Boston Executive Held In Canadian Bond Theft Case

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A Boston executive was seized at his Connecticut home Sunday and charged with receiving a number of Canadian bonds stolen in multi-million-dollar sums from two Canadian banks.

He was identified by the FBI as Bernard J. Ezhaya, 45, president of Industrial Relations Associates Inc. of Boston.

At a hearing here before U.S. Commissioner Robert H. Alcorn Ezhaya was accused by the government of entering into a "devious scheme" to get money from the bonds.

Counsel for Ezhaya, the father of five children, called him "an unfortunate dupe of someone else."

Special FBI agent Edward J. McCabe said Ezhaya was arrested at his home at New London. He was brought here for arraignment on a charge of violating the interstate transportation of stolen property statute.

At the hearing which followed the judge found probable cause and bound Ezhaya over to U.S. district court under $50,000 bond.

McCabe said $1,789,400 in negotiable bonds were taken Jan. 25, 1956 in a burglary of the Caisse Nationale d'Economie, an insurance firm of Montreal.

On May 3, 1958, the Brockville Trust and Savings Company of Brockville, Ont., was burglarized of $2,550,000 worth of bearer bonds, registered bonds, jewelry and cash.

Some $76,000 in bonds stolen from the company were recovered, the FBI said.

The victim of the Montreal burglary which occurred during the weekend of Jan. 26 last, was Caisse Nationale d'Economie, a city insurance firm.

The caisse's safe was cracked in methodical, professional fashion by burglars who set up their own alarm system to ward off intruders.

One man already has been sentenced in connection with the theft. Jean Paul Pelletier, 50, of Montreal, is serving a five-year penitentiary term May 13 after pleading guilty to illegally possessing $9,500 worth of the stolen bonds.

Pelletier's arrest in Quebec City came after Sgt. Leo Plouffe of the Montreal police department made a trip to Europe to investigate reports that some of the stolen bonds had turned up there.

Raids in Switzerland, New York City, Miami, Montreal and Quebec City resulted in the recovery of at least $792,000 of the stolen bonds.

At least five persons, excluding Ezhaya, were arrested in the case.

In the Brockville, Ont., robbery thieves cut their way through the ceiling of the Brockville Trust and Savings Company and looted three vaults and 34 safety deposit boxes. They took $10,000,000 in bearer bonds, registered securities, stock certificates, jewelry and cash. Police believe five persons were involved.

Almost a ton of safe-cracking equipment was left at the scene. Discovery of a bankbook in the debris led to the arrest at Montreal of Rene Martin, 23, recovery of $7,000,000 in loot, most of it registered securities.

Nov. 20 Martin pleaded guilty to burglary charges. He is to be sentenced Nov. 28. During Martin's trial a crown attorney used the $10,000,000 figure as the official estimate of the loot and said it was "probably the biggest bank robbery in North American history."

Economic, Social, Spiritual Development Baha'i Concern

"All Baha'is in the Maritimes and throughout the world are concerned about the economic, social and spiritual development of their own communities, and of the entire world," R.W. Nablo of Saint John said at a meeting of the Charlottetown Baha'is in the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

"The Baha'i World Faith inspires its followers to work toward world unity, to combat ignorance, prejudice and, in short, to build a new divinely directed world civilization. Baha'is support and encourage all individuals and groups with these same purposes and ideals," he continued.

"They identify themselves with the Baha'i Faith because they believe the teachings of the founder constitute a new revelation from God for the world as it is today. All the major religions of the world are considered to have been founded by God's messengers, and at regular intervals in history a new messenger has come with a renewal of the spiritual truths of past centuries, a renewal of the Power of God and new social teachings.

Mr. Nablo presented a film entitled "Fires of Envy" which illustrated vividly the tragic result of the practice of prejudice in a Western Canadian community. He concluded his remarks by recommending the independent investigation of truth as the first step toward the gradual elimination of intolerance and ignorance both in our own communities and in the world.

Mr. Nablo is a Baha'i from Saint John Vocational School.
