OPPOSITION IN THE LEGISLATURE.

The election of Mr. Shaw for Cardigan is assured. No special votes for the district were polled in Prince County. The Opposition in the Legislature is composed of Hon. D. Gordon and A. J. McDonald, Hon. Joseph O. Arsenault and J. A. McDonald, Mr. Shaw and J. E. McDonald and Mr. Blanchard. The number is small. But we have no doubt that each and every man in it will fulfil his duty to the country.

NOTHING FROM THE GRITS.

The Toronto Globe says that "it is time Quebec and all the other Provinces were disabused of any lingering hopes they may entertain of any increase in present Dominion subsidies." The chief organ of the Liberal party is evidently in agreement with Sir Richard Cartwright. Clearly, there is no ground for the expectation held out by the Premier and others, that when the Liberal party gain office, they will vote a larger subsidy to this Province, and thus make up the amount of the indebtedness incurred by the Peters Government.

WINTER COMMUNICATION.

A stranger coming on board either the Stanley or the Northumberland, on his way to Prince Edward Island, must feel that he is on his way to no mean country. Nor would the favorable impression be lost on entering the special train in charge of Conductor Ryan, which is running in connection with the winter steamer. Certainly the Stanley is a splendid and a powerful ship and admirably adapted for the service in which she is engaged. Too much praise cannot be given Captain McElhinney, by whom she was designed, and Mr. McMillan who advised concerning the machinery with which she is supplied, and superintended its construction. The Government is fortunate in having such men in its employ. We have no doubt that, in the light of the experience which has been gained, some improvements in the Stanley could now be suggested; and if the Minister of Marine should contemplate the construction of another steamer for use in ice, the lessons which have resulted from the experience of Captain Finlayson and Chief Engineer McMillan will be valuable. Some persons are apt to find fault because the Stanley does not continue to come to Charlottetown; but such persons have no idea of the risks and difficulties incurred in bringing a vessel of heavy draught of water into this port in the midst of winter, after the buoys have been taken up, and when thick mists and heavy snowstorms are prevalent. Even at Georgetown the risk and difficulty is considerable, demanding the closest attention and care of Captain Finlayson and his officers and crew. That it would be advisable to put the Stanley upon a still shorter and better route, if such an one were feasible, will be admitted by all. If, for instance, the steamer could ply between Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine the distance to be crossed would be reduced to seven or eight miles; and the risk, difficulty and expense in connection with the passage in the same proportion. With shorter and cheaper passages there would certainly be a large increase of traffic. This matter is well worthy the attention of Sir C. H. Tupper and the Government; and it is of the highest importance to this Province. But until it is settled or the tunnel or some other scheme adopted, we ought to be content with the well furnished and wonderfully powerful steamer which runs daily (weather permitting) between Georgetown and Pictou, though it is to be regretted that the rates are not lower. Captain Finlayson, Mr. D. Ryan, the purser, and Mr. Smith, the steward, and all the officers with whom the public are brought in contact, are highly efficient and popular, and the vessel is A1 in every respect—a credit to her designer, the builders and the Government.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Bank of Ottawa this year paid the usual handsome dividend of 8 per cent., and yet added $75,000 to the Rest fund, which now is within appreciable distance of a million dollars. This, although the capital is only a million and a half.

—The Montreal Gazette says: Cincinnati have spent $30,000 on relief works for the benefit of the unemployed poor is seeking to raise $50,000 more for the same purpose. This will come to Montrealers as a reminder of the hard days of '78, when a fly-on-the-wheel Government had control of Canada's affairs. There have been no public relief works in Montreal since the N. P. was established.

—The New York Press has not yet abandoned the idea of annexing Canada. In a recent editorial it pleads for "a reunited North America," and says:

"There is not a more inspiring proposition before the electorate of this country than the extension of the boundaries of the republic from the Gulf of Mexico to Artic sea, and from Newfoundland to Vancouver. This would open a vast field for American enterprise. In the Canadian Northwest there are more than one hundred millions of acres of valuable wheat lands to be settled and cultivated. There are immense forests of white pine to be manufactured into lumber; there is boundless mineral wealth to be developed, there are thousands of miles of railways to be constructed; ship canals to be built, and others to be enlarged. In short, Canada contains half a continent in a most healthful and invigorating climate, needing to be subdued and made to add to the necessities and comforts of humanity."

