

BODY-RESTORER

Food is the body-restorer. In health, you want nothing but food; and your baby wants nothing but food. But, when not quite well, you want to get back to where food is enough. One of the most delicate foods, in the world, is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil. When usual food is a burden, it feeds you enough to restore your stomach; baby the same. The body-builder is food; the body-restorer is Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

DISLIKE CHAMBERLAIN.

This is a Paris despatch: "The British general election is exciting a good deal of interest and comment in Continental Europe. The opinion is universal that it is a personal triumph for Mr. Chamberlain, and that if he becomes predominant in the British Government an era of aggression and jingoism will be inaugurated which will seriously threaten the peace of Europe. In France especially are sober men anxious. It is felt that if, in future, difficulties arising out of Newfoundland, Siam, Africa, etc., the negotiations are in the hands of Mr. Chamberlain, war may easily be provoked, especially as Chamberlain is likely, as in the case of the Transvaal, to refuse all compromise, and to offer to settle on the basis of absolute surrender by the other party. After Fashoda, France will never again back down completely, and with Chamberlain at the British helm things are likely to go to extremes. It is impossible to describe the dislike and suspicion with which Chamberlain is regarded in Continental Europe. It is not an exaggeration to say that Great Britain, with Mr. Chamberlain as premier, would have all Europe against him, hostile and watchful. This opinion is expressed by the most sober and conservative of the papers here, like Le Temps and Le Journal des Debats, and is not merely that of the Anglophobe extremists. The fact that Mr. Chamberlain has never categorically challenged enquiry concerning the letters which are alleged to prove his complicity in the Jameson raid, and he makes no denial of his connection with firms that have grown rich on the war, increases the distrust of him. Moreover, a good many Transvaalers, exiled by order of the British Government from Johannesburg and Pretoria, are arriving in

LOVE'S BURIAL.

She came to me, with a tear in her eye,
"My love is dead, for I saw the boy die!"
"But I said 'No, if that be quite clear,
The best thing to do is to bury him, dear."
"Then you went and sought out a place
Where your young man's body should be laid."
"I gave you the deed with the pens we had used
In writing missives so dearly perused."
"Then you buried him in a neat coffin made
Of erosion notes that did never abate."
"But paused we then, ere the earth was returned
And, weeping, fell o'er the passion insured."
"I soothed her grief, for what else could I do?
And kissed her next till she fondled me too."
"Her pain was mine, the boy seeming dead;
I gave him new strength, and he lifted his head."
"Then rose we straight, and away did we vie;
Three together—for love cannot die."
—Joubert Jeans

Horseshoe Luck.

"Hardacre stuck a horseshoe over his barn door for luck. Lightning struck the horseshoe and set fire to the barn, burned up the stable, two wheat fans, lot of farming implements and the whole year's crop."
"Reckon that shook Hardacre's belief in horseshoes."
"Not by a jugful! Says he's going to have a horseshoe put over both doors and all the windows when he builds another barn."
"Gosh! Hope he don't believe there's luck in 'em yet?"
"He ought to. If I could get $10,000 insurance on an old barn and a corn crop, I'd believe in 'em too."—Chicago News.

The Way Out.

"So you refuse to give me the money?" said the prodigal son.
"Not another cent do you get," replied the stern parent.
"Then here goes," said the youth as he seized a silver mounted pistol from his father's desk.
"Unhappy boy!" cried the old man, "would you take your life?"
"No," replied the son, "I'm going to loan this to my 'uncle.'"—Chicago News.

A Tuckahoe man has called his cat Boomerang, because it comes back.
Patience—Chollie says it makes him feel more like himself to have that single eyeglass in his eye.
Patrice—Well, I am sure it makes him look more like a fool.
Bill—I've worked for every dollar I've ever owned.
Jill—Whom did you "work?"
"I see Paderewski is knocking money out of the piano again in this country," said the observer of events and things.

