A Lusitana Natural.

CHILD WITH THREE TONGUES AND THE MARK OF A SNAKE DOWN HER ARM.

HELENA, Jan. 19.—James W. Blackwell and his wife brought to this place to-day their little three-year-old girl. It was born near Smithville, Lawrence County, Ark., on January 24, 1880, and two weeks after its birth the mother observed that she cried differently from other children. An examination led to the singular discovery that the child had three distinct tongues. James W. Blackwell, the father, was born near Jasper, Walker County, Ark. On Dec. 15, 1882, the mother gave birth to twins, both of which died. No peculiarity was noticed about either of them. The little girl in question is a fine, healthy child, and can speak tolerably well. Besides this deformity the child has the mark of a snake perfectly plain, running from the middle of her back over the left shoulder-blade, nearly to the elbow of the left arm. As soon as the fact was known that the child was marked in this peculiar manner, hundreds of persons from the surrounding neighborhood came to see this wonderful "lusitana nature." Beneath the tongue proper, which however, is split near the root, are two small tongues perfectly formed and distinct.
She seems to suffer no inconvenience from these surplus tongues, though her mother says she does not talk so plainly as she did a year ago.

Mrs. Langtry's Life.

SHE TELLS HER OWN STORY IN HER OWN WAY.

Mrs. Langtry has written the following letter to a St. Louis paper:

DEAR SIR,—You desire a few details of my early life, as much has been published of an erroneous nature concerning it. I was born in the Isle—not the State—of Jersey, twenty-eight years ago. My father was dean of the island, and senior dean of the United Kingdom. My grandfather and great-grandfather also belonged to the clergy—all were dignitaries of the church.
My mother was a Scotchwoman. I had six brothers, and all but one were older than I. I was the only girl.

I led a most retired life, sharing my brothers' pursuits and receiving the same education, until I reached my 20th year. Then I married Mr. Edward Langtry, and passed a six months' honeymoon on a yacht. Two years subsequently I went to London—chiefly to seek the advice of a physician, as I had just recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever, and I dreaded its consequence. My entrance to London social life dates from a party at Lady Sebright's. Thence forward I was invited elsewhere and treated with the greatest kindness and consideration. During three seasons I figured incessantly in London society. Meanwhile the great expense connected with social pleasure, and the Irish troubles—my husband being an Irish landowner and largely dependent for his income upon his property in Ireland—exhausted our means. It became necessary for me to earn a livelihood. I had a strong inclination for the stage, and my husband sanctioned it. My family in Jersey were shrunken; four of my brothers had died—my favorite brother was killed by a fall in the hunting field—so the prospect of absence from England was less distressing than it might have been. Mr. Langtry strove and is striving to do his share toward restoring our fortunes, and regrets as much as I do that he is unable, on that account, to accompany me to America. That is my whole story. Since I arrived here my life has been a public one; I have had nothing to conceal and have nothing to excuse, continent in the belief that falsehood and malignity will in the end defeat themselves without effort on my part.

Yours truly,
LILY LANGTRY.

Social Scandal.

A BRANTFORD, ONT., CLERGYMAN SUING FOR DAMAGES—HIS CHARACTER DEFAMED—SERIOUS CHARGES MADE BY A YOUNG WOMAN.

BRANTFORD, ONT., Jan. 29.—Rev. F. R.
Beattie, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, has brought an action for $10,000 against a Miss Leishman for defamation of character. The following particulars are taken from an evening paper:—During the past few days developments have been quietly awaited by many in the city, who have received intimation of a certain affair in which the name of a most respected clergyman figured. The circumstances of the case are principally as follows, and are mysterious enough to call for a suspension of judgment, at least until the case comes before the courts:—For a long time there has been a most unpleasant relationship existing between Rev. F. R. Beattie, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and his wife, indeed, it is said, by her parents, who live in Toronto, and who have ever been opposed to the union. Very few outside of the family knew of the difficulty until the open rupture occurred last week, and Mrs. Beattie left her home to return to the parental roof, preparatory to filing a bill for divorce. In July last a young woman named Lillian Leishman, a graduate of the Normal School, came to this city, and was employed at the Blind Institute. While here she met Mrs.
Beattie at a church social at Mr.
Grantham's, and so favorably impressed her that she opened her home to her and took her in as a companion. Just here is where the trouble arose. For some reason, best known to her self, Mrs. Beattie suddenly went to Toronto, leaving Miss Leishman the only female occupant of the house.
When she returned she was informed by the young woman that she had been outraged by Mr. B. The charge was resented and information laid at the Police Court, but as the case was not in the jurisdiction of the Police Magistrate a suit has been entered by Mr. Beattie against the young woman in $10,000 damages for defamation of character. Mrs. Beattie's friends have also given instructions to file a bill of divorce, and Miss Leishman is also instituting proceedings against him. Mr. Beattie's hitherto excellent reputation cannot but sustain him until the courts decide whether he was imprudent or the victim of a designing woman. Mr. Beattie claims that the whole circumstance is but a scheme to obtain grounds for a divorce, which has long been desired by Mrs. Beattie's friends. Little seems to be known of the young woman Leishman as regards her former life. Suffice it to say, she is evidently clever, well educated, and of good address, is possessed of ready wit and remarkable coolness, and is unwavering in her protestations of the truth of her story.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Jan. 31.—Yesterday Miss Leishman charged the Rev. F. Beattie, at the police court, with having criminal intercourse with her, against her will.
After hearing the evidence, the Magistrate required Beattie to find bail for $4,000, himself $2,000 and two sureties of $1,000 each.

