

ANNOUNCEMENT

After ten years of faithful Chiropractic Service to the public of this City and County, I am pleased to announce that I have added to my equipment a wonderful production of modern science—the NEUROCALOMETER. This instrument accurately registers the difference between heat found at a pair of spinal nerves where pressure is located, thus enabling the adjuster to get better and quicker results. It is a product of the few yet in use in Canada.

ST. JAMES KIRK

Speaking to a large congregation yesterday morning in St. James Presbyterian Church the minister, Rev. R. Moorhead Legate, D. D., based his sermon on the text, "For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth, so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations." Isaiah LXI, verse 11.

Dr. Legate said that just as there are the physical seasons, so also are there the spiritual seasons. There may be times when we can discern no fruitfulness of our labors to bring others into the fold of God, times when we do not realize any immediate value from our worship and devotion before God, but the winter, the corresponding season to nature's season, may be taking place. The seed we sow is not ours but is God-given, the seed of the Gospel cannot fall. No effort in behalf of the Gospel is ever wasted, no parent's prayer is ever lost, no attempt to teach a child right from wrong is ever in vain. We must close the door on the spiritual winter and open our hearts to the spiritual springtime, which is brought about by turning our souls toward the light of God.

The choir gave a rendition of "The Lost Chord"—Sullivan, as an offertory anthem.

A special Mothers' Day service was observed in the afternoon by the Sabbath School. Rev. Dr. Legate delivered an appropriate address to the school and the Misses Belcher, Andrews, and MacIntyre sang a beautiful trio selection.

The evening sermon was preached from Proverbs III, verse 6, "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy path." Dr. Legate drew attention to the fact that for every command in Scripture there is always a corresponding promise. This text is of two divisions, Duty and Promise. To acknowledge God is not merely to believe in Him, but means to recognize Him as our Father and the bestower of every good thing.

We are to constantly recognize God as we go through life. This is the duty which we can do. God does not require this of us as a tribute, but rather as a service due Him. He is not enriched by our recognition of Him, neither is He impoverished by our refusal or neglect to do so. None are too poor, none too humble, none too ignorant to acknowledge Him, to realize His presence everywhere and always.

Those of us who strive to keep this commandment are assured that God will keep His promise, to direct our paths.

The anthem "If Ye Love Me, Keep My Commandments"—Simpe, was rendered by the choir.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The beautiful flowers on the pulpit platform were presented in loving memory of devoted members who have entered into rest. "Mothers Day" was suitably observed in the exercises and worship of this church yesterday. At the morning service a number of children were presented for Baptism and again in the afternoon several more received that right. In all there were 15 Baptisms. The choir consisted of 45 members of the C. G. T., and their singing under the direction of Professor Kendall was appreciated. A number in the congregation wore the red or white flower emblematic of the Day and as a token of love and respect for Mother.

Rev. J. W. Barbour had charge of the opening ceremonies and of the junior congregation. Rev. Hugh Miller preached the sermon from John 2-1. "And the mother of Jesus was there." This was at the marriage in Cana of Galilee. She was always present with Jesus either in person or in spirit, thus showing her solicitude, her submissiveness and her sacrifice. She was present at the beginning of His ministry, she was present at the end. "What Mary was to Jesus, motherhood at its best is to the cause of Christ. Motherhood causes love and submission and sacrifice." Christianity has lifted woman from serfdom and humiliation to a place of equality.

At the evening service the subject of Rev. Mr. Miller's sermon was "Religion and knowledge." His text being Romans 10 verses 1 and 2. "Brethren my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is that they might be saved for I bear them record that they have a zeal for God but not according to knowledge." Mr. Miller dealt with what he termed these two acid tests, "my heart's desire" and prayer in reference to our zeal for promoting God's kingdom but how effective could these be unless we had the knowledge of what our Church is doing—of what is going on—The closing hymn was "Take My Life and Let It be Consecrated Lord to Thee."

The service of praise included the Anthem "Lead Kindly Light" and a selection by the male double quartette "My Mother's Prayer."

