A Great Race at Mystic Park, Boston.

ISLAND HORSES VICTORIOUS—GEORGE LEE WINS IN 2.23.

(Boston Herald.)

Two capital races introduced the grand eastern circuit, which began at Mystic Park on Tuesday. The 2.23 class was a cracking good contest, and George Lee, the winner, proved himself to be a great race-horse. He had the veteran Screwdriver, the speedy Bijou and the old reliable trotter George A. pitted against him. Lee won in straight heats, but he was a very tired animal at the finish. Screwdriver and Bijou give him all he could attend to. The driver of George A. made an error in laying up in the first heat. But whether this influenced the result or not it is very difficult to state. Lee seemed to be unapproachable at any stage of the contest. There was a very large attendance of horsemen at the track, and they were highly pleased over the race.

Screwdriver was the favorite in the 2.35 class. The old war horse had Archie, Smuggler's Daughter, George Lee, Bijou and George A. for competitors. This was a hard field to pick from, for the horses are very evenly matched. In the first heat Smuggler's Daughter had the pole, but "Old Screw" got the best of the send-off. He was on the outside of the track, and carried so wide on the turn that he was far behind at the quarter. Here the nimble Bijou led, with George Lee at his girth. Screwdriver was a poor third. Frank Meehan had already indicated to the spectators that he was going to lay up for the heat with George A. Bijou and George Lee fought it tooth and nail during the second quarter. Lee getting the best of the scrimmage. He drew clear of Bijou just before the mark was reached, and took the pole. Golden waited until the stretch was reached, and then made a determined effort to send Bijou to the front again, but the task was useless. Lee had the foot of Bijou. He won the heat with plenty to spare in the excellent time of 2.25. Bijou was an easy second, Screwdriver third, George A. fourth, Smuggler's Daughter fifth, the bold Archie last. Screwdriver, George Lee and George A. had a great race in the second heat. Lee distinguished himself by repeating in the same time and beating his rivals with comparative ease. Bijou laid up during the heat. Smuggler's Daughter was outclassed and was not in the race at all. Archie made a splendid showing for half a mile. Lee led in the heat from start to finish. Screwdriver took him by the head at the quarter post, and carried him down to the half at a merry pace. Marsh, "Old Screw's" driver, saw that he was too strong, and eased his horse up a bit. Charley Yapp followed suit, and this gave George A. a chance to draw up on very nearly even terms. Lee was first in the stretch by a length. Screwdriver was second, the same distance in front of George A. Twice they came at Lee, but each time he threw his rivals off. Screwdriver made Yapp draw his whip, however. Lee won the heat by a scant length. George A. and Screwdriver had a severe tussle for second place. George A. nipped his opponent at the wire. The third heat finished the race. Lee was first away but Screwdriver was close up. In fact, the entire field were in good places and trotting steadily when the word was given. Screwdriver challenged on the turn, and the pace became very hot. At the quarter post Lee was leading Screwdriver a neck and shoulders. But "Old Screw" was hobbling badly. George A. was at Screwdriver's flank, while Bijou was bowling along at surprising speed. There have been very few heats on the Mystic track this season where the changes were so numerous and rapid. Screwdriver was on level terms with George Lee on entering the stretch, but he made a break and lost two lengths. Then George A. took a whack at the leader, but he, too, left his feet.

The clip Lee was carrying them at was terrific. They could not stand it. On nearing the half-mile pole, Golden sent Bijou up. He went by Screwdriver as though he was anchored. Then Bijou tackled George A. caught and headed him in a twinkling. But George A. is dead game and when Meehan touched him with the whip, he slid out from under it like a shot out of a gun. Three times Bijou and George A. changed places, but finally Bijou disposed of him and made play for Lee. The horses were now at the head of the stretch. As soon as he got fairly straightened out for home, Bijou began to whirl along like a cloud of dust in a March wind. Yapp saw his danger, and kept his whip arm busy. Lee responded at every call and kept his feet nicely. Lee reached the wire first by a length, in the fast time of 2.23; Bijou second, Screwdriver a capital third, George A. neck behind "Old Screw." This gave Lee first money, Bijou second, George A. third, and Screwdriver fourth.

