

THE DAILY EXAMINER

JULY 20, 1882.

Hon. Mr. Prowse Again in the Field!

The first result of the convenient trick of running a member of the House of Assembly for the Commons of Canada is a new election in Murray Harbor District.

All troubles and annoyances have their compensations; and it is pleasing to know that, in the trouble and annoyance of another contest, the people of Murray Harbor will have a chance to make amends for the mistake they committed in the last election.

That mistake is, we believe, deeply regretted. A tried and true man was rejected for one who deserted the district (on the first opportunity) to promote his selfish ends.

Requisitions in which Hon. Mr. Prowse is desired again to come to the front in their behalf, have been signed by large numbers of electors throughout the district.

These requisitions were presented yesterday. It is stated that among the signatures are those of persons who voted against Mr. Prowse at the general election, as well as of many who did not, at that time, vote at all.

Relying upon these evidences of coming success, Mr. Prowse is again in the field.

There are many good reasons why the candidature of Mr. Prowse should be successful. Mr. Prowse is one of the most deserving members of the most deserving Government the Province ever had. In the promotion of the interests of the Island, no one now in the local arena has taken a more prominent part. He is the leader of the agitation for improved Winter Communication according to the Terms of Union. He has battled fearlessly and successfully for public improvements in the Province, and the Murray Harbor District. He never turned his back upon his duty in the country in order to gain a Party or a personal advantage.

Mr. Prowse will undoubtedly receive a warm and vigorous support in this election; and be triumphant.

The Murray Harbor Election.

How the people of Murray Harbor feel about this matter is shown by the following extract from a letter written by one of the deceived electors:—

"The electors of the Fourth District of King's County are again called upon to select a representative for the Local House. It is but natural that men should exhibit some feelings of resentment, when they find that they have been the dupes of deception and the victims of ingratitude; that their votes and their influence have been employed to further the miserable ends of a clique of schemers; and that the utmost indifference and contempt have been shown for their authority,—and that, too by creatures of their own creation.

That the election of Dr. Robertson to a seat in our local Parliament would be productive of little good and much evil might have been predicted from a consideration of his past career in the political field. Every fair-minded man will admit, and the most zealous supporter of the Liberal Party cannot deny, that the political career of the Doctor has been an exceedingly tortuous one. Very few have forgotten his treachery to another political Doctor, who was nominated to contest this District in conjunction with him. Many still love to linger over those days when he was induced to desert his constituents in order to pave the way for one more ambitious, and still wonder whether the half of that transaction has ever been told. All occasionally refresh their memories with his failings under the Davies' administration—how, at first, he cordially supported the Government. How, then his allegiance gradually became unstable, and how at last the resignation of Conservative members restored at once his confidence in the Government and his seat in the Cabinet. On presenting himself for re-election, the people thought it wise not to overlook his faults and at once gave him an opportunity to atone for his political sins by quietly resigning him to a merited solitude for a period of four years. Recent events show that he has not made a profitable use of the time allowed him for repentance. No sooner was he placed in an honorable position by the people than he at once abandoned the interests to which he was commissioned to attend, and sought to obtain a more dignified and remunerative position, without condescending to call a single meeting of his constituents and without making the least attempt to consult their wishes. The Doctor must again be charged with a violation of pledges, a betrayal of his constituents, and an unnecessary expenditure of public money for the appointment of his successor. But it is not to be doubted that the intelligent electors of Murray Harbor will visit with their just punishment the men to whom gratitude is a stranger, and political rectitude is a virtue unknown.

School Inspection.

A CORRESPONDENT speaks very highly of Mr. Montgomery, Superintendent of Education; and brings some rather vague charges against Mr. Curran, one of the Inspectors of Schools. We have no doubt the praise of Mr. Montgomery is well deserved; but we question the charges against Mr. Curran, and shall require that they be explicitly stated over the name of the writer before giving them publicity. By the most reliable advices, received from time to time, we have been led to the conclusion that Mr. Curran is, on the whole, a capable official, striving to do his duty to the best of his ability; and we do not care to damage this good character without sufficient proof that it is not deserved.

The services in connection with the anniversary of the Prince Street Sunday School, will be held in the Brick Church, Sunday evening next, 23rd instant, at 6:30 p. m. The Rev. John Burwash, M. A., will preach the anniversary sermon. The children of the Sunday School will occupy the gallery and conduct the singing. The annual picnic will be held the following Thursday. See advt.

Resignation of the Nova Scotia Government.

THE resignation of the Nova Scotia Government is announced. Hon. P. C. Hill has been asked to form a new administration. It is not likely that there will be a radical change of policy; but the Governmental expenditures will, probably, be increased—they usually increase when the Grits are in—and there will likely be a corresponding loss in administrative efficiency.

The Canada Temperance Act.

A Souris correspondent asks the following questions regarding the "Canada Temperance Act":—

1. The time the "Scott Act" expires in this Province? 2. Whether it came into force, (a) from the date of the election; (b) the time it was put in operation on the Island; (c) or from the date of the decision of the Privy Council?

If our correspondent will turn to the 97th section of "The Canada Temperance Act 1878," he will see that the order in Council bringing into force the second part of that Act in King's County cannot be revoked until after the expiration of three years from the date that the second part of the Act came into force in that County; and after the expiry of that period, and not before, upon a petition addressed to the Governor-General, signed by at least one-fourth of the electors of King's County, an election can be held; and if a majority of votes are cast against the continuation of the second part of the Act, the Governor-General shall revoke the Order in Council that originally brought it into force.

In other words the Act will continue in force until the people at the polls decide against it, which they cannot have the opportunity of doing until after the expiry of three years from the time the Act first came in operation.

