

VICKERSON-DIGNAN

The principals in a pretty wedding at Trinity United Church on Monday May 28th were Leila Irene Dignan daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dignan, Charlotte-

WOMEN

Page 8, The Guardian Thurs., June 28, 1956

HAPPENINGS

One of the most charming and gracious personalities in the social life of Charlottetown was the late Mrs. A.A. Bartlett. But Mrs. Bartlett as well as travelling, entertaining and being entertained also gave her time to public causes. One act of hers for which she will always be revered was the founding of the Queen Mary Needlework Guild in Charlottetown. In this work she had the co-operation of her husband the late Major A.A. Bartlett, her daughter Mrs. A.B. Cosh, and the latter's husband, the late Mr. A.B. Cosh. These people who worked so hard for the Guild were an inspiration to others to serve well too. At this time of the year when the Queen Mary Needlework Guild is holding its annual display of work at Mrs. Cosh's residence, West Street, Mrs. A.A. Bartlett is especially remembered. To anyone who had the pleasure of seeing Mrs. Bartlett's slender fingers knitting, or moving like quicksilver at her needlework, it is a happy picture of artistry and the joy of service.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Tomorrow's The Picnic

There was a moaning in the wind today, a keening, weeded, for all the tragic losses, the bereavements and sorrows and disappointments of the world. So many there are. They come, it appears to test the inner resources and strengths of the intangible tenets of lives, to challenge that desired element that is courage to b-stige even faith itself. So the wind moaned today, along the new field, through the green loveliness of the boughs, and about the eaves to which these day-mall wings beat home. And we about the affairs of our house-keeping, sweeping a floor, making a cake against company's coming, heard its keen and hearing thought "on all these things"—the tribulations and concerns, the losses and crosses which beset humans' paths. And remembered too how on just such a mostly-beclouded day as this a similar wind from the Strait was wont to come in over the shore-field to find us where ever we might be—a little wondering girl like Granddaughter, with dark braids where hers are fair, driving the cows p the farm-lane from the pasture to the milking, waiting while with bovine decorum they turned aside on the way, to drink in the ripples of "the lower brook" before continuing along to the yard. And sometimes the wind, warm and scented but mournful, followed us to the orchard whence we had stolen with a book—in a low-slung leafy branch, there to be

COOK'S CORNER

NUT SMACKS
Cream 6 tablespoons butter, 1 cup sugar, 4 egg yolks. Add 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 6 tablespoons milk. Spread in large pan.
Topping
Beat 4 egg whites, and 3 cups sugar till stiff.
Add 1-2 cups chopped walnuts. Spread over cake mixture and bake till golden brown in 350 deg. oven. Cut in squares.

ANNE ADAMS PATTERNS

SUN-ENSEMBLE
Sizes up to 50—what a lovely way to keep cool, look smart all summer! The simple lines of this play suit, back wrap skirt are designed especially to flatter the larger figure. Skirt panels, soft bodice—so-o-o slimming!
Pattern 4802: Women's Sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50. Size 36 playsuit takes 2 5/8 yards 35-inch fabric; skirt, 3 3/8 yards.
This pattern easy to use, simple to sew, is tested for fit. Has complete illustrated instructions.
Send THIRTY-FIVE CENTS (35 cents) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Print plainly SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, STYLE NUMBER.
Send order to Anne Adams, care of Charlottetown Guardian, Pattern Dept., 60 Front Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

Wife Preservers
After a linen garment or article has been washed, rinsed and partially dried, it should be pressed with a hot iron directly through dry.

MARY HAWORTH

Divorcee Is Still Living In The Past

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Ann and I have been divorced for over a year, but I haven't got over it yet. We had known each other all our lives; and when I came home from the army in 1947, I "rediscovered" her. We were engaged within six months, and a year and a half later we married in a big church wedding. In time we had two beautiful children, and four years ago we moved into our own home. Our marriage seemed to be in good shape (at least I thought so then), until one day Ann burst into tears and asked for a divorce. She was so frantically determined, I felt I had better go along, to save her sanity. Ann tells me now (since we are communicating better than before) that she hadn't enough experience to know what love was about before marriage, and she reckons she never did love me. Now she feels she has really found herself, and has finally grown up, and sees everything in a new light. Her emotions are poignant—and paranoid.