Rev. J. W. Barbour was supplying at Covehead last evening. The event this week is the "Benjie-Lloyd-Miller" recital on Thursday night.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The services at the Central Christian Church were conducted yesterday by Rev. Carlisle Waterworth of Summerside, who preached at both morning and evening services. The subject of his discourses at the morning service was "Mother," in keeping with Mothers' Day. Mr. Waterworth took as his text, John 2-1. "And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there." The speaker traced the great influence of Mothers in the world, stating the home was primarily the place of the Mothers of men, and the life of the nation was largely a result of the training received in the home, for which mothers are largely responsible. He referred to the beautiful life of Mary, the Mother of Jesus, and urged all mothers to emulate her.

At the evening service Mr. Waterworth's subject was, "Eternal Life" taking as his text Matthew 19-16. "And behold, one came, and said unto Him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?" He went on to show the difference between physical life and spiritual life and described the parable of the rich young ruler with his worldly possessions, the thing which stood between him and acceptance of Christ's demands, that he should sell all and give to the poor, for he had great possessions. He had lived a good moral life and had kept the commandments but that was not sufficient. There was one thing he lacked before he could inherit eternal life and that was to dispose of his worldly goods and then follow Jesus.

The music for the day was, in the morning an anthem, "Still, Still with Thee", the solo part being taken by Miss Nan MacKay, and at the evening service a solo, "My Mother's Prayers Will Follow Me", sung by Miss Bessie Campbell.

Mr. Waterworth referred to the fact that this being Mothers' Day, he had great pleasure in stating his own mother had arrived from Bangor, Michigan and was in the audience as was also his brother, who accompanied her here. She will remain in the province until August when her husband who is pastor at Bangor, Michigan will visit the Province and will dedicate the Christian Church at Murray River, the Church he was instrumental in establishing at Murray River while he was pastor at Montague.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

In common with all the churches Mothers' Day was observed at St. Paul's Church yesterday.

At the morning service the text of the sermon was Isa. 49:15, "Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? Yes, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee."

A new saint and a new saint's day found its way into the calendar of the saints and the addition is a worthy one because the name of mother is always second to none, the speaker, Rev. H. D. Raymond said. Mothers' Day is not appointed by the councils of the church nor by the church as a whole nor is it observed because long ago it was given to Mary to be the mother of the incarnate Lord though we recall the fact with grateful memory. The idea originated in the great nation to the south of us.

The prophet's use of the text is associated with almost limitless promise of forgiveness to the nation which had again and again broken away from its allegiance to God. He wanted to give them an illustration which they would understand and which would impress them with the reality of a promise, and having drawn the tender picture of motherhood he adds, "yea they may forget, yet will I not forget thee."

"Mothers' Day brings to our minds," the speaker said "the most tender, the most touching associations of home which is one of the dearest words on earth and its guiding influence is to be found in the gentle, frail and retiring motherhood."

Motherhood is associated with the fundamentals of human knowledge the first step the first lesson about God, and prayer and thanksgiving the first recounting of the story of Jesus comes from the mother.

"The love of God for mankind is the greatest love on earth and a mother's love for her children the speaker pointed out. St. Paul said that "I am persuaded that neither death or life nor angels nor principalities nor powers nor things to come nor height nor depth nor any other creature shall separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Mrs. F. M. Nash rendered very effectively an offertory solo.

The evening message was from the gospel story of the raising of the widow's son at Naim.

The music of the day was of the usual high order under the direction of the organist Mr. H. R. Shephard.

ZION CHURCH

There was a large congregation present at Zion Church yesterday morning to share in the Mothers' Day service. The church was prettily decorated with beautiful flowers placed there in memory of certain members and friends of the congregation who have been called to higher service. Those who were thus honored by their friends and relatives were the late Mrs. Hector MacLeod, Mrs. Annie Johnston, Mrs. F. J. Nash and Miss Sarah McPhee.

During the service five children were received in the sacred rite of Baptism, namely, Gordon Frederick Brown, Annie Bernice Fraser, Earl Hammond Jewell, Sandra Eleanor Watson and Roy Augustus Wilson.

A special feature of the service was the dedication of a club flag donated to the Scout Cubs by Mr. S. C. Moore and received on their behalf by Mrs. R. C. Parent, cubmaster.

The sermon theme was the honor which belongs to motherhood and was based on the text Exodus 20:12, "Honor thy mother."

The minister, Rev. G. C. Webster, said that apart from the love of God there was no love so great and no relationship so sweet as the love of mother for her children. Through