Queries Answered.

In reply to a question regarding the state of political parties in the House of Commons, G. B., we offer the following to our esteemed correspondent W. H. B.:—

On April 24th, 1880, the returns showed that the Liberals numbered 352, the Conservatives 237, and the Home Rulers 62, which made the Liberal majority 53 over the Conservatives and Home Rulers combined. The total number of Conservative votes recorded was 1,412,956, and of the Liberal votes 1,877,290. The Liberal majorities averaged 630 votes, whilst those of the Conservatives averaged 138. At the close of last year the Liberals had lost thirteen seats, and only won two. What was still more significant at that time was the fact that the polls showed a comparative increase of Conservative strength, which bodes ill for the return of a Liberal majority at next election large enough to dispense with the assistance of the Home Rulers.

Regarding the second question, "How many English Privy Councillors are there, and their names?" we refer our correspondent to "Whitaker's Almanac," page 91, where the full list of names is given. These we regret to say are too numerous for us to print in full. It may be of interest to note that the list of Privy Councillors now includes the members of the Royal Family, the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, the Bishop of London, the great officers of State, the Lord Chancellor and judges of the Courts of Equity, the Chief Justice of the Courts of Common Law, the Ecclesiastical and Admiralty Judges, the Judge Advocate, and several of the Puisne Judges. Then come the Speaker of the House of Commons, the Ambassadors, some of the Ministers Plenipotentiary and Governors of Colonies, the Commander-in-Chief, the Master-General of the Ordnance, the First Lord of the Admiralty, and also sometimes, a Junior Lord of the Admiralty. Necessarily, all the members of the Cabinet are on the list. Then we notice that the Vice-President of the Board of Trade, the Paymaster of the Forces, and the President of the Poor-law Board are generally members. The remainder is made up of noted persons who have filled responsible offices under the Crown.

Provincial Exhibition, 1882.

The Committee appointed at the general meeting of the Board of Commissioners, held on Tuesday, July 11th, for the purpose of preparing the Prize List for the Provincial Exhibition, 1882, met at the Secretary's office, on Tuesday, July 18th. Hon. Senator Haythorne, Chairman of the Committee, prepared a Prize List, which, after some alterations, was agreed upon by the meeting, and will be submitted for approval at the general meeting of the Board, to be held at the Law Courts Building, Charlottetown, on Tuesday next, July 25th, at eleven o'clock, a. m. The Prize List Committee agreed upon several important additions to last year's Prize List, and also added a third prize to several of the more important classes, such as horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, poultry, etc.

THE P. E. I. Baptist Association met with the North River Baptist Church, and organized by appointing:— Rev. C. C. Burgess, Moderator. Rev. A. H. Lavers, and Bro. J. B. Leard, Clerks. Bro. N. Davies, Treasurer.

The returns in the letters were very incomplete. The number of churches is now 24, (two new ones), pastors 20, baptisms 96, received by letter 13, restored 4, dismissed 57, excluded 31, died 19, resident membership 1,123, non-resident 298, present membership 1,658, report d last year 1,491, church edifices 21, parsonages 4. The next meeting of the Association is to be held with the Summerside church.

A WELL-KNOWN retail dry goods dealer in Montreal, Mr. S. Carley, has initiated a movement which others in the same line of business will probably follow. On Saturday last he began the closing of his extensive stores at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, intending to continue the practice for the summer months. The male clerks made this the occasion of a sort of jubilee, and had a procession of carriages, headed by a brass band and a picnic. The employees of the firm number over a hundred.

The Murray Harbor Election. Meeting at Springfield

Grits Divided in Opinion.

A FUNNY SCENE.

The contest has now fairly begun, and the political bitterness and wrangling that should have been ended by this time, have been called into play by the sin of one man.

The Grits show symptoms of disorganization, and seem to find some difficulty in selecting a suitable man to be their standard bearer. The political clique at Montague, were, through individual jealousies and mutual distrust, unable to nominate a candidate for political honors, and the choice was reserved for a meeting of the party held at Springfield on Saturday last. At first very little information could be received respecting the character of the meeting, and people were divided in opinion as to whether it was intended to be a public meeting of both parties, or a private caucus of the leaders of the Grit party.

When the hour for opening arrived and the meeting was organized, it was found that there were present, not only Grit delegates from different sections of the district, but also a few Conservatives, who had gone thither under the impression that both parties would be represented. M. McFadyen, Esq., M. P. P., spoke briefly and explained that the object of the meeting was, not the discussion of political topics, but the nomination of a candidate to run in opposition to Mr. Prowse. The Conservatives present at once prepared to withdraw, assigning as reasons for their presence the general uncertainty and difference of opinion that had prevailed respecting the object of the meeting. Thereupon a scene took place which baffles description, and clearly indicates the want of harmony prevalent in the Grit camp.

Some arose and claimed that the meeting was open to both parties; others declared that it was merely a convention of Liberal delegates; while others maintained that it was open to all true and loyal Grits, and all men of moderate views; but that those who were hopelessly steeped in Conservative doctrines could not be allowed to participate. Dr. Robertson failed to cast any light on the knotty problem; the chairman asserted his belief that it was open to all who choose to come; and one man, whose name deserves to be handed down to posterity, proposed to remove all difficulties, by making a motion that the meeting be declared a public one. This extraordinary proposal was received with much laughter; and the Conservatives, after pithily alluding to the attempt made to convert a Grit caucus into an open meeting of both parties, thanked the chairman for his impartial conduct in the chair, and thereupon retired.

It was afterwards ascertained that a majority of the delegates had declared in favor of Mr. George Wightman, and he was accordingly nominated to contest the District in the interests of the Liberal party. SPECTATOR.
