Hon. J. C. POPE was nominated by Arthur Simpson, Esq., New London, and seconded by Archibald Crawford, Esq., Belle Creek. The motion was carried by a unanimous vote.

Hon. F. Brecken was nominated by Donald W. Palmer, Esq., Crapaud, and seconded by John Hogan, Esq., Hope River. The nomination was unanimously endorsed.

On motion of Alexander Martin, Esq., Belle Creek, seconded by John Hogan, Esq., the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That it is in the interest of this Province that Reciprocal Free Trade should be established with the United States of America, and, therefore, we demand that the tariff shall be so readjusted as to effect this desirable object.

Resolved, That the action of the Dominion Government in adding thirty-six millions of dollars to the public debt during the last five years, and in increasing the annual expenditure by the sum of two millions dollars, has seriously increased the monetary difficulties arising from the prolonged commercial depression.

Resolved, That the Dominion Government, by depriving this Province of representation in the Cabinet and by persistently refusing to restore it, has forfeited the confidence of the people of this Province.

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention, the attempt of the Dominion Government to disfranchise at least one-third of the electors of this Province, although happily defeated, was a gross outrage upon the rights and liberties of the people.

Resolved, That the Dominion Government has violated its pledges of economy, and has also greatly lowered the standard of political morality as evidenced by the Steel Rail and Coderich Harbor Jobs, and by the conviction of so many of its leading supporters for bribery and corruption.

S. W. CRABBE, Sec'y.

Mayor Beaudry is now talked of as a candidate in Montreal West.

MEETING IN MARKET HALL.

SPEECHES BY BRECKEN, POPE, HODGSON, HAVILAND, HOLMES, PALMER AND FERGUSON.

NOTWITHSTANDING rare attractions in other parts of the town, a large number of electors assembled in Market Hall. J. S. Carvell, Esq., was called to the Chair, and Mr. Isaac Oxenham was appointed Secretary.

F. BRECKEN, Esq., spoke at considerable length on the political topics of the day. The attempt made in 1874 by the McKenzie Government, with the consent of our then representatives in the House of Commons, to deprive our young men of their franchise, should not be forgotten by the latter. The reason given by the Government for doing so, was that there was a Registration of Voters in this Island for the Legislative Council and none for the House of Assembly. This statement our representatives in the House of Commons never attempted to deny, and it was not till the Bill reached the Senate that the error was exposed. Hon. Senator Haviland there pointed out that the clause containing this provision was a dastardly attempt to disfranchise the young men of this Island, and exposed it in such a lucid and able manner that it was struck out of the Bill altogether. Col. McGill was out as a candidate for the House of Commons, in the Grit interests, for this County; but he did not even enjoy the confidence of his own party! They would not accept him as their candidate as yet, but might do so hereafter, if they could not get a better man. The other Grit candidate was Mr. Peter Sinclair, who sat silent as the grave while the interests of the Island were being sacrificed. The principles maintained by Mr. Pope and himself were established and enforced before many of the present generation were born, and would continue to be so for ages to come, because they were those of right, and such as must commend themselves to every right thinking man of independent mind. Numbers of Mr. McKenzie's supporters in the House of Commons were stronger Protectionists than any members of the Liberal-Conservative Party. Messrs. Devlin, Wood, Irving, Workman and others were Protectionists of the deepest dye; and yet the Premier did all he could to have them elected, simply because they were his supporters. Because those gentlemen supported the present Liberal Party, Mr. McKenzie and the Patriot patted them on the back and supported them in every way. Hon. Mr. Blake was held up by his party as a political pariah, and if they were charged with any act of political corruption, they replied, "Oh, we have Mr. Blake on our side!" They used his respectability as a disinfectant for all their political corruption, and sprinkled it all over their impurities, just as one would use a disinfectant for anything putrid. In fact, Mr. Blake was the otto of roses to his party; but, rather than allow his favor to be dissipated, he frequently corked his bottle and ran away. Sir John was an excellent judge of human nature, and had brought men of all shades of political opinions into his political arms. On the other hand, Mr. McKenzie had taken to his political bosom such men as Mr. Cauchon, whose political odor "was rank and smelled to heaven." But, at the first opportunity he had, to get rid of him, he appointed him Governor of Manitoba. Mr. Pope and himself, if elected, (and he felt confident that such would be the case) would support that fiscal policy which would serve the best interests of the country. They would think of their country first, and of party afterwards. They would support that policy which would build up this great country and conduce to its prosperity.

Mr. HODGSON having been called for by the audience, took the platform and said that the greatest and most satisfactory work done to-day, was that of the Liberal-Conservative Convention which had just concluded its sitting. In that Convention were assembled leading men from all parts of Queen's County. There was not much talk nor oratory indulged in; but there was a quiet determined expression which showed that every man present meant what he said and what he meant. There was but one sentiment, and that was that the organized hypocrisy was doomed, and that a better Government should take its place. The Convention nominated two men to represent Queen's County in the House of Commons, and these two men would be elected. These gentlemen were Pope and Brecken. (Cheers.) When asked by a political opponent for his vote, he replied, "No," and that "of all the historical characters he ever formed a hatred for, Judas Iscariot had the largest share," as being the arch-betrayer. It was now for the people of this Province to pour their vengeance upon the heads of those representatives who had, in the House of Commons, betrayed their best interests. The Liberal Conservatives had formed an excellent platform, and had bound its five planks so firmly together that nothing could break it up. He alluded to the five resolutions passed at the Convention to-day, and he would now submit them to this meeting, and would move that they be adopted. These resolutions had been adopted unanimously by that Convention, composed of Delegates assembled from all parts of the Province. (Resolutions inserted before.)

