There are signs of an approaching struggle of vast magnitude between several classes of British artisans and their employers for a rise in wages. It does not seem well for the future of manufacturing industry in Britain that the destructive contest there between capital and labor seems destined to be eternal.

A handsome writing table has been made at the command of Queen Victoria out of portion of the timber of the Arctic ship

Repulse, which was lately broken up. Her Majesty intends to present it to the President of the United States "as a memorial of the courtesy and loving kindness which dictated the offer of the Resolute."

The citizens of Montreal are working hard to ensure a greater success for the exhibition to be held in that city, than any before met with in any section of Canada.

One hundred thousand copies of a "Skeleton Programme" of the exhibition have been circulated through the Dominion, and the United States, and 6,000 have been sent to be posted up in the different post introduced in this region. It is pickled and eaten as a relish. It is called foreign ginger.

A SAD CASE.—The Halifax Chronicle relates a sad story. Some time ago a young lady of that city was married to Mr. Crane, a young Nova Scotian residing in Chicago.

Several months later Mr. Crane left Chicago to locate in British Columbia, and his wife came to Halifax to visit her relatives.

Mr. Crane settled in the city of Victoria,

B. C., and a short time ago sent for his wife who, with her infant, left for her new home. She would probably reach San Francisco yesterday. On Tuesday, Mr.

Crane's friends received a telegram announcing his death. Mrs. Crane's is a daughter of Mr. James Reeves, of Dartmouth.

THE JUICE OF THE TOMATO PLANT AS AN

INSECTICIDE. A writer in the "Deutsche Reitung" says that last year he had an opportunity of trying a remedy for destroying green fly and other insects which infest plants. The stems and leaves of the tomato are well boiled in water, and when the liquor is cold it is syringed over plants attacked by insects. It at once destroys black or green fly, caterpillars, etc.; and it leaves behind a peculiar odor which prevents insects from coming again for a long time. The writer says that he found this remedy more effectual than fumigating, washing, etc. Through neglect a house of camellias had become almost hopelessly infest with black lice, but two syringings with tomato plant decoction thoroughly cleansed them.

Singing is one of the healthiest exercises in which men women and children can engage. The Medical Wochenschrift, of St.

Petersburg, has an article based upon exhaustive researches made by Prof. Monas-sien during the autumn of 1878, when he examined two hundred and twenty-two singers, ranging between the ages of nine and fifty-three. He laid chief weight upon the growth and absolute circumference of the chest, upon the comparative relation of the latter to the tallness of the subject, and upon the pneumometric and spirometric condition of the singer. It appears to be an ascertained fact from Dr. Monassien's experiment that the relative and even absolute circumference of the chest is greater among singers than among those who do not sing, and that it increases with the growth and age of the singer. The professor even says that singing may be placed physically as to the anthesis of drinking liquor. The latter hinders while the former promotes health.

EXCITEMENT OVER TWO WILLS.—A despatch to the Halifax Citizen from North Sydney, says: Some little excitement has been raised lately over the will of the late William Gammell. On Thursday his body was to have been removed from the grave for the purpose of a medical examination of his stomach, but owing to the incompleteness of the arrangements the grave is yet undisturbed. It may not be very generally known that there are two wills on file, bearing the name of William Gammell. In one recorded a short time after his death, he
