Albion Desmarchais, No. 831 A. St. August St., Montreal, Quebec, Canada, says: "I could eat nothing that could be retained on the stomach for a whole day. ## NEWS FROM ALL POINTS.

SAVED BY HIS SWEETHEART'S PORTRAIT AND SOME LETTERS.

Killed by Dogs—Missionaries for Alaska—Royalty and Ireland—Other Interesting Items.

The greater part of Silesia has been revisited by severe storms, and several persons have been killed by lightning.

A story comes from Calgary that a local editor has been swindled out of $11,000 on a gold brick deal. With editors like that around there is no need of a smart fellow going to the Klondike.

John W. Rose, of Etna, Me, who has been confined in the Bangor pest house, suffering with a severe attack of diphtheria, escaped from that institution last Thursday night, and is still at large. Rose is in a dangerous condition.

At Pointe aux Esquimaux, Que., lately a 13-year-old girl, while on her way to the residence of a distant neighbor, was attacked and killed by dogs. The body was subsequently found on the road, partially devoured by the brutes.

Third rail service was commenced on the railway between New Britain and Berlin, Conn., on Thursday. The original two rail track is to be used by the steam freight trains, while the third rail cars are to be for passenger traffic.

A few days ago a bundle of love letters and his sweetheart's portrait in the breast pocket of the coat of John McNally, of Chicago, stopped a bullet and saved his life just as effectively as the soldier boy's New Testament ever did during the war of the rebellion.

It is positively announced that Mrs. Margaret Ferris, widow of the builder of the Chicago wheel, has been married in Pittsburg to Francis Schlatter, the divine healer of Canton. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ward, pastor of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland flatly refuses to marry Prince Bernhard of Saxe Weimar, whom her mother the Queen Regent Emma selected as the young Queen's husband. The little Queen declares she will remain single until 1899 (she was born Aug. 1880) and will then select her own husband.

The Victorian Government introduced a Bill providing for Government inspection, branding and grading of butter, meat, rabbits, poultry and fruit exported from the colony. The bill passed the Legislative Assembly, but was rejected by the Legislative Council by a majority of one.

Lightning struck the powder house of Reed & Sons at the lime kiln, two miles west of Port Colborne, Ont., last week. The shock was felt in Buffalo, St. Catharines. The roof of Foster's glass works, near by, was blown off, and in Colborne plate glass in windows was broken.

In New York last week a woman was fined $20 for taking passage on the steamship Southwark under her maiden name. The state board of special inquiry of that city imposed the fine and stated that being married she would be compelled to use her husband's name when travelling.

Royalty has not been very partial to Ireland. It is about forty years since the Queen last put her foot on Irish soil, and the Prince of Wales has not been there since Parnell was known as the "uncrowned king." The cable reports indicate that the Duke of York is receiving an enthusiastic reception.

Albert Roe, a farm laborer, who worked for Mr. Shaw, south of Millbrook, Ont., while under the influence of liquor instead upon feeding a steam thrasher. While reaching out for a sheaf he toppled over and fell into the machine, which literally ground off his head.

General Weyler denies the report that Evangelina Cosciocioneros, a young Cuban girl of eighteen of great beauty, gentle breeding and pure life, had been tried and sentenced to imprisonment for 20 years at the Spanish penal colony in Ceuta. The girl is the niece of the president of the Cuban republic.

Steve Brodie has cabled an offer of $50,000 each to Prince Henri of Orleans and General Albertone, to fight any duel that may occur between them before the kitescope, giving him exclusive right to the use of film, and offering an additional $10,000 if the duel last ten rounds. Brodie is a world beater.

Col. A. A. Pope the builder of bicycles and promoter of good roads, believes that in fifteen years there will be more horseless cabs, carriages and waggons in our large cities than there will be those drawn by horses. Then our farmers will have to raise something beside horses, and grow other crops in place of hay and oats. What shall they be.

A movement auxiliary to the temperance crusade has been started in Harper, Kansas, by the young women of the churches there by their forming an organization and taking a pledge not to go with men who drink, smoke or use profane language. The meeting was called by the daughter of the Rev. Henry Farwell.

The engineers who are following with a railway the advance of the troops in the Sudan, have by boring found water at unexpected places in the desert. This may not be the least of the benefits the thrashing of the Mahdists will bring to the country. The resident of the desert would give a Klondike claim any day for a well.

General Azcarraga, Spanish premier and minister of war, has decided to convoke the Cortes in November. He announces that he is in accord with General Weyler, but he reserves the right to make a further examination of the Cuban question. The premier proclaims himself as being the head of the government, and will meet the leader of any party.

Now that the European anarchists are on the war-path again, the common people will feel that there is some satisfaction in being without rank, title or high place. The various princes and rulers will enjoy a much-needed relief from the usual ennui that clouds their days. This anarchistic flourish may be called a rattling of dry bones.

The furnishings of Government House, Fredericton, are being sold at public auction. A mahogany easy chair, in the Royal chamber which was occupied by the Prince of Wales, during his stay in Fredericton, was sold to Mrs. A. F. Randolph for $40.50. Mr. F. I. Morrison paid $43 for a mahogany dressing table, the highest figure paid for a single article during the sale.

