A W. C. T. U. CONVENTION will be held in this city on the 18th of May. Public meeting in the evening. w31—ap26

ODDFELLOWS' PARADE.—Although the Oddfellows' parade has been postponed until Sunday forenoon, the orchestral concert will take place to-night.

To-NIGHT.—Go to the Lyceum to-night and hear Major John Rogers, of Montreal, sing one of the latest comic songs, and Miss Edith McLean recite the Chariot Race from Ben-Hur.

CRESCENTS.—There will be a meeting of the Crescent Football Club at the rooms of the Cabot Club, Lower Queen St., on Thursday evening, April 27. A full attendance requested.—N. J. Rundle, Sec'y.

MOLASSES AND SUGAR.—Despatches from Barbadoes announce that on Saturday molasses advanced one cent a gallon in price. There is a local scarcity of the article, and an advance here will follow. Sugars are very firm at the recent advances.—St. John Telegraph.

GOOD NEWS FOR WHITE RIBBONS.—Mrs. Charles Archibald, President of Maritime W. C. T. U., purposes visiting Charlottetown to attend the temperance convention to be held on Thursday, May 18th. Mrs. Archibald is a pleasing and forcible speaker, and will address the public meeting to be held in the evening.

Y. W. C. T. U.—The "Ys" will please remember the practice in the parlors on Grafton Street, on Thursday evening, 27th, at 8 o'clock. All members, active and honorary, are requested to be present to prepare music for the convention to be held May 18th.

Y. M. C. A.—The Y. M. C. A. vocal music class meets for practice to-night at 7.15 instead of 8.45 as usual. This will enable those desirous of attending the Oddfellows' Concert to do so, and be at class too. Members are requested to note the change and govern themselves accordingly.

CORRECTION.—A reader of THE EXAMINER refers to the statement of a contributor that the members of the Presbyterian Church at Brookfield presented Rev. Mr. Coulter with a purse containing $20, and declares that no such presentation was ever. We regret this misstatement. It is hard to see the fun in a report which is mainly untrue.

Personal.

The Hon. the Master of the Rolls, and Mr. John W. Godfrey arrived home last evening. Mr. Ernest A. Earle, of the Merchant's Bank of Halifax, who has enjoyed a short trip to Truro and Halifax, returned home by the St. Lawrence yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Wm. D. V. Earle, who has been for a number of years connected with the Telephone Company here, has accepted a lucrative position as Telephone Inspector in Winnipeg. He leaves on Friday morning.

Mrs. George A. Sharp arrived home on the 28. Northumberland last evening from Denver, where she has been spending the winter. We are pleased to hear that she is much improved in health.

News Notes.

A crusade has been started in England against the application of the word "Esquire" to persons who have no right to it. Those who started it confess that there are occasions when something more than "Mr." is wanted, and so they recommend the revival of the good old fashioned "Gentleman," which means all who are legitimately entitled to bear arms.

Sir Oliver Mowat has at length found public opinion too strong for him, on one point at least. In his infamous gerrymander of the Ontario constituencies one of the most flagrant cases was that of Toronto. That city, according to population, was entitled to seven or eight representatives in the provincial legislature. But, because it was conservative, the Mowat gerrymander bill only gave it three members, and then provided that no elector in Toronto should vote for more than two candidates, thus making it possible for the grays, who comprise about one-third the population, to elect one man of the three. The net result was to practically disfranchise the city of Toronto which embraces about one-tenth the population of the whole province! For seven years the Mowat government has stood by this scandalous arrangement, and has systematically voted down all attempts to amend it. But last Wednesday, after a powerful speech from Mr. Clarke, one of the members from the city, who closed by moving a vote of censure, Sir Oliver gave way and promised amendment. He promised to give Toronto larger representation and to do away with the "one-man two-thirds-of-a-vote" iniquity, which he confessed was not exactly an "evidence of Christianity."

THE STEAMER DAMARA.

Notes by the Way.

It will probably be of interest to the breeders of P. E. Island to know that an arrangement has been made by the managers of the Dominion Horse Directory of Toronto to publish a catalogue for distribution at the Chicago Exhibition of horses for sale in Canada. The Registrar, Mr. J. W. Rogers, has obtained from the Dominion Government a grant to enable the Directory to have the catalogues published as parliamentary matter, and they will be distributed free of cost to intending purchasers in Canada, United States, and in all European nations.

