New Football Circuit Appears Strengthened

By JIM KLOBUCHAR
MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A decision by the American Football League to follow a tough line against forces of the National League appeared Tuesday to have strengthened the hand of the new circuit and put it in business for 1960.

Owners of the AFL, some of them young millionaires presumably ready for any dollar fight that develops out of the competition for players, came out of two days of meetings here bristling with confidence.

Clair Is Offered Coaching Job In New Loop

OTTAWA (CP)—The Ottawa Journal says that coach Frank Clair of Ottawa Rough Riders has been offered a coaching position with one of the clubs in the new American Football League.

The paper says Clair will meet with the club owner in Toronto Friday, the day before the Canadian football final between Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

Clair was not available for comment, having left to take his wife home to Rensselaer, Ind., and scout U. S. college football ranks before returning to Toronto for the Grey Cup game.

The paper quoted Clair as saying: "I'm not in a position yet to name the place, but I told him I'd meet him just to see what he has to say."

Clair still has two years to run on his five-year contract with the Big Four football union club, but the Journal says it is known he is dissatisfied with the terms.

The eight-team American Football League is slated to start operations next season.

Rider president J. Barry O'Brien said he has heard nothing about the coaching offer to Clair and doesn't know about Clair being dissatisfied with the terms of his contract.

He said the five-year contract was signed at Clair's urging because he wanted security.

The paper says Clair didn't want to elaborate on his new offer other than to say he's interested enough to meet the man.

Chisox Invade Football Ranks

CHICAGO (AP)—The American League champion Chicago White Sox Tuesday invaded the draft ranks of pro football and signed Michigan State's Dean Look to a baseball bonus contract estimated at $40,000.

Outfielder Look, 22, only Monday was named all-Big Ten quarterback by The Associated Press and was a stop draft choice of Denver in the new American Football League.

He also was expected to be a ranking draft choice in the National Football League.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

appear into thin air are generally a source of great interest to the bridge player. For an example of how it is done, we cite the accompanying deal played in a rubber bridge game.

Examine all four hands and it appears that declarer is destined to lose three trump tricks and a diamond. But South, warned by the double to expect a bad trump division, not only made the contract but also succeeded in making an overtrick.

Declarer won the diamond lead with the king and started a campaign to make as many of his small trumps by ruffing as he could. He first cashed two high clubs and trumped a club.

Next he entered dummy with a diamond and ruffed the last club. After then cashing the A-K of spades, declarer ruffed a spade.

By this time nine tricks had been played and South had won them all. His last four cards consisted of the K-7 of hearts and a losing diamond.

With the contract already assured, South set out to win the overtrick. He led the nine of diamonds. West played the ten but East was forced to trump it.

East had to return a trump. It made no difference which one he led. Declarer was bound to make both the queen and king and wound up making five hearts. All told, South lost two trump tricks.

It is doubtful that declarer would have adopted this line of play but for the double. It would have been more normal to tackle the trumps immediately in the hope of finding the usual 3-2 division. He still might have made the hand, but certainly not the overtrick.

East's double, questionable to begin with, put South on the right track. It emphasized once again the most important single word there is in the vocabulary of contract bridge.

Frisco 49ers' Signal - Caller Out For Season

BALTIMORE (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, the laconic quarterback of the San Francisco 49ers, hobbled out of a hospital on crutches here Tuesday amid indications that he is through for the year.

The 32-year-old veteran of 12 professional football league campaigns, injured in the 45-14 pounding he and his mates absorbed Sunday from Baltimore Colts, headed for San Francisco and further hospital treatment of an ailing right knee.

Dr. Edwin Mayer, Colt team physician who examined him, said Tittle might miss the remaining three 49er games of the season unless the injury responds more quickly than seems likely.

Desperate for quarterback insurance, San Francisco announced almost simultaneously the signing of Jack Kemp, former member of the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Canadian league's Calgary entry. Kemp has been out of football this year.