STILL HAS HOPES

We remain the best of friends: I hope to win her back. She isn't interested in anyone else, and her letters to me are signed "with love." Her manner is matter of fact, however, and she won't go out with me alone. She hopes to marry again some day. Meanwhile she has her mother and sisters (one of whom has been living with her for six months) to keep things in a merry whirl. I say "merry whirl" because her life seems to be going fine now. But where do I go from here? I can't seem to get interested seriously in anyone else; and can't support two families even if I did. (Ann's mother is a wonderful person, who divorced her husband when the children were small.)

EASY MATURED

DEAR E. Y.: Of one thing we may be sure, I think—that Ann hasn't any progress towards maturity by divorcing you; or since divorcing you. Rather, it appears that she has relapsed to a childish plateau of personality, in a "sisterly" situation that she much prefers to the role of active wifehood. On this level she feels she has "found herself" again. And in her relief at escape from the demands of marriage, she erroneously concludes that she has been gathering strength and wisdom, and growing up, and seeing things in a new and presumably larger light since leaving you. Possibly Ann is a type of girl who disqualifies for marriage; who isn't psychologically organized to share comfortably and happily the experiences of matchhood and parenthood.

MISTAKEN COMMITMENT?

If such is the case, and I surmise that it is, then perhaps she acted constructively, within the limits of her competence, in crying for deliverance from her mistaken commitment; and in getting out of it before she cracked up. But this turn of events doesn't give reason to suppose that she will have better "luck" in a later marriage, whether to you or to someone else. To clear up the fog in your mind, as to what to expect of Ann in future, and how to get your life on the track again, you ought to discuss the inside story of your marriage with a family relations expert. It is necessary to explore the facts in detail, to learn where and why you failed each other; and what your chances are, individually or together, of making something worthwhile of the years ahead.

MORNING SMILE

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

THE EARL OF ELLESAMERE OF ST. BOSWELLS

The Earl of Ellesmere of St. Boswells, Roxburghshire, Scotland will judge hunters and jumpers at the Royal Horse Show, a feature of the 1956 Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. It will be held in the Coliseum, November 9th to 17th. Many Prince Edward Island people each year look forward to attending the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

Mrs. L.D. Warren is having her annual summer visit at her old home in Cavendish. She is the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacNeill. The Stanhope Beach Hotel was the setting Tuesday, for a very smart luncheon in honour of the ladies attending the Maritime Pharmaceutical Association convention. The beautiful Tea Hill country, a dream was born. He would go to South Africa, and go he did—with four hundred dollars in his pocket! His rise to wealth and position in South Africa was rapid.

He became a manufacturer's agent or a "business Ambassador" and ended up supplying South African people with most of what they imported, and was just as active in the export business. Shortly after he arrived in South Africa he married Miss Dorothy Hayler, a prominent and truly lovely lady. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have a daughter Miss Dorothy Kennedy. Their beautiful home, 60 Westcliffe Drive, Johannesburg, and their farm at Vaal River were centres of hospitality. Miss Marjorie Cox, R.N., of this city was a favoured guest during the war years.

In 1946 Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy and their charming daughter Miss Dorothy Kennedy made a world trip. During this time they visited all the leading centres of interest. The Kennedys who made many new friendships on this trip as well as renewing older ones, entertained lavishly. During their residence in the Royal Suite at the Royal York Hotel, they held a reception in their suite and later entertained at a large dinner party in the Imperial Room of the Royal York. Guests on this occasion were the late Mr. W. Chester S. McLure M.P. and his daughter, Miss Lena McLure. Mr. McLure and Mr. Kennedy had been friends since young manhood.

The culmination of the Kennedy trip around the world was reached when Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Dorothy Kennedy and Mrs. A.W.B. Jones, Victoria, B.C. arrive on Prince Prince Edward Island among "their ain folk". Mrs. Jones a sister of Mr. Kennedy who accompanied the Kennedys from Victoria on this trip has also visited them in South Africa. These visitors endeared themselves to all Islanders who had the privilege of meeting them. Mr. H.J. Kennedy and Mrs. F.G. Kennedy are left Wednesday morning for Halifax, Nova Scotia, to attend the Maritime Dental Convention. The many friends and relatives in this province of Mr. Wilfred Kennedy, Johannesburg, South Africa, will regret to hear of his continued illness and that he has been confined entirely for the past year to his room.