The Newfoundland Fisheries.

(Correspondence Montreal Gazette.)

It is universally admitted that the cod fishery of this season, taken as a whole, must be reckoned a serious failure, and that the returns will fall considerably below an average. But the same tale has been told of many preceding years in the history of the colony, and it has often before successfully tiled over similar difficulties without any outside help, and there is not the least reason to doubt that it will do so again. Even in the best years there are sure to be certain districts in which the catch is deficient or very poor; and as the fishermen, as a rule, have but scanty provision for a rainy day, there are almost invariably some who are partially destitute, and require assistance either from the supplying merchant or the Government. The area of destitution varies according to the character of the year's operations, but it always exists and will continue to exist as long as the great mass of the population are dependent on the fisheries. The result of this year's fishing will undoubtedly be that the area of destitution will be considerably larger than usual, and the number of persons requiring assistance will be greater. But the colony is quite able to grapple with its difficulties, and to provide for any destitution that may arise, and that without any great strain on its resources. No alarm is felt here, no panic in business, no failures, no despondency. We are meeting our troubles calmly and hopefully; and after the generally successful fisheries of late years, we shall have no great difficulty in pulling through one bad year. The elasticity of the trade of this country is proverbial. All cases of real destitution will be attended to, and no one will be allowed to starve so long as there is a dollar in the public chest. In no other country is there greater liberality in relieving the wants of the poor, and private charity this year will respond to the extra demands of the hour. The most serious failure has been along the Eastern coast, and in the great northern bays of Conception, Trinity, Bonavista and Notre Dame the catch has generally been small. The same is true of St. John's and its neighborhood. On Labrador the greenfish catchers have done poorly, and there appears to be an almost total absence of the usual shoals of herrings which have struck in further south in White Bay. But there are offsets to these failures. On northern Labrador the catch has been fairly good, the quality of the fish excellent, and the weather for curing has been favorable. The Straits of Belle Isle is one of our greatest fishing centres, and here the fishery has been moderately successful. Then turning to the shore fishery from Cape Race westward, the fishery has been the best known for some time; and, above all, the Bank fishery, which has now grown into very considerable dimensions, has been one of the most successful since this industry rose into importance. The area of failure is no doubt considerable, but the area of success is also large. I strongly suspect that when the whole products of the year's fishing are collected and reckoned up, people will be surprised to find how nearly it approximates to the usual exports. The Government are wisely pushing forward public works so as to furnish employment to the people in the more destitute districts after the close of the fisheries. In the construction of a branch line of railway to Placentia from 1,200 to 1,500 men will be employed. Roads designed to open up good lands for settlement in various localities are also under construction and will give a large amount of employment. In this way the issuing of supplies to able bodied persons will be to a large extent rendered unnecessary, and works of permanent utility will be constructed. The pressure of circumstances compel many to turn to agriculture instead of depending on the precarious fisheries to such an extent. This is what is needed above all. Railway construction will go forward till the great fertile valleys of the interior are opened up, and thousands will engage in farming and cattle raising. "There is some soil of goodness in things evil," and our very misfortunes and the failures of our staple industry will drive our people to other and more profitable occupations.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites

FOR LUNG TROUBLES AND WASTING DISEASES.

Dr. J. Simond, New Orleans, La., says: "Scott's Emulsion is the finest preparation of the kind ever brought to my notice. In affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, we may consider it our most reliable agent. In a perfectly elegant and agreeable form."

Seven thousand dollars in silver, the proceeds of a fair, were being taken to the bank at Mount Pulaski, Ill., recently, when the horses ran away, the wagon was overturned, and the money scattered in the street. Citizens gathered it up, and when counted at the bank there was but 60 cents missing.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best pain-knower remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other kind.

A most astonishing phenomenon of the Japanese earthquake was the splitting of the Papandayang mountain. In a flash of time it was split into seven parts. Where the ions mountain had stood there loomed up seven peaks, each 7,000 feet high.
