

Symbol ctd.

The winning concept will be re-drawn by a professional artist.
Contest judges are:

Ian Scott Holland College School of Art and Design
Trude Oliver P.E.I. Museum and Heritage Foundation
Rosemary Curley Island Nature Trust

The judges reserve the right to withhold prizes if the entries are deemed unacceptable.

Submit entries by October 30, 1983 to:

Rosemary Curley, Waterside, Charlottetown RR # 1, C1A 7J6

NATURE ART SHOW:

We are pleased to announce a showing of selected nature photographs of Prince Edward Island entitled "The Wild Side of the Isle" at the Eptek Centre in Summerside from October 17 to November 6, 1983. This is a joint project of the Island Nature Trust and the Prince Edward Island Natural History Society and is being co-ordinated by Dan McAskill and Geoff Hogan.

The show will display 25 photographs in an 11 by 14 or 16 by 20 format. The scenes will cover as wide a range as possible to depict the various aspects of the natural side of our Island.

This project has been designed to:

- a) educate the public on the intrinsic beauty of our Island's wild places
- b) encourage interested people to develop their photographic skills
- c) provide an avenue for the display of nature photographs on Prince Edward Island
- d) acquire photographic material for the educational programs of the Island Nature Trust

We hope that it, combined with the lecture series, will help both organizations in developing more interest in natural history in Western P.E.I.

UPCOMING MEETINGS AND EVENTS:

Sept. 15 - Island Nature Trust General Council meeting at Beaconsfield

Sept. 18-20 - Annual conference of the Atlantic Chapters of the Canadian Society of Environmental Biologists and the Wildlife Society of Canada at Wolfville, Nova Scotia. There are seven sessions centered on acid precipitation in the Maritimes, fisheries, endangered species and habitat, furbearers, waterfowl, and miscellaneous topics.

Sept. 21 to -The UPEI Extension Dept. is offering "Bird Life of P.E.I."

Oct. 26 This course by Geoff Hogan will be primarily of bird identification and runs for 2.5 hours each Wednesday night. The cost is $30.00.

Sept. 22 - "Images From the Past - A Legacy for Our Children" lecture by Daryl Guignon at the Eptek Centre starting at 7:30