THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 20, 1895.

THE SITUATION AS TO NEWFOUNDLAND.

The financial position of Newfoundland is such that she "must do something." Several courses have been pointed out for her adoption. It is said that she can raise a loan or sell out to the States, and it is certain that she can enter the Canadian confideration upon fair and reasonable terms or go back to the condition of a Crown Colony of Great Britain.

Money-lenders, whether in the States or Great Britain or elsewhere, will be apt to look askanse upon the bonds of a country which has been brought to the brink of ruin by the reckless politicians to whom her interests are entrusted. They will probably require guarantees for better management in the future before advancing money to meet the pressing obligations of the colony. Such guarantees cannot be supplied at short notice. The United States might possibly come to the rescue if there were reasonable ground for the hope that they could ultimately obtain possession of the country. But the people of Newfoundland are not likely to consent to such a scheme upon such terms, whether set forth or merely implied; and it is very well understood that Uncle Sam will not speculate in a future controlled by Great Britain. The immediate necessity may be temporarily relieved by the Banks and Newfoundland may gain more time and be able to "look about a little." But it is hard to see how she can, at the last, avoid going into Confederation or becoming a Crown Colony.

On the part of Canada there is, we believe, a general disposition to grant to Newfoundland everything that can, with justice to the Dominion at large, be given; and if the terms offered can in any way be amended without absolute injustice to the people of Canada at large, it will readily be conceded that the amendment ought to be made. We recognize the importance of the position occupied by Newfoundland and the great value of her fisheries, her forests and her mines. Under proper management and united with the neighboring Dominion of Canada, there is a great future in store for that Island. If an union were consummated upon the terms offered by Canada, Newfoundland would at once be relieved from financial distress, and her people would at once and forever enjoy all the advantages of trade with the larger half of the American continent, besides having her public services provided for and being eventually made a principal point upon the line of travel between America and Europe, while it would still have absolute Home Rule as to Provincial affairs. It is questionable whether the rejection of such terms is, under the circumstances, justifiable. Perhaps when the people of Newfoundland come to think the matter over in connection with the pressing necessities of a heavy debt which their government cannot pay, they may feel inclined to be a little more reasonable about the matter That it would be dangerous for the Government of Canada to offer terms materially better than those which they have offered is proved by the tone of the Opposition press. For example, the Halifax Chronicle says:

"No one will pretend to say that the terms of union offered by the Dominion Government to Newfoundland are not generons in the extreme—so generous, in fact, that they may fairly be chargeable with unfairness in some respects to the people of the older provinces, and particularly the original provinces of confederation. The taxpayers of Canada will hardly be expected to mourn if Newfoundland, as is now expected, should reject the terms offered. It is not, of course, to be forgotten that no little consideration is due to our sister colony in her unfortunate financial plight, but while disposed to be generous to the ancient colony, Canada must not forget to be just to her own people, whose burden of debt and taxation are already, in all conscience, sufficiently onerous. . . . .

The terms proposed by Newfoundland would add $16,000,000 to our debt at one stroke; irrespective of future contingencies, and increase our annual expenditure by at least $1,750,000, bring it dangerously near $40,000,000. Such terms cannot for a moment be entertained. As to Canada's offer, no matter how desirable it may be to have Newfoundland incorporated in the confederation, the people of this country need not regret if it is rejected by the ancient colony.

The Toronto Globe also declares that "the terms offered by Canada are so extremely liberal that that it is difficult to understand why they were not jumped at by the other party to the negotiations." But the Montreal Star maintains that, on the other hand, a trumpery $5,000,000 ought not to stand in the way of union. The truth of the matter is that, if the terms were accepted, Newfoundland would still enter the union in debt, and this she does not care to do. So she wants "Better Terms" to make up the balance of debt incurred by her politicians.

—The Toronto Globe, comparing the present with the past Conservative governments, says of Sir John Macdonald that every step of his career showed strength, purpose and resolution. Upon which the Toronto Globe remarks that when he was alive the Globe used to call Sir John Old Tomorrow and accuse him of dilly-dallying when the country's dearest interests were at stake. Perhaps, when in due time the present Premier pays the debt of nature, the Globe will compare his Conservative successor with him as disadvantageously as it now compares him with Sir John Macdonald. It seems to be a Liberal's weakness not to see the strong points of a Conservative leader till he is dead. Conservatives recognize them while he is alive, and so get ahead in the race.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Nicaraguan difficulty was ended on Thursday last by the payment of the $75,000 indemnity demanded by Great Britain.

—The Boot and Shoe Recorder, of Boston reports that the advance of hides within the year has been just about 100 per cent, and says that the cause lies in the fact that there is a shortage of cattle the world over.

—Boston Standard: "Canada has refused to assume Newfoundland's debt of $15,000,000, and England has declined to interfere. There is a nation of 70 million of people, southwest of Newfoundland, who might respond on a sort of third and last call."

