

S'side Board Of Trade Backs Move For Museum

The Summerside Board of Trade last night unanimously went on record as supporting the action of the Summerside Town Council in offering a site, estimated to be worth $10,000, to the Government to be used to erect a Provincial museum and on motion further recommended that the Government be strongly urged to take advantage of this offer. Last night's meeting was perhaps one of the most largely attended in some years due to the fact that there was a full agenda of important business to be attended to and that the guest speaker of the evening was Colonel Frank Storey, the president of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, who delivered a splendid address dealing with Provincial industrial problems and the need for an industrial survey of Prince Edward Island.

Dealing with the three major industries of the Province, agriculture, fishing and the tourist trade, Colonel Storey spoke of the marvellous opportunities in each but pointed out that "we must be able to produce in each of these incompetent and unselfish business men would undertake an economic survey of the Province.

Mr. Alan Holman reported that the job of erecting the Christmas trees on Water Street had been completed and made an appeal to the business men on Front Street to decorate the trees in front of their business establishments. This will bring many people to Summerside, he felt, and in that way all would benefit and the additional business would mean increased prosperity for all.

Last night the Board dealt with the matter of street mail delivery. A letter was read from the Summerside branch of the Canadian Postal Union regarding the urgent need of such a service. Mr. Eric MacKay of the local post office staff gave some important facts to back up the claim for this service. He said that there are only about six towns in Canada of a comparative size which do not have street delivery today.

He stated that the new post office now under construction will be required to cater to 8,000 people. Provision has been made in the new building for 1,000 boxes. In the present post office there are about 750 boxes and there are cases where four or five families are getting their mail in the same box. Consequently the small additional number of boxes in the new building will not take care of the situation. Congestion in the present office is terrific, he pointed out, and the condition had become aggravated when the airport came to Summerside.

Now is the time, Mr. MacKay contended, for some action to be taken before final plans are made concrete in connection with the boxes in the new post office.

The mail service committee was instructed to draw up a strong resolution, recommending that street delivery be inaugurated in Summerside and that copies of the resolution be forwarded at once to the Post Master General and to the Federal representatives.

Mr. Donald Baker informed the meeting that Summerside and Kensington now have a regular shunting service which relieves the crew of the passenger train from doing this work. This has been something which the Summerside Board of Trade has advocated for some years and it was heard last evening with considerable satisfaction. Members agreed that a letter be forwarded to Mr. Montgomery, the superintendent, expressing the thanks of the Board for his action.

It was revealed last night at the meeting that the present heating plans for the new post office call for coal and in view of the consequent smoke nuisance it was the consensus of opinion that action be immediately taken to try to have this changed to oil heating.

The Town Improvement Committee was instructed to prepare a strong resolution to this effect and to forward copies to the proper authorities.—S.

George MacFarlane reported for the committee on scouting. He said that now there is one full scout troop (No. 9) in operation and one full cub pack. Each group consists of 24 boys and the committee members besides Mr. MacFarlane are Charles Linkletter and Bill Currie. It was reported that sufficient boys have signified a desire to take part in scouting to form another troop. The committee members for this troop will be James Murphy, chairman, George Clarke and Lowell Hancock.

On motion it was decided that the club will sponsor a leathercraft and glove-making hobby at the High School. The club will purchase the necessary tools and also underwrite the first purchase of leather. People participating, however, will be asked to pay for what leather they use.—S
