The women's group met in the church hall with Mrs. Fred Leard presiding. Minutes were recorded by the secretary, Mrs. Graham Bennett.

The worship was conducted by Mrs. Bennett. At the close of the meeting there was a silent auction.

Yellow Rose Ball Is Friday Night

The Charlottetown Hotel will be the scene of the second annual Yellow Rose Ball, Friday night sponsored by the three Charlottetown chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Beta Sigma Phi is an international organization of 150,000 members which was created for young women in search of cultural and social activity.

Each chapter — Charlottetown Alpha, XiAlpha, and XiBeta — conducts its own series of cultural programs throughout the year and come together for many social functions, including the Founder's Day Banquet, the Talisman Tea and the Yellow Rose Ball.

Over the years, the sorority has made many contributions to international and community projects. Through the international endowment fund and exemplar fund, the sorority has given thousands of dollars to cancer research, a home for neglected girls, scholarships for promising young people, Literary Village in Lucknow, India, and other projects which the membership selected.

Locally, the three chapters have supported welfare work, adopted a Korean orphan, supplied scholarships to Musical Festival Association, and donated books to local schools.

Senator Elsie Inman is an international honorary member of the sorority. Alpha Chapter has Mrs. A.W. Hyndman as an honorary member, Mrs. Keith Rogers as a director and Mrs. AA Scales as social sponsor. Mrs Hyndman and Mrs. Scales will join the three presidents, Mrs. Percy Simmonds (XiAlpha), Mrs. J.O. Hornby, (XiBeta) and Mrs. Ernest Lord (Alpha) in the receiving line at the Yellow Rose Ball.

Yellow And White Mums Are Floral Accents For Wedding

St. Mary's Church, Clinton, Ontario, was the setting for the recent ceremony which united in the Holy Sacrament of Matrimony, Paula M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Curley, Kensington, P.E.I., and LAC Neil J., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shatton, of Havelock, Ont.

Reverend G.B. Lardie, parish priest, united the young couple in a solemn double ring ceremony and officiated at the wedding service.

The floral decorations were of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

The guest pews were marked with large white satin bows and encircled with floral accents.

Several musical selections were rendered by members of the Servicemen's Club of Hamilton, Ont.

The bride was radiant in a three-quarter length ballerina gown of nylon tulle over white satin in princess lines. The gown featured a fitted bodice of Alencon lace with sabrina neckline ornamented with lace appliqued sequins and pearls and the back was closed with tiny covered buttons.

The long sleeves, in classic style, tapered to points over the hands, and the bouffant skirt of double nylon net was pretified with panels of lace at the front and back and was worn over hoops which gathered in light folds to form a slight entrain. Her shoulder length chapel veil of French silk illusion, fell gracefully from a tiara of cup sequins and simulated pearls corresponding to those worn on the neckline of her gown. She carried a cascade of American beauty roses.

She wore tiny cultured pearl earrings and necklace gift of the groom.

Mrs. Ray Virr of Hamilton was the bridesmaid and wore a waltz length gown of mauve nylon over satin with jacket and shawl, a floral hat, mitts and shoes to match her dress. She carried a bouquet of white mums and chrysanthemums. Attended with mauve, to correspond with her ensemble and a matching necklace and earring set, a gift of the bride.

LAC George Rodique was best man.

The usher was George Virr, Mrs. George Rodique, of Hamilton, represented the bride's mother and wore a two piece suit of red knitted wool, a white hat with white accessories and a grey fur jacket. Her corsage was of white feathered carnations. Mrs. Shatton, mother of the groom, wore a two piece suit of royal blue knitted wool with beige cloche hat and beige accessories, and a brown mink fur jacket with a pink feathered carnation corsage attached.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Sportsmens' Club, Hamilton.

The bride's table was centered with a decorated wedding cake, supported on pillars and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Crystal vases of mums and chrysanthemums were the floral accents.

