THE EASTERN TRUST

154 Richmond St., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

National Liberal leader Lester Pearson said in Charlottetown last night that he would be unwilling to see the provinces become members of the nuclear arms race.

Mr. Pearson said in a television program, "Pearson Meets the Press" during which he was questioned by such prominent newsmen, Burton Lewis, executive editor of The Guardian and at the time of that program, the Walker, editor of The Guardian.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM
Pointing out that the national leader of the New Democratic Party had suggested an Atlantic Provinces program to cope with unemployment, Calvin Lewis asked Mr. Pearson if he was any such program in mind.

"I was talked about in our 1958 election campaign, and we are still anxious to put forward a program of that kind for areas not sharing the general development program of the province."

REGRETS NECESSITY
Mr. Pearson said that his view is that it is regrettable that the government's attitude on nuclear weapons is not as clear as it should be.

LIVESTOCK ASSISTANCE
C.C. Baker asked the minister of agriculture:

(1) Has the department of agriculture received any financial assistance to any board association, farm organization, group or individuals in the purchase of transportation to this province of any purebred cattle, swine or sheep since April 1, 1961?

(2) If the answer is "Yes": (a) Give full particulars, naming type, breed and sex of such animals and to whom such assistance was paid?

(b) Did the department of agriculture assist financially in the transportation of, or other expenses of, livestock, such as transportation to the Royal Winter Fair or any other exhibition in 1961? If so, give full particulars.

(1) Yes (a) Assistance on transportation to the extent of $100 per car, on breeding stock. (b) Adams four carloads. (c) Shorthorn-Herford-100 females. (d) 10 males. (e) Thomas Jackson two carloads. (f) Aberdeen Angus-39 females. (g) 21 males. (h) One male. (i) Fred and Frank Coffin one carload. (j) 39 females. (k) Shorthorn breeders of Ontario three carloads. (l) Shorthorn-49 females.