Current Notes.

Lord Vanx of Harrowden is dead, aged 79. He was a Liberal.

A series of violent earthquakes have visited Formosa, causing great damage to property and the loss of many lives.

Russia is said to have expressed a desire to enter the Austro-German alliance, but Prince Bismarck declined the proposal with thanks.

A militia general order has been published at Ottawa containing new regulations for the obtaining by artillery officers of certificates from the schools of gunnery at Kingston and Quebec.

Mr. Louis Lewis, an extensive importer of foreign tobacco and cigars, in Montreal, has mysteriously as well as suddenly disappeared, it is believed across the line.
When his rich father-in-law, a Hebrew merchant, withdrew the liberal assistance he was rendering his son-in-law the latter collapsed.

A feature of the times is the friendly and intimate relations between the United States and Mexico. Our neighbors have invested a good deal of money in Mexican mines and railways, and the railways are doing a good work in helping international trade. A resiprocity treaty between the two countries was signed the other day.

The Army and Navy Gazette understands that H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, at the urgent request of the Princess of Wales, is bestriding himself to put down the cruel sport of "pigeon-shooting." The ladies have formed a ring, and intend "boycotting" Purlington until the Gun Club disavows "the pretty dove" and adopts the "terracotta pigeon," a new invention which is being brought out under the patronage of the Prince of Wales, and can be seen at work at the Ranelagh Club grounds.

Last year the United States exported to the Sandwich Islands, $2,646,577 worth of free merchandise under the Reciprocity Treaty and $407,097 worth of dutiable articles. The exports of sugar from the Sandwich Islands for the same year amounted to 106,181,858 lbs., which must have amounted in value to more than double the value of the exports to the Sandwich Islands. There is a shrewd suspicion that a good deal of a sugar not made in Islands finds its way from them to the United States.

The Washington correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs to that paper that when Major McKinley was presented to the Marquis of Lorne in the House of Representatives on Saturday, the latter complimented McKinley on the speech which he had just made on the tariff. The protective policy of the Dominion was mentioned, and the Marquis remarked that protection had certainly been a good thing for that country, which now has a surplus in her treasury and is in a prosperous condition. But I do not think our friends in England like it very well, he added laughingly.

One hundred invitations will be issued for the State dinner at the Government House, Ottawa, on the night of the opening of Parliament. At the termination of the dinner two hundred ladies, comprising the wives and daughters of his guests, will be received by His Excellency. The usual levee will be held in the Senate Chamber on the evening following. A new Aide-camp to the Governor General will shortly be appointed in the person of Lieut. Drury, a Canadian officer. Lieut. Drury is an enthusiastic soldier, and has been attached to the A Battery Royal School of Gunnery for eight years past. He will arrive at Government House shortly, and will remain on the Governor-General's staff till the expiration of Lord Lorne's term of office.

The New York Sun's Montreal correspondent relates this:—"I must tell you how Montreal girls dress," said a New York woman to her husband. "First, they start with flannel from head to foot—and such flannel!
Why, it's an eighth of an inch thick. Then they go on like other women, except that they put on more skirts, and usually a quilted one that's as warm as a wood fire.
Then they put on a dress, and over that a chamois jacket that fits like a shoe in the mid. Then they put ribbed woolen stockings over their stockings and wringles over their shoes. They don't care any more about the looks of their feet than the St.
Louis women do. Then they put on knit wristlets, then gloves, then a fur or cloth dolman, then a fur cap, and finally a coil of worsted comforters. When they are dressed, if they are hurled at a speed of a mile a minute from a toboggan they are unhurt. If they fall through the ice they are not wet. If the thermometer drops to fifteen below they read of it next day and wish they had known of it at the time."