Reverend G.B. Lardie, P.P., acting as master of ceremonies, extended congratulations to the bride and groom and LAC Virr proposed the toast to the bride. The groom responded and fitting remarks were made by Rev. G.B. Lardie and friends of the bride and groom.

LAC George Rodique proposed the toast to the bridesmaid.

Telegrams from British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, Ontario and the United States were received, along with several congratulatory wishes.

The guest book was circulated by Mrs. Shatton, Sr., of Havelock, Ont., and the tradition al cutting and serving of the wedding cake was a highlight of the day's activities.

The bride and groom left on a trip to Niagara Falls and the Maritime Provinces.

White in Hamilton they were given a reception at the Servicemen's Army and Navy club. The Sportsmen's Club of Hamilton furnished the six piece orchestra.

The gifts were opened by the bride and the verses were read by friends of the bride and groom.

Upon their arrival to Prince Edward Island the couple were given a family dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilfred Curley, Kensington.

For travelling the bride wore a white classic wool sheath dress with black accessories and coat to match. A white feathered carnation corsage completed her ensemble.

Out of town guests were from Clinton, Hamilton, Havelock, Ont., and Summerside, P.E.I.

Mr. and Mrs. Shatton have taken up residence in Clinton, Ontario, where Mr. Shatton is with the RCAF.

Previous to her marriage the bride was employed in London, Ont.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Valentine Of Yesteryear Winsome And Pretty

Mack tossed aside a current number of a magazine he had been reading this evening. "I think that stuffs for... the girls!" he observed. We were preparing supper at the time - spreading the cloth, and placing on it in pairs, the cups and saucers, the plates and "silver", setting all unwittingly, yet with a precision gained from long practice at the same. Bringing then the food from the pantry hearing the tea- kettle's tune. Presently when James would come from the barns we should put the tea to steep.

"What's for girls?" we questioned.

"That Valentine stuff!"

"Stuff!" we echoed "Do you mean that?"

He grinned.

"Well, would you believe it? We read that all through the years men—even great ones — and boys, have been pleased to send Valentines to their wives and sweethearts. Why, your grandfather himself wasn't above the practice! And he sends the odd one yet."

"No!" he smiled "Did you ever get one from him? Well, can you beat that!" he exclaimed.

"And don't you suppose your great- granddads and great - grandmoms exchanged Valentines in their day— when they were young, and older? Certainly they did! And they were winsome things, the Valentines of those times. So dainty and pretty."

"Oh, we have Valentines in school on that Day" he nodded. "But..." he shrugged.

"One day there will be an especial girl friend to remember" we smiled "and you will choose the prettiest Valentine you can find, for her. And won't she love, and treasure it!" we said.

"Well, changing the subject" he said "did I tell you about last night's hockey- game? No, I guess I didn't. It was between two school- teams. And we won it" he nodded.

"Did you make any goals?"

"No" he smiled "but I made an assist! And do you know what Jamie (he's our coach) said? He said an assist means as much, in a way as a goal. And when you come to think of it, isn't it the truth? Without the help at the exact moment, there wouldn't likely have been any goal! Yes, I picked it up and passed it to... and 'wham!' just like that, the rubber went home! It was a nice game. Both teams had good fellows, and everybody did his best."

Gently overcast this day was. With at times, light snowfall. A pretty day: the fields covered whitely, and the spruces— so many of them there are in this neighborhood: down in the valley, great old trees, tall, with spreading branches, marking dam and stream and river; up the rise too, in hedgerow and woodland — prettied with snow.. Strange, it is, that in the summery seasons, we note more the leafy trees intermingled there. But comes the Fall, the firry ones move to the forefront of the scene, to remain until Spring unfolds the leaves.

And by this, it is St. Valentine's Day, with its heart to heart messages sent and received; with sometimes too, we suspect, its anxious queries. And "the greatest of these" send off love-bound is "Will you be my Valentine?"

Until tomorrow —Diary —— Good-night.....

HE HANGED HUNDREDS