—"Industry hums," remarks a rabid Democratic free trade organ in New York. And the Boston Standard replies: "Of course industry hums, but our free trade friend can wager his last cent that the principal reason it does hum is because the next Congress to sit at Washington will be Republican by one hundred and thirty-five majority."

—Montreal Gazette: It was noted a fortnight ago that the journals which were most severe in their blame of the Government for spending too much money and not going far enough in its economy, were the most pronounced in condemning the curtailment of the militia vote. Now, the local Liberal paper which is most consistently severe on the ministers for their extravagance is the most anxious that the Finance Minister should give Mr. Stiles a quarter of a million dollars to spend on an exhibition. Opposition economy is a good deal like Artemus Ward's patriotism. Artemus was willing that all his wife's relations should go to war; Liberals are willing that the appropriation for everything but their own pet project should be cut down.

—Lt.-Governor Schultz in his report on Keewatin says that United States vessels wintered at Marble Island in Hudson's Bay, and pursued the same destructive methods as in past years which caused the almost complete extinction of animal life in these waters; and he repeats the warning that unless some control is exercised over the present mode of killing the seals and walrus, they will soon become utterly exterminated. "These foreign seamen not only capture and kill whales and seals in our waters, but also obtain from the Indians furs and other articles in exchange for goods upon which no duty is paid. A great proportion of these goods are of classes which are prohibited by our laws from being introduced among the Indians. Attention is called by him to the fact of the American whaling fleet annually entering the Arctic Ocean from Behring Sea and carrying on the same destructive method of capture and the same illegal traffic with the Eskimos. "This has been going on to a much increased extent of late owing to the discovery of the important Arctic harbor at Herschell Island, about one hundred miles west of one of the mouths of the Mackenzie river, where numbers of these whaling vessels pass the winter."

—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of business says: There is little or no change in the business situation at Toronto. In some lines the volume of trade was interrupted by the cold and frosty weather at the beginning of the week, but aside from this the general sentiment is the same as reported a week ago. The firmness of prices for leading staples is the encourging feature. An important feature is the improvement in railway earnings. Those of the Grand Trunk for April and the first half of May are greater than for the same period of last year, and those of the C. P. R., for the first week of May show an increase, which is the first in many weeks. Such facts are evidences of the improved state of the internal trade of the country. A further advance in hides has taken place this week. The leather market holds firm in consequence, and in some cases advances are noted. In the grocery line the feature is sugars. All leading markets are higher for this staple, and Toronto dealers have raised granulated ¼c. to 1⅛c. The dry goods and hardware men seem to be pretty well satisfied with trade and speak hopefully of the future. Taken as a whole the trade situation at Montreal may be said to be improved; noteworthy failures have been few of late, and more liberal remittances are being reported from a good many sections, though requests for renewals are still more frequent than desirable. Money is in better demand at the banks, making rates firmer. The cold spell of last week caused a considerable break into retail stocks of summer goods, which has been somewhat checked by the return of cold weather, but wholesalers report satisfactory sorting business, with a moderate sprinkling of orders for fall goods, principally tweeds, knitted underwear, and some lines of woollens.

THE STUDENTS' THANKS.

The series of lectures recently delivered by the Master of the Rolls to the law students of this city was ended for this season on Saturday afternoon. On Friday evening the students held a special meeting at which the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, It is fitting that we should give expression to our appreciation of Dr. Hodgson's kind efforts in our behalf in the matter of his law lectures with which we have again been favored during the past four months—lectures which must have cost him much time and no ordinary research, and which at this period of our legal life is undoubtedly invaluable to us all,—

Be it therefore resolved that we place on record our deep sense of indebtedness to the Master of the Rolls, to whom our thanks are due for his great assistance to us in our legal studies during the past winter, and that our secretary forward to him a copy of this resolution, coupled with the hope that the future may satisfy the learned Doctor that his patient efforts have borne fruit alike creditable to his instruction and of value to ourselves and our future calling.

NOTES ABOUT THE NORTHWEST.

Three thousand two hundred and nine settlers with their families took up homesteads in the Northwest last year.

The Manitoba school lands fund held in trust by the Dominion now amounts to $337,523, the sum of $11,145 in interest having been paid to the province last year.

The crops of Manitoba and the Northwest last year realized between thirteen and fourteen million dollars, exclusive of live stock, poultry, dairy products, etc.

The total net revenue from Dominion lands since 1872 amounts to $9,362,333 of which last year's receipts were $245,525.

Manitoba is going to raise a great crop of flax this year. Its sowing is still being continued to an extent only limited by the supply of seed in the market.

Eight hundred and fifty settlers with their families, making a total of 2,588 souls, came into Canada from the States in 1894, as compared with 2,360 the year before. "These," the report says, "belong to the very best class of settlers." One-fourth of them were returning Canadians.

