Bigger Tax Cuts

For individuals; exemptions for corporations were doubled while those of individuals were left unchanged; credits allowed to shareholders for dividends were doubled, but no comparable credits were given to those who worked to produce the dividends.

Highlights of Speech

In a 7,500-word speech, Mr. Macdonnell said: 1. The government timed tax reductions for an election, expected later this year. 2. Approximately 75 per cent of wage earners would get no benefit from the personal income tax reductions. 3. Far greater tax cuts could have been given if the government made an "urgent" attack on waste and extravagance. 4. A $97,000,000 reduction in corporation taxes was long overdue. 5. Abolition of the $2.50 annual radio licence fee would be welcomed, but he disagreed with a proposal to turn over to the CBC the revenue from the existing 15 per cent tax on radio and television sets. 6. Some were maliciously depicting the Conservative party as a high tariff party when actually its policy was similar to that of the Liberals. 7. Something should be done immediately to ease the financial burdens of municipalities.

New Income Taxes

Mr. Macdonnell said that under the new income tax rates a married man with two dependents and an annual income of $5,000 will be $18 better off. The man with $3,000 will be $4 better off and the man with $2,400 will receive the "magnificent relief of $1 a year."

In 1951, there were 2,776,000 income tax payers. Of these 1,177,640 had incomes of $2,400 or less and 1,698,500 had incomes of $3,000 or less.

It is clear, he said, that 75 per cent of Canadian wage earners will get little or no benefit from the income tax cuts.

The government had "mutilated" corporations to the point of diminishing returns and it was "high time" taxes on them were reduced.

Concessions on investment income would mean little to the average taxpayer.

"Of course, if you smoke enough you will make money out of the budget," he said.

"If you smoke a package a day, you would save about $15 a year, but that would be at the expense of spending about $125 a year on cigars."

Farmers and fishermen were among the forgotten men in the budget.

Mr. Macdonnell said his party is not complaining about the tax reductions as far as they went. But the budget "is all too little and too late."

He added: "The trouble is caused by one thing and one thing only, that the government will not grapple with the question of eliminating waste and extravagance."

"In general terms, we in our party say that if a sharp economy was used instead of a blunt pen-knife we could have relief for those who are to benefit under the present budget and also for those who have been ignored."

"Remember that after all the blare of trumpets about tax reduction the minister will actually take more out of our pockets this year than ever before—$4,473,000,000 compared with $4,375,000,000 in the current year."

Enormous Disparity

Mr. Macdonnell said the United Kingdom plans to spend $4,417,000,000 in the coming year on defence, including research.

Rutherford-Hobbs Wedding

"A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hobbs, Sr., of Georgetown, on February 14th at 4:00 P.M., when their only daughter, Elinor Wilmfred, R.N., exchanged marriage vows with Douglas Hugh Rutherford, R.C.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Rutherford of Ingersoll, Ont.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. A. Paterson, M.A., B.D., of the United Church of Canada. Before the ceremony Miss Elinor Lockhart, R.N., sang very sweetly "Because."

To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, played by Miss Dorothy MacEwen, R.N., the bride entered the living room on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, and took her place beneath an arch of pink and white, with white wedding bells. The bride was in picture of girlish loveliness in her wedding gown of white tulle with lace jacket fashioned with bustle effect over the hips and the sleeves coming in points over the hands. Her floor-length veil was of tulle illusion with coronet of white roses. Her only ornaments were a gold pendant with matching earrings, gifts of the groom, and she carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Eileen Helmer MacConnell, R.N., wore a gown of pink tulle and taffeta with shoulder length veil and lace mitts and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The groom was attended by James Coldwell, R.C.N. During the signing of the register, Miss Elinor Lockhart, R.N., sang "Through the Years."

The bride's mother wore a costume of moss green gabardine, with corsage of Talsman roses.

After the ceremony the guests were ushered into the dining-room which was tastefully decorated in pink and white, where a buffet supper was served to thirty guests. The bride's table was centered with a three tier wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom, also the groom's cake which was topped with silver leaves and white doves and flanked by pink tapers in crystal holders.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. W. A. Paterson and responded to by the groom. Mr. William Hobbs Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. William Carr, R.N., presided over the cups, while the Misses Edna Nicholson, R.N., Sally Johnson and Kay Lavers assisted in serving. Mrs. P. J. Henry and Mrs. Myrtle Babineau cut the ices.

The bride and groom left amid showers of confetti, on a honeymoon trip through the Maritimes. For traveling the bride chose a brown suit with hat and topper of winter white and corsage of yellow mums.

The gifts were many and beautiful, including a chest of silver from the nurses of the Prince Edward Island Hospital, of which the bride is a graduate. Many congratulatory telegrams were received and their many friends in Georgetown and Charlottetown extended their warmest congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford were tendered a shower by Mrs. Rutherford's former school class mates of Georgetown, held in St. David's United Church Hall, on Friday, February 20th, at which they were the recipients of many lovely and useful gifts.

FAMOUS ACTRESS RETURNS TO PLAY BEST-SELLER'S PROVOCATIVE HEROINE

With Olivia de Havilland portraying the provocative heroine, Twentieth Century-Fox's heralded dramatization of Daphne du Maurier's "My Cousin Rachel" arrives to-night for a special premiere showing at the Prince Edward Theatre. Under the guiding hands of Producer-Writer Nunnally Johnson and Director Henry Koster, "My Cousin Rachel" comes to the screen exactly as the famous novelist wrote it, keeping intact the story which became an international best-seller. Scenarist Johnson has made no attempt to solve the mystery of whether "Rachel" was a murderess or not. Instead, he piles circumstantial evidence all about her exonerating her here—convicting her there. "Rachel is all things to all people, a charming widow, a scheming murderess, a gold-hungry adventuress, a helpless beauty, a ruthless heartbreaker and a saintly nurse. Her guilt or innocence is left for the motion picture audience to decide. To play the difficult title role, Olivia de Havilland, twice winner of the Academy Award for "The Heiress" and "To Each His Own," returns to films after a four year hiatus to the stage. Miss de Havilland, whose last appearance at Twentieth Century-Fox was in "The Snake Pit," insisted she would never return to films until the right part came along. "My Cousin Rachel" provided her with that opportunity.

Hello There! (Portrait of a man)

Let me tell you about an experience I had yesterday. I might prove interesting to you because you might feel the same way as the fellow I went to visit. He told me flatly he didn't want any insurance. He wasn't sure what his plans were going to be and he didn't want to feel tied down to anything. He was afraid that any insurance he chose now might be no use to him in five years.

Well sir, all I can say is, he couldn't have heard of our Sun Life Adjustable Policy. If anything's more adjustable than that I'd be very interested in knowing what it is. Just listen to this. For the first five years the assured is covered for the full face value of the policy. At the end of that time he can choose a much bigger Whole Life policy, and at no additional cost and without evidence of health. He also has the privilege of continuing the policy on the Whole Life basis for the original face amount, but with a much reduced premium. And there are even more advantages. He can limit his period for paying premiums or have the policy mature to his own future benefit as he sees fit.

There's nothing rigid about this type of life insurance policy, is there? No matter how your plans may change during this time, your needs will still be taken care of. I'd sure like to drop in for a short chat with you and prove to you what a wonderful all-purpose program this is.
