PASTEURIZED MILK.

A New Commodity to be Made here
The Process.

The Pasteurized milk industry, which Mr. John C. Macdonald is about to open, promises to have much success. The factory is on Water Street, between Queen and Great George streets. The machinery consists of a Potts Pasteurizer, manufactured by the Creamery Package Manufacturing Co., of Chicago, and boiler and engine made and set up by Bruce Stewart & Co. Everything will be ready for the delivery of milk on Tuesday next.

The principle of pasteurization is rapid heating and cooling. The milk is put through a process as follows:—

Immediately after milking it is thoroughly strained, to extract all impurities. The milk is again strained into an aerator and cooled, an apparatus designed especially to cool warm milk as it comes from the cow to a temperature necessary to prevent souring. While the milk is passing through the air in fine sprays the oxygen seizes all foul odors and leaves it in the purest and best condition. The milk or cream is now Pasteurized, all the disease germs being destroyed. The keeping qualities are greatly enhanced, and the milk remains sweet and pure for from five to eight days with care and much longer if kept in sealed vessels on ice. No chemicals of any nature are used in the process. The milk or cream to be Pasteurized is placed in an air-tight apparatus and heated to 156 degrees F. and held at that temperature from 15 to 20 minutes. The machine has a special automatic ventilating attachment through which obnoxious gases or odors are continually expelled. The milk is then very rapidly cooled to 46 degrees, at which temperature it remains till delivered. It is put in clean, sweet glass bottles, which have been scalded and sterilized, and is then sealed air-tight with a new pulp cap made of wood pulp which will not affect the milk. The milk is now in a place where it cannot be contaminated by impure air. It is secured against the dust, dirt, flies and other impurities of street and alley. It becomes a perfect substitute for that nourishment which nature gives to infants. Its consistency is not altered in any way nor is it deprived of its richness.

Another great excellence that this milk has is the greater security it gives against that dread disease consumption.

The milk is obtained from herds near the city, and none is accepted under four per cent. butter fat.

Ice cream is also to be made from the Pasteurized milk.

The manager of this new business, Mr. Macdonald, is a young man who has come to Charlottetown from Summerside. We trust that his enterprise will be rewarded with success.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

One of the most enjoyable afternoons ever spent by the children of Fair View was passed on July 18th, at "Hazelwood," the beautiful home of John Macmillan, Esq., where they were invited to meet in a farewell visit, their teacher, Miss Lizzie M. Dickieson. After enjoying themselves, as only children can, for several hours, they were served with ice-cream, cake, etc. Then Miss Dickieson was presented with a beautiful corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and maiden-hair fern by Master Allie McIsaac, and a magnificent hand bouquet of one hundred crimson roses by Master Louis Ross McFadyen. Miss Florence Currie here read the following address and Miss Muriel Macmillan presented, in behalf of the school, a hand mirror mounted in ebony and silver.

Miss Dickieson replied in a few appropriate remarks, making reference to the many pleasant days spent in the school, the loving obedience, and diligence of the pupils, and the many kindnesses received from the parents, and said she would ever look back with delight and pleasure to the years spent among them. It was with very great sorrow she missed for the first time one of their number. She looked in vain for the bright face of young Willie Burdette, who so suddenly passed away a few days ago.

The children then gave three cheers and a tiger for their kind hostess, Mrs. Macmillan. They were driven to their homes to carry with them for many days the memory of such a joyous outing.

ADDRESS:

OUR DEAR MISS DICKIESON,—On the eve of your departure we wish to thank you very much for the kindly care you have exercised over us, the many useful lessons taught and the good example always shown us.

The beautiful life which we have lived with you for four years, during which there has never been a clash, never any trouble between teacher and pupil, will always be remembered very sweetly by us. We wish to show our gratitude for your kindness by presenting to you this token of our lasting affection, which we hope you will accept with our best wishes for your health and happiness.

From your loving pupils Annie, Louise, Maggie, Kenneth and Tom McNeill, Florence Currie, Estella, May, Sadie and Frank Currie, John McPhee, Louis McFadyen, Nettie Shaw, Allie and Florrie McIsaac, Sara, Carrie and Mabel McDougall, John Cahill, Henry and Frank Burdett, Louis St. Clair, J. Cecil and Muriel Macmillan.

GOOD NEWS comes from those who take Hood's Sarsaparilla for scrofula, dyspepsia and rheumatism. Reports agree that HOOD'S CURE

A HORRIBLE MURDER.

Batters His Wife's Head and Shoots Himself.

CATUGA, Ont., July 16.—The people of this community were startled yesterday morning when they heard of the horrible death of James Swick and his wife, an old couple about seventy years of age. The old man first killed his wife and then put an end to his own existence. The scene of the tragedy is at a farm house in East Seneca, about four miles from the village of Canfield, and ten miles from Catuga.

The old man had acted strangely for some time past, but the family thought little of it. On Friday at noon their son Harvey went to the field to cut wheat, leaving the old couple alone in the house.