The progress of the irrigation movement is thus summarized in the report of the Minister of the Interior: "The results which have followed the application of water, through the systems constructed, have in all cases been successful and encouraging. In some instances they have been beyond expectation, and there is now no reason to doubt that through irrigation a large portion of Assiniboia and Alberta, within which it has hitherto been impossible to raise every year crops dependent on the rainfall, will be made productive and subject to extensive agricultural operations and settlement."

The deputy minister of the interior says in his report: "The visit of General Booth to Canada, and the indication he has given of an intention to formulate some scheme for the establishment of a colony in the Northwest under the auspices of the Salvation Army are events of such recent occurance that it will be unnecessary for me to make any extended reference to them here. It may be well to state that up to the present time no colonization proposition of any kind has reached this department from General Booth."

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

LONDON, May 18.—A despatch to the Times from Tientsin says that France, Germany and Russia object to any financial scheme under which China shall confer special rights on any nation. This frustrates the reported proposals of an American syndicate to advance the amount of the indemnity demanded by Japan on the security of concession of the right to build a railway in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Another army is about to invade China; the Salvation Army is going to try to conquer the Orient and bring millions of Chinese into the field of Christianity. The leader of the movement is Fong Foo Sing, a young Chinese member of the Salvation Army in this city.

LONDON, May 17.—The People publishes a sensational statement by the Tichborne claimant which is virtually a confession of his fraudulent attempts to obtain the Tichborne estates and titles. He admits that he is Arthur Orton, son of a butcher of Wapping. The statement is accompanied by a sworn affidavit by the claimant attesting the truth of his confession.

LYNN, Mass., May 17.—An explosion of dynamite this morning in the cellar of E. D. Dearborn's house caused the house to rise twenty feet in the air. It fell back, but the underpinning was blown out and one side of the building torn entirely out. The structure as a whole, was wrecked from garret to basement. Mrs. Dearborn and her mother were knocked down by the shock but escaped injury. Dearborn is a contractor. He intended to remove the dynamite to-day. The cause of the explosion is not known.

LONDON, May 18.—The correspondent of the Times at Tientsin reports that a famine exists in the northern part of Peshili. The centre of the distress is Kai Ping.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Investigation has resulted in showing that California is being flooded with cheap Japanese labor, every steamer from the Orient, Honolulu, and Victoria bringing laborers in large numbers in violation of the Alien Contract Labor law. Within the last year about 10,000 Japanese have found employment on farms and in vineyards, and white farm hands are idle by thousands.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld, May 17.—It is unanimously felt by all shades of public opinion that confederation with Canada is impossible on the terms submitted yesterday to the legislature. The disposition is general to blame England for refusing assistance to complete the union. Several members of the Government still hope that England will give help yet. The Government is to present the budget on Tuesday. It is expected to show a deplorable condition of affairs. The statement from the Ottawa conference made the whole debt and outstanding obligation for finishing the railway $15,000,000. A drastic retrenchment scheme is in preparation by which officials' salaries will be reduced 10 and 20 per cent. It is feared that this will increase the general depression and add to the tide of emigration.

FRANKFORD, May 17.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a despatch from St. Petersburg saying that Russia will occupy certain ports in Corea until the conditions she imposes upon Japan shall have been satisfied. Sixteen thousand Russian troops will be concentrated on the frontier in readiness for service in the event of Japan refusing to agree to this claim.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 17.—The Novoe Vremya says that a Russian protectorate of Corea is necessary to protect Russian merchants there from Japanese competition. The Moscow Gazette says that a military, stable, and financial power like Russia alone has the right to hold Corea. The paper adds that if any power should object to Russia's holding that country it would be a mark of avowed unfriendliness with which Russia would know how to deal.

BIG FIRE IN HALIFAX

$300,000 GONE UP IN SMOKE.

Railway Wharves, Etc, Destroyed.

HALIFAX, May 20.

Halifax suffered a three hundred thousand dollar fire yesterday morning, and there was not a cent's worth of insurance on the property destroyed. It started on the Intercolonial Railway's long wharf, in the cattle shed. Both wharf and shed, in which were sixty fat cattle just arrived from Ontario, were soon consumed, as well as the freight and immigration sheds. Next to go were the immense coaling pier, trestle-work and wharf, on which were a number of loaded coal cars. On the surrounding tracks were a great number of empty and loaded cars. A locomotive got the bulk of them out of danger, although quite a number loaded with hay were burned. The property was owned by the Dominion Government, and consequently was not insured. The loss is estimated to reach nearly $300,000. Leaman & Co., besides the cattle lost two cars of hay and two of feed. Their loss is $10,000 No insurance. McMullen, of Truro, lost $1,000 worth of lumber, uninsured, and there were other trifling losses. The big iron ship Ancyra, which was loading at the Long Wharf, had a very narrow escape. The fire is believed to be the work of an incendiary. It is only a few months ago that the other terminus of the railway was destroyed by fire, and the loss of this one means great inconvenience to shipping and commercial circles.
