Georgetown Elects Councillors By Acclamation

Yesterday was nomination day at Georgetown to nominate a Town Council of six members. Mayor Andrew R. MacNeill had been elected to office on Feb. 3rd, when he defeated J.A.B. McCannell.

Those receiving acclamations for Councillors on Friday were John D. Gotell, pensioner; Guy Hemphill, pensioner; Raymond Lavander, milk rancher; Adolphus Scully, assistant jailor; P. J. Henry, butcher; William J. Martell, pensioner. Councillors Gotell and Hemphill were members of the previous council.

An interesting sidelight on the new council is the fact that five of the six members are war veterans and Canadian Legion members. It is commendable that these men who served their country in war are once again serving in peace.
