Testimonial

C. P. Fletcher, Esq.

DEAR SIR,—I do not wish to return to Montreal without expressing my gratitude to you for the very excellent Bell Piano that you placed at my disposal for my recital. I have tried many Canadian Pianos of different manufacturers and must say that, considering the size of the instrument, I have never found one to equal it for depth and brilliancy of tone. The action is quite as elastic and responsive as in American Upright Pianos of the highest grade. Again thanking you, very sincerely,

I remain,
Yours,

FOR SALE.
RARE CHANCE

The property occupied by J. J. Gay and son situate in the village of Pownal, 7 miles from Charlottetown, is offered for sale. The premises comprise a large dwelling house, 6000 square feet, barn, shed, orchard, and about 20 acres of the most fertile land on the Island. This land has been manured year after year, for so long that as an old man said the other day, "It is all a bed of manure and could be hauled for top-dressing." This would be an ideal spot for a country merchant, or it would be admirable for a summer resort. The situation is one of the most beautiful on the Island. Good bathing, fishing, boating, shooting and within easy distance; churches, post office school telephone and shops all at the door. For terms and further particulars, apply to Von Clure Gay, J. J. Gay & son or to JOHN T. MELLISH, Solicitor Charlottetown

Abyssinian Conditions.
The last Mohammedan aggression against Abyssinia took place in 1876, when 8,600 Egyptian troops attempted without previous declaration of war to overrun the province of Tigre in order to bring Abyssinia into subjection to the Egyptian state. Professor Reinisch was at the time on a journey to Abyssinia and witnessed the patriotic spirit which inspired the people. On the self-same day that the Egyptian troops began to land at Massaua swift messengers carried the news thence into the interior. From hill to hill blazed the far seen beacon fires, and warcries rang throughout the provinces of the kingdom. On the following day the centers of population already resembled military camps. Priests and monks were everywhere preaching a holy war for the defense of the cross and the fatherland. Without military summons of recruiting of volunteers all the able-bodied men of their own accord got ready their guns, swords and lances. Women and slaves looked to the supply of provisions, and within a week 20,000 well equipped men turned out from the province of Hamasen alone to occupy the mountain pass toward Tigre before the Egyptian troops had left Massaua. The outcome of the war, so fatal to Egypt, is well known. It gave the immediate impulse to the events which finally led to the occupation of Egypt by Great Britain.
As regards the probable destination of Abyssinia, Professor Reinisch gave it as his opinion that—at least within a measurable time—it will certainly not share the fate of the Egyptians. They have been for centuries a nation of slaves; the Abyssinians a race of freemen. The conquest of the country by a nation capable of bearing the great expense necessary is, of course, possible, but it may be safely said that it is a much lighter task to conquer Abyssinia than to govern it afterward. For, in spite of the fertility of certain provinces, it is today a poor country, having been exhausted by its wars. To bring back its prosperity the blessings of a secured and lasting peace are urgently needed.—Geographical Journal.

The Value of Credit.
Is there anything under the sun that will fill the place of credit? I believe not. If there is, I have never met with it. Cash is the only available substitute, and even that fails in many instances.
There are firms in New York that will refuse to open an account for cash with a man who has no credit. They will have no business transactions with any one who has not a current credit rating in this market. Yet those same firms will not hesitate to open an account with a man whom they find relatively well rated.

I have experienced that singular thing—a wholesale firm that refused to sell goods for cash to a merchant who had no credit rating. Reference showed that he always paid cash and neither sought nor received credit. The firm in question refused to sell to him. It had no assurance of his soundness, no other testimony of his disposition to play fair other than that he paid as he went, so it positively refused to do business with him. He asked no accommodation at its hands. He wanted goods and would pay on the spot, yet it positively refused to place his name upon its books in any capacity whatever.

This only goes to show that "no record" is a bad record. The man who is not rated good is bad. Some men will persist in judging every man a rogue until he is proved honest.
Be careful of your credit. You can have no more precious possession than a good name, nor more valuable capital than a good credit rating. The practice of having your check received by your creditor the day it is due instead of sending it on that day is a trifling thing, yet it will not go unnoticed. Trifles like this supplement your rating in dollars and cents and help to stiffen it. Make no promises you cannot keep, and whether prompt or slow be as good as your word.—Dry Goods Chronicle.

MESSAGE TO MEN
Proving that True Honesty and True Philanthropy still Exist

If any man who is weak, nervous and debilitated, or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from youthful folly, excesses or overwork, will take heart and write to me, I will send him confidentially and free of charge the plan pursued by which I was completely restored to perfect health and manhood, after years of suffering from Nervous Debility, loss of Vigor and Organic Weakness.

I have nothing to sell, and therefore want no money, but as I know through my own experience how to sympathize with such sufferers, I am glad to be able to assist any fellow-beings to a cure. I am well aware of the prevalence of quackery, for I myself was deceived and imposed upon until I nearly lost faith in mankind but I rejoice to say that I am now perfectly well and happy once more and am desirous therefore to make this certain means of cure known to all. If you will write to me you can rely upon being cured and the proud satisfaction of having been of great service to one in need will be sufficient reward for my trouble. Absolute secrecy assured. Send 5c silver to cover postage and address Mr. G. Strong, North Rock and, Mich. 135 p&w.
