

Celebrates 89th Birthway Anniversary

Mrs. Abigail Jenkins Carver, known better by "Aunt Ab" to her scores of relatives and friends celebrated the passing of her 89th milestone here recently at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Binns, 62 Rochford Street.

"Aunt Ab" was not alone by any means at the time of her birthday, which was May 6th, as about twenty-five relatives and friends called in person and scores more in spirit through letters and telegrams.

The Women's Institute of her home community, Hazelbrook, sent the grand old lady a beautiful birthday cake and presents from those present and away were more than numerous.

Though ill during the winter months Mrs. Carver was active at the time of her birthday celebration and enjoyed it to the utmost. Her daughter, Mrs. Harold Carver of Hazelbrook, and her son, Mr. Charles Hamm, City, poured while her niece Betty Hamm, City, accompanied by Priscilla Griffith, also of Charlottetown, served the refreshments.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. George Carver (Aunt Vene), Pownal; Mrs. Boswell Jenkins (Aunt Bessie), Cross Roads; a daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Lawton, Pownal; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carver, Hazelbrook, and her son, Boswell Carver, also of Hazelbrook. Mr. Hamm of this City was also present.

"Aunt Ab", who is the last of her generation, is very popular and all good wishes for many more years are extended. One daughter Mrs. A. H. Finlay of St. John's, Newfoundland, was unable to be present for the celebration but was there in spirit.

Mrs. Carver was born at Mt. Albion, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. (nee Hannah Jones) Henry Jenkins. Her husband predeceased her about thirty years ago.

"Most Ticked Man I Ever Talked With"

Says Druggist Boek.

"We are sold ourselves on the merits of Moore's Emerald Oil, as we know of one case of Eczema on a man's face, of 10 years' standing. Emerald Oil did the job but he was the most ticked man I ever talked with. He told me he had contemplated suicide he was so discouraged." Centerville, Iowa.

It's in just such tough cases of long-standing that Emerald Oil has proved its worth and where the druggist, as in this case, goes all out to recommend it, it just has to be good.

If a bad skin condition bothers you, don't hesitate or worry any longer—just get a small bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil and prove for yourself how good it is. On sale everywhere.