Personal.

The Pope celebrated mass in St. Peter's on Sunday in the presence of 15,000 people. His Holiness appeared to be in excellent health.

Captain Ray is endeavoring to suppress polygamy among the Indians on the Shoshone reservation in Wyoming, and there are signs of an outbreak against his authority.

Ballard Smith cables from London to the N. Y. World: While the Princess of Wales is recovering from an attack of influenza, it has, I am informed, left her completely deaf. Two leading specialists have been at Sandringham this week, but are unable to state positively as yet whether this affliction will be permanent or not. She has long suffered from partial deafness. The epidemic of influenza shows no sign of abatement, and in London alone during the past week 127 deaths were reported from this cause, against an average of only about 22 in the previous two weeks. It has been particularly violent in Parliament, and smoking eucalpytus cigarettes is the prevailing fashion. Dr. Mortimer Granville advises the use of alcohol rather than antipyrine.

OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

(The Week.)

It is to be hoped for the honor of Canadian public life that the current report, which represents a certain member of parliament for a New Brunswick constituency as having, shortly after the death of the late lamented Governor Boyd, telegraphed to Ottawa soliciting the appointment, is a misrepresentation. We should like much to be able to believe it untrue that any New Brunswick M. P.'s or any other persons whatever are striving as rivals to obtain the appointment. The Lt.-Governorships are the offices of highest dignity and emolument in the gift of the Canadian Government. It ought not to be too much to expect that at least these positions should be kept out of the arena of political wire pulling and the Government left free to select the very best men available to fill them. If there are any public offices in Canada which should seek the men and should not be sought by ambitious or mercenary aspirants, this is surely one of them. The very fact of its being openly claimed as a reward of party service, or a gift of personal friendship, should be accepted as proof conclusive of the unfitness of those making such claim for so dignified a position. Once let it become—it is already such—an understood custom that each Lieutenant-Governorship, as it becomes vacant, is to be looked upon as a prize set up in the political arena to be fought for and won by the competitor who can bring the strongest personal or party influence to bear upon the Government of the day, the people will not long continue to respect either the office or its incumbent as it is in every way desirable they should be respected. These Governorships are the analogues of a somewhat smaller scale of the Governor-Generalship. But how long could the Governor-General hope to retain the high respect and regard which are now so cheerfully accorded to the nobleman sent out from time to time to represent the British Government, were it known that the honor was put up for sale in the party market, and knocked down to the competitor who could bid highest in political or personal influence. If it be true that the office now vacant by so sad a fatality is being made the object of a struggle between rival claimants, it is to be hoped that the Government will consult its own dignity and the proprieties of the occasion by passing over all such aspirants and selecting some competent gentleman who is too modest and has too much respect for himself and the people to clamor for appointment to the highest position in the province.

HUNDREDS HOMELESS.

South Buffalo Swept by a Great Flood.

The greatest flood that has struck South Buffalo, N. Y., in a score of years occurred on Saturday night and Sunday morning. Swelled by the heavy rain and thaw of the previous twenty-four hours, Buffalo Creek overflowed its banks and flooded five square miles of territory in that section. The magnitude of the disaster can scarcely be appreciated as yet. Five hundred houses have been inundated and 2,500 persons rendered homeless. The streams of rushing waters met in a low land, and the overflow found progress toward the populated section in Erk and Seneeca streets.

As the waters rose persons living in the lowlands had to fly for their lives. The flood came so suddenly that household effects were left behind. The water rose to a depth of four feet and entered houses and swept away many movable articles. Live stock and fowl were drowned before their owners could liberate them. Persons rushed to upper rooms for safety and there awaited rescue.

All this took place amid the fury of wind and rain and in deep darkness, which added to the terror of the people. Word was sent to the police and a squad of officers set to work to rescue those imprisoned by the rushing water. Securing boats, they paddled from house and house and took inmates to places to safety. Others built improvised rafts, and with clothes poles propelled their crafts in safety. Thus whole families had to leave their homes to the mercy of the waters. It is impossible at this time to accurately estimate loss to property and streets, but it will certainly exceed $100,000.