Persons having horses for sale are requested to send their P. O. address and full description of their animals to Mr. Rogers, 17 Toronto St., Toronto, Ont., and in that way they will obtain free advertisement for their stock.

Associations interested in horse breeding are also requested to send dates upon which they intend having auction sales of horses, and the numbers and descriptions of horses that will be offered.

This should be an excellent opportunity for the breeders' Association of P. E. Island to advance the interests of its members and extend the market for Island horses.

The death of the Ayrshire bull Chieftain, purchased by the P. E. Island Government last year from the estate of the late Mr. Brown, of Lunenburg, will necessitate the purchase of another animal to take his place. The writer, when in Montreal a few days ago, met Mr. James Bowden, who was in charge of Mr. Brown's stock at the time of the sale. He is now manager of Mr. Reford's farm at St. Anne de Bellevue, and has the care of the selected herd that is to represent Canadian Ayrshires at the Chicago Exhibition. The bull at the head of the herd is Glencoe, one of the animals that was sold at Mr. Brown's sale for $165, considerably less than was paid for Chieftain; and it was a great loss to this Province that he had not been selected instead. The fact of this bull being chosen as the best Ayrshire in the Dominion proves his excellence, and he could not be bought now for three times the money he could have been purchased for at Mr. Brown's sale. Mr. Bowden has a superior young bull calf that he will sell at the reasonable price of $75. This calf is sired by Glencoe, and his dam is the imported Ayrshire cow, Annie of Eschercheskie, one of the most noted Ayrshires in Quebec.

Any further information can be obtained by writing to Mr. Bowden, at St. Anne de Bellevue, P. Q., by anyone wishing to obtain a superior animal.

In travelling by the C. P. R. from Montreal to St. John, N. B., a great deal of complaint is heard on account of the poor condition of the smoking cars for the use of first-class passengers. In fact no separate compartment is attached to the first-class cars; and those who want the soothing influence of tobacco must go into the smoking cars for second-class passengers, where it is anything but comfortable. West of Montreal, better accommodation is provided, and there seems to be no reason why similar comforts should not be given travellers to St. John and Halifax. The C. P. R. trains are noted for their comfort and luxuries, and with the exception of the matter referred to, no person could wish for better accommodation. The officers of the C. P. R. and I. C. R. are models for efficiency and courtesy, and the kind way they look after lady passengers and children is well worthy favorable notice.

A New York Wedding.

Marrriages are not uncommon in New York, but there was one celebrated on Wednesday last which seems to have taken the metropolis fairly by storm. For weeks that most democratic American centre has been discussing with vim and intense interest the engagement and coming marriage of Miss Bradley-Martin to the Earl of Craven. It was not the lady in the case, however, who created the keenest excitement. She was merely a charming New York girl and the daughter of a wealthy and fashionable family. But "the real live Earl" was almost more to the city newspapers and the public than a Presidential election would have been.

Since coming to New York a couple of weeks ago, every move made by young Lord Craven has been watched and chronicled. (Columns were written about his clothes, illustrations of which—shirt and collar and cuffs included—filled up much space in the daily papers, while the most extraordinary tales were told about the victim of this unpleasant publicity. One "respectable" newspaper described him as having been discovered to possess an elaborate tattoo of the family coat of arms upon his chest, and others noted every occasion upon which he moved out of doors or turned up his trousers to avoid the famous city mud.

But amusing as all this was, the wedding capped the climax. The leading newspapers devote pages instead of columns to the brilliant event, and indulge in copious editorial upon the "union of American democracy and British aristocracy." Several bishops were present and assisted in the ceremony, and there were, of course the usual gay costumes, piled-up flowers and fashionable assemblages. The streets were jammed, to even get a glimpse of the "British Earl," and when we remember that the Duke de Veragua was obtaining a reception on the same day from the city officials and the populace, we may safely conclude that for once the democracy of New York, where "all men were born free and equal," and where, of course, they live so, was undeniably happy. It is not often that an American city and a British nobleman and a Spanish duke at the same time to gaze upon or to flatter obsequiously.