Dr. and Mrs. K.A. MacEachern

Mr. Kennedy who is a native of Cross Roads, P.E.I., became one of the South Africa's leading citizens. His career really started one summer on Prince Edward Island. Young Wilfred Kennedy who had completed a course at business college had been contemplating a summer's work on the farm. However, he had the misfortune to crush his fingers. Dr. G.F. Dewar was just out of medical school. In fact this was always supposed to be one of his first cases. During the doctor's professional visits, he brought a bundle of magazines to young Kennedy. One of these magazines contained an article on South Africa. To Wilfred Kennedy, who could not work on the farm that summer, but instead lay in the hammock on the verandah reading and gazing at the beautiful Tea Hill country, a dream was born. He would go to South Africa, and go he did—with four hundred dollars in his pocket! His rise to wealth and position in South Africa was rapid.

He became a manufacturer's agent or a "business Ambassador" and ended up supplying South African people with most of what they imported, and was just as active in the export business. Shortly after he arrived in South Africa he married Miss Dorothy Hayler, a prominent and truly lovely lady. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have a daughter Miss Dorothy Kennedy. Their beautiful home, 60 Westcliffe Drive, Johannesburg, and their farm at Vaal River were centres of hospitality. Miss Marjorie Cox, R.N., of this city was a favoured guest during the war years.

In 1946 Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy and their charming daughter Miss Dorothy Kennedy made a world trip. During this time they visited all the leading centres of interest. The Kennedys who made many new friendships on this trip as well as renewing older ones, entertained lavishly. During their residence in the Royal Suite at the Royal York Hotel, they held a reception in their suite and later entertained at a large dinner party in the Imperial Room of the Royal York. Guests on this occasion were the late Mr. W. Chester S. McLure M.P. and his daughter, Miss Lena McLure. Mr. McLure and Mr. Kennedy had been friends since young manhood.

The culmination of the Kennedy trip around the world was reached when Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Dorothy Kennedy and Mrs. A.W.B. Jones, Victoria, B.C. arrive on Prince Prince Edward Island among "their ain folk". Mrs. Jones a sister of Mr. Kennedy who accompanied the Kennedys from Victoria on this trip has also visited them in South Africa. These visitors endeared themselves to all Islanders who had the privilege of meeting them. Mr. H.J. Kennedy and Mrs. F.G. Kennedy are entertained at their home Brackley Point Road, for Mr. R. B. Steele, Canadian Superintendent of the C. adian Nation's Communications, Toronto Ont. and Mr. H. A. Marquis Atlantic Superintendent Moncton, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Le Doyle

Word has been received that Miss Betty Riggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Riggs, Charlottetown, has been accepted as a candidate for an Officer in the Salvation Army. She leaves in September for Toronto, where she will start training.

BRACKLEY POINT W.I.

The Brackley Point W.I. June meeting was held at the home of George Shaw on Thursday evening, June 7th. Twelve members and three visitors were present and responded to roll call by paying double their shoe size, the amount from which totaled $2.00. The teacher reporting for the school requested that the floor be cleaned as soon as possible, and it was agreed upon that this work be attended to at once. Mrs. Earle Skeffington was appointed school-visitor for June, the usual treat of winners and rolls to be provided for the closing picnic. A resident ill in hospital was suitably remembered by the sick committee.

CORRAN BANN C.W.L.

The Corran Bann sub-division of the C.W.L. met on June 11th at the home of Mrs. Alfred Watts with ten members in attendance. The president, Mrs. Aeneas MacDougall, presided and opened the meeting with the recitation of the League prayer. The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting. These were approved and signed as read.

The altar committee reported buying plants and flowers and also receiving donations of plants for the altar for confirmation. Members passed in articles of clothing to Social Service Convener. It was moved and seconded to join the Dime-a-Week Club of the Sacred Heart. It was decided to re-finish seats in sanctuary of the Church. It was moved and seconded to pay $25.00 towards paying for Al-

CLYDE RIVER PRESBYTERIAN W.M.S.