COURT OF CHANCERY.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 19.

Elizabeth McDonald vs. Mark McDonald—Before the Master of the Rolls. This was an action arising out of the construction and operation of a certain deed drawn by a Justice of the Peace in the country, interpretation of which being somewhat in doubt. The complainant sought the aid of the court for the payment of an annuity, or rent charge, against her son Mark McDonald, and for other relief, but after the examination of the complainant, who is an aged woman, the parties came to a settlement.

COURT OF APPEAL IN EQUITY.

DOUBLE VICTORY.

It must be gratifying to our Canadian people to learn of the double victory at Chicago of the the well-known piano firm of Octavius Newcombe & Co., who have been awarded medal and diploma for both their upright and grand pianos. This is not only a signal victory for this firm, but a most flattering tribute to the possibilities of our manufacturing industries in Canada.

The judges on pianos at the Chicago Exposition made the following report upon the Newcombe Pianos: "The Newcombe pianos receive an award for tone quality of a high order of excellence, full and musical, with fine singing power and duration, well-made and well regulated action, firm, elastic and prompt touch. The best material and highest class of workmanship are found in these pianos. The cases are artistic and finished in the best manner." Mr. S. N. Earle is agent for the Island for these magnificent instruments.

The rages of influenza in Vienna are increasing. There is scarcely a family that is entirely free from the disease and the hospitals are crowded with sufferers. Diphtheria is also prevalent.

P. E. Baldwin, Superintendent of the Franklin Coal Co., was sandbagged on Saturday and robbed of $3,000 at Franklin, a superb of Westeport, Va. There is no clue to the assailants.

Steamship Australia arrived at San Francisco on the 15th, from Honolulu with advices to Dec. 9th. Up to that time there had been no change in the situation, but excitement was at fever heat.

At Chicago on the 14th a reunion was finally consummated between the Supreme Court Independent Order of Forresters, and the Illinois High Court of that order, which embraced a membership of $30,000.

Russia has declined France's offer of a naval station on the Mediterranean, as Admiral Avelan told the czar he could not guarantee the loyalty of officers and men if they were permitted to visit French ports regularly.

A despatch from Shanghai states that, through the efforts of M. Book, Swedish consul, China will pay $40,000 to the relatives of the Swedish missionaries, Wickholm and Johannsen, who were murdered by a mob at Sung Pu in July last.

Charles Schuyler, 35 years old, of Easton, N. Y., was scalded to death on the 14th. He was killing hogs and fell into the vat of boiling water. Other farm hands rushed to his assistance and dragged him out, but he lived only three hours.

William Kilby, of New Britain, Conn., has been out of work for the past three months. On Friday he was found with his wife and two children starving in a barn, having been put out of his house into the snow on Wednesday for non-payment of rent.

A meeting of nihilists in outskirts of Moscow was suprised by the police and Cossacks. A fight ensued in which 100 policemen were wounded. Five of the nihilists killed themselves by shooting rather than be arrrested, but 50 others were captured.

Salaries of city officials in British Columbia are now double what they are in the east. The high salary system was inaugurated when money was very easily acquired in British Columbia. Now that day has passed and the high salaries remain. The cost of living is 25 per cent. less than five years.

Vasily Vasilievich Bervy, the latest addition to the number of Russian refugees in London, is a remarkable man. He is 64 years old, and 26 of them have been spent in exile and imprisonment. He has been inside no less than thirty-two prisons and yet has committed no act humanity or civilization can regard as a crime.

A peculiar fatality happened on the Northern train at Barrie, Ont., on the 14th. A young man named Thomas Bert, of Hawkestone, had been in Barrie, being examined for the Ancient Order of Foresters. He passed a good examination and boarded the train for home. Five minutes later he was a dead man. His death is supposed to have been from heart failure.

The suit of the Attorney-General of Louisiana for the annulment of the charter of the Olympic Club has been decided by the jury against the state. The decision is that glove contests are not prize fights and as there is a law permitting contests with gloves of five ounces or over in weight, no objection can be offered to any more fights in New Orleans.