Mr. D. PALMER had been very much pleased with the proceedings at the Convention held to-day. It was the first meeting of the kind that had ever been held in this Province, and had given the fullest satisfaction to delegates from all parts of the County. The prospects for the election of the two gentlemen who had been nominated were most satisfactory, and he had not the slightest doubt of the result of the contest. Some of Mr. Pope's bitterest opponents in his part of the country, had become his best friends. He fully agreed with the remarks which had fallen from the different speakers this evening, and hoped that every man would do his duty, and never cease to work till the battle was won. (Cheering.)

The thanks of the meeting were then tendered to His Worship Mayor Carvell for his able conduct in the chair, to which he suitably replied.

Three enthusiastic cheers were then given for the Liberal Conservative Party, after which the meeting adjourned.

ISAAC OXENHAM, Secretary.

properly represented in the Cabinet, as the rout of the Grit party would be complete at the coming General Election. Let Mr. P. Sinclair be sent into private life, the Local Legislature, or anywhere else but to Ottawa. Almost one of the first acts our six Grit representatives did was to try to deprive our young men of their right to vote for our representatives in the House of Commons. But their plans did not succeed. Whenever Queen's County had a chance, it sent Hon. Mr. Pope to Ottawa. Another attempt had been made—he (Mr. H.) did not by whom—to rob our young men of their votes. The County Judge, he thought, had misapprehended the law with reference to the registration of franchise votes. But a mandamus had been obtained at the Supreme Court at Georgetown and served upon him yesterday. Young men could now go and have their votes registered, and the question could afterwards be argued, before the Judges. He hoped that young men, through neglect, would not disfranchise themselves. Register! register! register! was the war-cry of a certain politician, and it might well be applied to our present circumstances. Let us resolve that we shall be misrepresented in the House of Commons no longer.

Mr. POPE took the platform after being repeatedly called for, and said that though he had the honor of representing the largest and finest constituency in the Dominion, he had been denounced by his political opponents as a complete failure as a representative. If those who thus denounced him really thought such to be the case, why had they sent the Editor of the "Patriot" all the way to Ottawa for the sole purpose of misrepresenting and slandering him? He had little or no opportunity, on account of his being in the Opposition, to do anything for this Province, as the Government were determined to grant him nothing whatever; but the times would soon be changed, as the people had now an opportunity of sending with him five assistants to help him to obtain justice for the Province. When this was done, this Island would receive its share of justice. He felt proud to say that he had been nominated by the Convention held to-day of Delegates from all sections of this County; and, as he had been over the greatest portion of his constituency, and found that the number of his friends and supporters had largely increased he felt confident of success. The election of his hon. friend Mr. Brecken was also certain. There was an impression in some parts of the country that the Liberal-Conservative party would increase the burdens of the people. There was not a word of truth in this report. The chief object of his party was to obtain Reciprocity with the United States. If the people of that country were shown that it would be to their interest to reciprocate with us they would do so; if they were not made to feel this, they would persist in refusing. There were only a few of the States which were interested in opposing Reciprocity with Canada, but their opposition would be overcome by pursuing a proper course. What Canada wanted was reciprocal free trade—not one-sided free trade. He hoped that the people would return representatives to Ottawa who insist that this Province be represented in the Cabinet. If six Liberal-Conservatives were returned from this Island, they would have sufficient influence to secure for it justice and fair-play.

Hon. Senator HAVILAND was very much pleased with the result of the Convention which was held to-day. Candidates nominated as Messrs. Pope and Brecken were, must feel in a much better position than if they had thrust themselves upon the country, as they had been nominated by the bone and sinew and intelligence of this influential County. He spoke with his usual force and eloquence upon the general political questions of the day.

The resolutions were then severally put by the Chairman and carried unanimously. Mr. JAMES HOLMES, one of the Delegates to the Convention, said that the meeting to-day had been more satisfactory than any other political gathering ever held on this Island. Mr. Brecken, five years ago, was almost unknown in his part of the country, and yet had nearly succeeded in being elected. To-day that hon. gentleman was well and favorably known, and would poll a very much larger vote. There would be no difficulty in securing the election of the two candidates which had been nominated by the Convention to-day. The Liberal-Conservatives had, in times past, fought battles when they knew they would lose; but they would now fight when they were confident of winning a glorious victory. Cheers.

Mr. D. FERGUSON said he had not been present at the Convention, but had learned, with the greatest pleasure, of the work that had been done by it, and of the happy selection of candidates for the representation of the County in the Dominion House of Commons that had been made. The Liberal-Conservatives of Queen's County had candidates for whom they would be proud to fight and vote for at the coming election. (Cheers.)

ISAAC OXENHAM, Secretary.

An Astonishing Fact.

A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia or disordered liver. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life actually a burden instead of a pleasant existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, take the advice of druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedy relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You can buy a sample bottle for 19 cents to try. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all druggists on the Western Continent.