Yeast—What game is your wife most fond of?
Crimsonbeak—A game of talk. I guess.
She—Seems to me you're very forward, sir.
He—Yes; I'm the advance man for a circus.
"When you hear a book agent try his voice," remarked the observer of events and things, "you know at once it is of some volume."
The In Town Man—Are the trains running pretty light on your road now?
The Out of Town Man—Well, not at night they're not.
Bill—Hear that fellow? He sings to keep the wolf from the door.
Jill—I should think he would be eminently successful.—Yonkers Statesman.

The Fad

Of the modern woman is health by exercise. It's an excellent fad, provided that it is always remembered that exercise cannot cure womanly diseases. Indeed, where such diseases exist exercise is apt to aggravate the condition rather than to help it.
The first step toward establishing the general health is to establish the local womanly health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries encumbering drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.
When these are cured, headache, dizziness and nervousness are things of the past. The universal testimony of weak and sickly women, cured by "Favorite Prescription," is this: "It has made me feel like a new woman."
"My wife has used three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine, and I never saw such results," writes A. B. Haynes, Esq., of Aurora, Lawrence Co., Mo. "It was wonderful in its work. We had used lots of medicine, also had one of the best physicians in Aurora, but my wife got no better; we heard one pitiful groan after another, day and night. A friend handed me a copy of Dr. Pierce's book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, and after reading the testimonials of Dr. Pierce's successful treatment, and seeing that the cases described were similar to my wife's, I bought for her a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before she had taken all of the medicine she was up and helping to do the work. She has taken three bottles and is now about well. Has better health than she has had for years."
Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

Sir Louis Davies and the Secrecy of the Ballot.

This section of the Dominion Election Act was in the bill as it was introduced by the Government of which Sir Louis is a member; and the Patriot declares that it "practically destroys the secrecy of the ballot."
"In the Province of Prince Edward Island, if any person desires to vote, whose right to vote is objected to on the ground of want of qualification, and if a candidate or any agent of a candidate or (in the absence of such agent) any elector acting in the interest of a candidate, so objects in the presence of the elector, the deputy returning officer in addition to placing his initials on the back of the ballot paper, as provided by section 70, shall also place on the back thereof a number corresponding to that placed opposite the voter's name on the poll book.
Here are sub-sections 5 and 8 of section 96, safeguarding the secrecy of the ballot, with Sir Louis Davies' attempted amendment in italics:—
Sub section 5. No candidate, officer, clerk, agent or any other person shall communicate at any time to any person any information as to the number on the back of the ballot paper given to any voter at a polling station, except to a court or judge lawfully requiring him so to do or attempt to ascertain at the counting of votes the number on the back of any ballot paper; but this provision shall not apply to ballots marked in accordance with sections 67 and 74 of this Act."
Sub sec. 8. Everyone who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an indictable offence, and liable to a penalty not exceeding two hundred dollars, and to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months, with or without hard labor, in default of payment of such penalty.

Europe, and the stories they tell of British brutality and arbitrariness also add to the flame. Never before, perhaps, was Great Britain regarded with so much suspicion as at present."

A Japanese Dinner.
He who does not like the way the Japanese cook fish must be hard to please. They are better fish cooks than the French. The Japanese waters are very prolific, and the natives seem to have learned in cooking to preserve the inherent flavor of the fish, while their sauces are very simple. And as for eels, as they are cooked at the kandagawa, a tenhouse in Tokyo, he who has tasted them has established a standard in his mind by which to judge other eels.
Seaweed we had, too, thin as paper, and crisp. It is the weed of the sea that is left on the rocks and scraped from them by the fisher women with shells and then dried in the sun. It is eaten as a relish and has a delicate flavor, suggesting cinnamon.
Rice we had in abundance. It was served from a bucket (not unlike ours, but not quite so deep) of unpainted white pine, with a little wooden shovel somewhat like those our children use in playing at the seashore. Our rice bowls were filled again and yet again, and when we covered our bowls it meant we had finished dinner. I have seen the Japanese look with indifference at a fish cooked in a way that made my mouth fairly water with desire, but when they are served with rice it receives their immediate attention.—Harper's Magazine.