The battleship Yashima, launched recently in England for Japan, showed on her trial trip that she is the fastest battleship afloat, and one of the world's greatest fighting machines. She is 272 feet long, with 73 feet beam and 26 3/4 draught, and has 12,400 tons displacement. Under one and one-half air pressure for four hours she made 19.22 knots, and for a single hour 19.46 knots.

Philip Fuhr was arraigned in the Essex Market Court, New York, last week for theft, and desired to make a clean breast of the affair, but he stammered so badly that he was unable to do so. Then Sergt. Colton asked the prisoner if he could sing, and if he could he might sing the story. It was then to the tune of "Annie Laurie" that the prisoner gave a full account of the affair.

It has been determined that the X rays would not be practicable in detective work in the customs as some ingenious soul has suggested. The process has so frequently proved injurious to the tissues of those exposed to it than "Cosmo" anticipates endless suits for damages from suspected smugglers. We are yet far from the moment, it is said, when a man's or a woman's shadowgraph will constitute an official pass.

Charles Harford of Victoria B. C., who claims to have located the Cocco's Island treasure says he will organize an expedition there to go down and get the treasure unless he hears from the Costa Rican Government, who placed him on the Island. At any rate a steamer will have to be sent down to bring home two members of the crew of the Aurora who remained to search for the treasure.

Horse dealers in France are apparently no longer able to supply the demand for the flesh of that animal in Paris. An order from the French capital for five thousand barrels of horse meat has been received by a company in Portland, Ore. The animals used are the half wild cayuse of Oregon, which are bought for about $2.50 each. As the use of horseflesh for food seems to be growing in several foreign countries it may become a profitable article for export.

M. Cabalzar, a French aeronaut, whose name suggests that he comes from the land of Tartarin of Tarascon, reports that he met with a strange adventure in a recent ascent from Annecy in Savoy. Feeling that the balloon was being pulled violently, he looked out, and was amazed to see a gigantic eagle climbing, with extended wings, down the ropes towards the car. Here it remained starting fixely as M. Cabalzar, till the balloon neared the ground an hour afterward, when it was frightened away by the shouts of a crowd of peasants.

Mrs. Gussie Campbell-Spence-Winslow has eloped from St. Lewis to Alton, Ill., and secretly married her husband Will Spencer. She had been divorced but two days from Dr. Jack Winslow, when she made her latest move in her retrogressive game of matrimony. Her second husband wedded the recently divorced wife of Walter Marder, of the Marder-Luse Type Foundry trust at Kansas City. The engaging Gussie has been twice divorced and twice married in the past. She obtained a decree of divorce and was awarded $5,000 damages from a suburban railroad on the same day, May 22 last.

Towards the far-off Klondike gold fields two missionaries are journeying who intend to cross the Alaskan mountains to the head waters of the Yukon and then drift down to the mining camps. They are Rev. S. Hall Young of Worcester Mass., and Rev. Geo. A. McEwen, of Farmington Mo., who are sent out by the Presbyterian Church. Both have served before in Alaskan mission work as it is carried on along the coast and in the most favored parts of the Yukon valley among the natives, but if they reach the Klondike fields and establish a church among the miners there they will be the pioneers in that field. The Presbyterian Church planted its standard in Alaska as early as 1877.

The industrial war in Pennsylvania presents some novel features. The striking miners by the moderation of their conduct have excited much public sympathy. Leaders and men have determined to keep within the bounds of the law and less bitterness than is common characterizes the relation between the employers and employees. Miners from all sections of the district have marched to the De Armit mines, and are camping out, with semi-military order and discipline, in the vicinity. Their object is to induce the working miners to join the strike and make it universal. Their peaceful conduct is commended by the press. Liquor is prohibited upon the grounds, and through the liberality of visitors the commissariat is full and varied.

"Only nervous" is a sure indication that the blood is not pure. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and cures nervousness.

THE CAMPANA arrived here last evening about six o'clock, and left again about eleven. She had a general cargo and a full list of passengers.

Besides a fracture of two ribs and breaking a leg, he received severe internal injuries. Though in a precarious condition, hopes are entertained of his recovery.

DAMAGE BY LIGHTNING.—The Summer-side correspondent of the Guardian says:—A heavy thunder storm, accompanied by wind and rain, passed over the western section of the Island Sunday evening. On the O'Leary Road about ten miles from O'Leary station two barns belonging to Mr. Thomsen Smilman were struck by lightning and burnt with nearly all their contents, including about 35 tons of hay, a new threshing machine and a horse belonging to Mr. John Sillicker which happened to be in one of the barns at the time. A horse standing alongside of the one killed escaped unhurt and was taken out of the building. A binder and other farming implements were also saved. Mr. Smilman's loss is estimated at nearly $1000. O'Leary Road seems to be our Island cyclone belt. This barn was twisted and nearly carried away by a cyclone while in course of erection about five years ago.
