Those who were drowned were Captain John Charlton and wife of Port Lorne, N. S.; the first mate, Truman Holman, of Annapolis, N. S.; the steward, Henry Sands, a native of Norway, and a seaman, Daniel August. The rescued men were Charles Lecain, second mate; James Clark, able seaman; John Mattson, able seaman. They tell a story of suffering, privation and exposure seldom equalled, the rescued men having managed to live for nine days upon the upturned bottom of the vessel.

Will It Visit Us Again?

Many people are now asking the question: "Will La Grippe visit us again this autumn?" While we devoutly hope our Canadian people will never again feel the iron grip of the monster, we would warn our readers that the disease still exists in sporadic form in some sections of the neighbouring republic. While the mysterious life-destroyer is on the North American continent we cannot consider ourselves as safe from danger.

At this time we would kindly warn the nervous, dyspeptic, rheumatic, sleepless, and all who are over-worked and run-down, to put themselves in condition to successfully fight with La Grippe if it invades our land. The weak, sickly and diseased are always easy victims for the unwelcome visitor. In the past thousands have fortified themselves by using Paine's Celery Compound, and have never felt a touch of the disease. Paine's Celery Compound puts the whole system in a perfect condition of health, and enables young and old to face la grippe even in epidemic form without incurring danger. If you are not feeling well, if you lack vigor and activity, be assured the system requires toning and strengthening. Nature's true medicine, Paine's Celery Compound, will give you a new life.