When he returned at night a dreadful spectacle was presented to him. The mother was lying dead with her head horribly bruised, apparently by a hammer, and the father was lying with his head almost shot off by means of a shotgun in his own hands. Death must have come almost instantly to him. There were signs of a struggle between the old man and woman, as her throat showed finger-prints. He evidently tried to strangle her first, then completed his work by means of a hammer, as her head was badly battered. The hammer was found hidden under the house, where the old man had put it after doing his terrible work. Then he completed his own destruction as already described.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The royal and imperial houses of Greece, Denmark and Russia converse together in English. The Queen invariably speaks German in her home circle, while her grandson, the Emperor of Germany, speaks English to his wife and family and German elsewhere.

—Though the United States Government has been sending troops to China its course has been cautious, perhaps to a political fault. Kempff's course in declining to join the other admirals in the bombardment of the Taku forts, though it first displeased the Washington authorities, has since been approved by them as probably it deserved to be. The pains taken by President McKinley to announce to the world the distinctness of the United States' attitude and its hesitation to apply coercion to the Chinese will not probably cost him some votes in the November elections. His purpose appears to be to show that he does not want a slice of China, and that therefore he is not the Imperialist the Democrats allege. It is thought that if he does not energetically aid in revenging the slaughtered Europeans, Americans and Japanese, he will lose some ballots.

—Some people cannot be made to believe that their dwelling or their shop or their town will ever burn. And therefore they laugh at the conflagration risk and say they won't need to insure their premises, because they are well built and isolated. There were many persons of this way of thinking in Bloomington, a thriving little city in the centre of Illinois, four acres of which were burned in the month of June last. The fierce conflagration lasted for seven hours, and in that time forty-five buildings were destroyed, resulting in two million dollars' loss, causing the death of one person, and the injury of six, and throwing three hundred out of employment. Just after the fire, Chief Meyers, of the Fire Department of Bloomington, said: "There is one thing that I regret very much, and that is that the business men had so much confidence in the Fire Department that they were only insured for one half. They had come to believe that a fire of the kind could not happen in this city. They are now the heaviest losers."

—The Montreal Gazette calls the attention of all Liberal and independent journals to the following quotation from a recent article by Rev. Dr. Grant:—

"The moral life of the country suffers from attempts at whitewashing Mr. Lemieux; but what language is too strong to apply to the emergency food scandal? It was bad enough to send our soldier lads to Kingston in the depth of winter miserably shod; bad enough to keep others at Toronto without rifle practice, the rifles having been sent on to Halifax; but to give them as emergency food what was no better than pea meal cakes was like giving drowning men sham life-preservers. The offence deserves the penitentiary, as the premier said, but though the offence has been proved, will anyone be sent to prison? Mr. Devlin has pronounced judgment on himself; but what of those whose duty it was to guard the public and care for the welfare of soldiers who represent Canada? General Hutton in such a case would probably have been 'insubordinate'; and his fate has probably warned others against the crime of over-zeal."

Remember this: No other medicine has such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla. When you want a good medicine, get Hood's.

One that assays $20 to the ton is what Rory and Donald Chisholm, two Glengarians from Dunvegan, are said to have found north of the Ottawa river. The men are keeping the locality of their mines a secret until they complete negotiations now in progress with some capitalists.

AN OBJECT LESSON.—A farmer stepped into a printing office and said to the editor: "I'd like to take your paper, but I'm too poor." "Go home," said the editor, "pick out a hen, and call her mine, and if she wants to set, let her, and next fall bring her and the produce from that hen. I'll send you the paper." When fall came he found he was paying the price of two papers. After that he was never too poor to take a paper.

Officials of the Milwaukee Public Museum report the theft from that institution of a large collection of rare coins, estimated in value at between $5,000 and $10,000.

AUSTRALIA'S CAPITAL.

LONDON, July 15.—Though Australian federation is an established fact owing to the Queen's signature being affixed to the bill and though the governor-General has been appointed, the location of the Australian capital has not been decided upon. By the terms of the new constitution it is to be distant no less than one hundred miles from Sydney. The inter city rivalry makes the final selection a matter of grave import. When the matter is decided a hundred square miles be taken from New South Wales, becoming the property of the Commonwealth, on the same plan as Washington and the district of Columbia. In the meanwhile, Melbourne will be the temporary seat of the Legislature.

Li Hung Chang.

New York, July 17.—The New York Journal's London correspondent says: "In the lobby of the Commons last night it was declared that the Government had issued orders for the seizure of Li Hung Chang and his imprisonment at Hong Kong, pending the deportation to India, in the event of his carrying out the project of proceeding northward by sea, in compliance with the summons received from Peking. English gunboats and cruisers are hovering off the coast of Kwan Tung with orders to intercept any vessel, no matter what flag it flies, having the Viceroy on board, and to secure his person. It is resolved to hold Li Hung Chang as a species of hostage. Sir Henry Blake, Governor of Hong Kong, has obtained strong proof that the old Viceroy of Canton, in spite of his professions of friendship for foreigners, is in thorough sympathy and league with Tuan."
