaughter's eyes when as a small one, she brought us in a tiny palm first green blades one spring in a gift.

She is a young miss now, looking to enter her teens, when comes the cherry-blossom time. Due to take her Grade eight exams, as it will happen on the anniversay of her birth...

We notice her playhouse in the orchard has not yet had its annual spring-cleaning. The curtains hang off-white and bedraggled. And she, we are afraid, is moving from that young land of make-believe on to adult affairs.

We notice definite signs of it. Once when a morning-wind down the fields blew searachingly, penetrating bone and flesh, and folks were preparing for school.

"Not stockings today, Mother! It's not that cold!"

"Yes" quietly" stockings—and a sweater and slacks."

"Oh Mo-ther!" in a disgusted tone. Or was it pitying? For to near-teens and indeed older, no matter how well loved a mother is, there are those occasions when they appear to be completely dumb.

And we smiled, similar sentiments on our part echoing clearly down across the years from the time when the growing pains of girlish fads and fancies began to stir in this heart.

"You don't expect me to wear that old dress, do you? It makes me look like. . " to mother-of-ours.

Never mind what it makes you look like. Be glad you have it. There's many another school-child hasn't one half as good. It's warm and.."

"Yes" with a scowl almost tearful "but it makes me look aw-ful just aaw-ful!"

"I guess your looks will do! Handsome is as handsome does, remember? Get into it now and be off! The bell is ringing, I believe."

How dear they are, and winsome in their bright-eyed freshness, no matter the garb, these little daughters who commence now to leave their childhood behind as they become more concerned with the girlish fads and modes in their own young world.

Until tomorrow — Diary — good night. . . . .

Today's Treat

HOT LOBSTER WITH SAUCE

1 tbsp. butter
2 tbsps. flour
1 cup fish stock or milk, (heated)
½ cup of lobster meat
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 egg yolk

Melt the butter and stir in flour, cook with stirring until foamy, then very gradually add the hot stock or milk, stirring constantly. Add seasonings and lobster meat and heat thoroughly. Beat egg yolk with a little of the hot sauce, then combine carefully with remaining sauce. Keep warm, but not too hot after egg has been added.