At a meeting of taxpayers at New London, Ct., it was decided to relieve the distress among the poorer classes of the community by giving them employment during the present cold weather. It was unanimously voted to extend the sum of $8,000 in necessary public work. This measure will afford considerable relief. Preference in giving out work will be made in favor of married men.

The United States is beginning to recognize in Canada a formidable competitor for trade in the Pacific, and is concerned accordingly. San Francisco does not view with complacency the establishment of the Canadian-Australian line of steamships, and the visit of Hon. Mackenzie Bowell to the antipodes has caused more comment at Washington than any recent move on Canada's part.

In the Divisional Court, at Toronto, lately, one McDonald, a superannuated minister, sued the Methodist Church for his superannuation allowance. His allowance has been paid from 1871 until 1890, when it was discontinued by the church authorities, McDonald having gone through the marriage ceremony with a woman, his first wife being alive. The plaintiff contended that expulsion from his church was irregular, as laymen had voted on it. The point was reserved.

Mrs. Elise Frank, of Michigan avenue, Chicago, who died the other day aged 81 years, left $2,200,000, the most of which she amassed by her own industry and management. Her husband was a poor man who was accidentally drowned, leaving her a large family to care for. She went to work to plan for them, and in thirty-nine years has been very successful. She was a Jewess, and was most liberal in her benefactions, not only to Jewish charities and families, but to almost all deserving objects. She was greatly respected in Chicago.

The taking of the preliminary evidence of the prosecution in the case of Mercier, Pelland and Demartigay, charged with conspiracy to blow up the Nelson monument at Montreal was finished on Saturday morning. Phister, chemist, stated that he examined the cap and primer of the cartridge found in the possession of the accused at the time of arrest. The cap contained fulminate of mercury to explode the cartridge. The three young men then pleaded not guilty to the charge laid against them and an adjournment was made untill Jan. 15.

Unhappy Business Men.

The most unhappy men in the world, when suffering from the effects of sudden colds, are business men. Sore throat, cough, hoarseness and irritation of the bronchial tubes are common troubles with all men of business. Any one of these troubles is sufficient to interfere with the thorough prosecution of business affairs. The merchant loses his wonted activity, vim and energy, and often finds himself unable to cope with surrounding difficulties.

A word of advice, even to the wise man of business, will perhaps work a world of good. When the first symptoms of cough and throat difficulties appear, make use of Harvard bronchial syrup; the results will be wonderful and astonishing. As a rule, two or three doses of this grand preparation are sufficient to banish any cough or cold.

Scores of our best business men always keep a bottle near them for cases of emergency. Twenty-five cents invested for a bottle of Harvard bronchial syrup often saves days and weeks of suffering and trouble.

Five Vessels Reported Missing.

LONDON, Dec. 21.

The House of Commons, 213 to 151, has rejected amendments made by the Lords to the Employers' Act. One amendment was the insertion of a clause allowing employers to contract out of the Act.

The following steamers were posted at Lloyd's as missing: Amoor (British), from Novo Cossick October 3 for Dunkirk, sailed from Malta November 11; Nyanza (British), from the Clyde November 16 for Leghorn; Ossian (British), from Odessa November 1 for Copenhagen, sailed from Malta November 8; Sir John Hawkins (British), from Mariaople, November 4, for Liverpool, passed Gibraltar November 13; William Hunter, British vessel. It is the general opinion that all five vessels foundered during the heavy gales in November.

Don't Forget Your Friends Abroad!

No more acceptable present can be sent to friends abroad than a copy of Carter's Prince Edward Island Almanac and Miscellaneous Directory. The one hundred large pages of this book contain the names of thousands of the most active and enterprising citizens of the "Tight Little Island"—Lieut. Governor, Judges, Legislators, Clergymen, Lawyers, Doctors, Educationalists, Justices of the Peace, Post Office and Customs officials, Temperance Society, leading Oddfellows, Masons, Militia officials and others, besides the advertisements of the leading merchants. Then there is a large amount of valuable information about our Island Province to be found nowhere else in so compact a form. Prince Edward Island people have emigrated to almost all lands, but they never forget their "Old Home." They would read with interest every page of this Almanac, noting the changes in names of those conducting the business and carrying on the affairs of their native place since they left it.