The annual meeting of the Clyde River Presbyterian W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Warren MacKinnon. Meeting opened with 'Call to Worship' taken from Psalm 133. Scripture was Matthew 25 verses 14-30, read in union. Bible exposition was read by Mrs. Warren MacKinnon. Prayers were offered by Mrs. Lj. Murray, Mrs. Heber Campbell and Mrs. John MacNevin. Hymns 140 was sung. Minutes of the previous meeting were read. A letter was read from Mrs. Dickson. A thank you card was received for a sympathy card sent. Roll call was answered by 17 members. One visitor was present. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. John and Mrs. Lorne Docherty. Roll call to be answered with a verse containing the word 'Gospel' unless committee will be: Mrs. George Dixon, Mrs. Arnold Beer, Mrs. James Beer, Mrs. John Docherty and Mrs. Ira Auld.

Mite-box opening to be held June 15th. Minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. Election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. John Beer (re-elected); vice president, Mrs. George Hyde; secretary, Mrs. L. MacNevin; treasurer, Mrs. John Gillespie. Mission band leaders, Mrs. Gordon MacKinnon and Mrs. John Gillespie, sick committee, Mrs. Warren MacKinnon, message treasurer, Mrs. Arnold Beer (re-elected). A report was given by the president and treasurer. The offering was taken amounting to $2.45. The closing hymn was 482, followed by the mizpah benediction. Lunch was served.

BACKACHE

Backache is often caused by lazy kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest or that tired-out and heavy-headed feeling may soon follow. That's the time to take Dadd's Kidney Pills. Dadd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Get Dadd's Kidney Pills now.

HEINZ — 6 OZ.
MUSTARD, 2 for 25c
SWEET OR MUSTARD
PICKLES, Heinz 35c
20 OZ. TIN
APPLE JUICE, 2 for 25c
MARSHMALLOWS, lb. pkg. 39c
CAN MEAT
PREM, 12 oz. 39c
SNOWFLAKE
SHORTENING, 2 for 55c
NAPKINS, 70's, 2 for 29c
SHIRRIFF'S GOOD MORNING
MARMALADE, 24 oz. 53c

WIENERS, HOT DOGS lb. 35c
COTTAGE ROLLS, BOLOGNA, sliced, 1 TO 4 LBS. lb. 65c
PORK HOCKS, MEAT LOAF, STEAK, (T-Bone), SWEET PICKLED lb. 19c
MACARONI & CHEESE lb. 49c
lb. 59c

KEEP IN TRIM

Reports From Good Losers

To keep you from going off the deep end on calories this weekend, I'll pass along reports from the good losers. The same happy refrain runs through all success letters—slimming isn't so tough once you make up your mind. A triumphant middle-aged reducer writes: "Your scientific slimming plan works wonders. I am 50 years old and could not take strenuous exercise because of a floating kidney, but I had to lose weight, especially a round the waistline. Somehow your diet did it. When I started, my waist was 28. It's now 27 and I'll get it to 26. All my measurements have decreased and I now weigh 110 pounds, which is right for my 5' 11". I feel fine and can now wear clothes I haven't been able to squeeze into. Thank you for the easiest, safest, most pleasant method I've ever known for reducing." INSPIRING EXAMPLE This should provide an inspiring example to overweights who consider age an obstacle to reducing. The second letter is from a normal weight who exercised to slim off inches. "Perhaps you would like to know how I have benefited by doing your exercises. Several years ago, I was stiff and weak, had a bad posture and a crooked spine. Then I began to do the exercises given in your column, working into them gradually. I early noticed a marked improvement, and took the exercises daily. Today I'm a different woman. I am 50 years old." YOUNG AGAIN "You gave the exercises as an aid to reducing. They do that, but

WORKS MIRACLES

It is amazing how inspiring—and motivating—a success story can be... and news of success travels across the breadth of the country. "A friend of mine wrote me from California, saying she lost over 100 pounds through the scientific diet you had published in the Los Angeles Examiner. Would you kindly send me a copy of the diet by return mail." This is further proof that eating to slim down the scientific way really does work miracles.

Words Of The Wise

No man needs sympathy because he has to work, because he has a burden to carry. Far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing. —(Theodore Roosevelt)