ADVANCES UP TO

Cuchon is 19 miles southeast of Wonju.

The new Allied push was into the teeth of strong Chinese and North Korean concentrations.

AP correspondent Stan Swinton, at Wonju, said a bitter battle apparently lies ahead. A senior Allied officer identified the enemy defenders of Hoengsong as the Chinese 198th Division. The Reds also were believed to have armor at Hoengsong.

As in the drive that started Jan. 25, the new offensive was a "broom-sweeping" operation. Instead of moving along the roads, the U. N. troops advanced over craggy ridge lines, checking every foxhole for the foe.

Harsh winds lashed the Allies, as they waded through ankle-deep mud.

The drive north of Wonju was two-pronged. One prong advanced 3,000 yards at the outset of the new push. The second gained 2,000 yards.

United Nations warships kept pointing Red targets on both the west and east coasts.

A release by United Nations naval forces said the British cruiser Belfast and the Australian destroyer Warramunga "recently" took part in the bombardment of Wonsan, Red supply port 90 miles south of Parallel 38.

But it was understood in British circles in Tokyo today that both ships had sailed south of the old boundary line between Communist North and Republican South Korea.

The British aircraft carrier Terminus also is known to be continuing operations to targets south of the controversial parallel until a definite understanding is reached on re-crossing the line.

Escaped U. S. Soldier Tells Of Torture

By Stan Swinton - (AP) WONJU, Korea, Feb. 21 - (AP) - An escaped American soldier said today Chinese Communist troops drenched him with gasoline, set him ablaze, and then laughed when he begged them to end his suffering with a bullet.

Cold and suffering from third-degree burns. Pte. Robert J. Phillippen, 20, of Long Beach, N. Y., reached American lines north of Wonju after more than a dozen unsuccessful escape attempts.

He said he was one of a group captured during a Chinese assault Feb. 13.

Here is Phillippen's story: "I was in a jeep with a machine-gun mounted on it. Suddenly eight Chinese with automatic weapons stepped in front of us. They killed the other three men in the jeep with me...

"One tried to grab my wrist watch and found I was still alive. He poured gasoline all over the jeep and set it afire, leaving me in the jeep all in flames. I looked for a spot of snow to put out the flames. I found a little and rolled off into a ditch.

"For a minute I was afraid they would shoot. I thought the fire would kill me anyway. But they didn't. They laughed. They stood there and laughed.

"I managed to find another bank of snow. I rolled in to it. I got up when I thought the fire was out and started to run. The flames started again. I rolled in the snow—but the fire still caught me all around and I didn't want to move. A few ran past me. I begged one to shoot me but he ran past me.

"I lay there a couple of hours. I raised my head and saw a couple of buddies they had taken prisoner. They came over and saw my clothes were all burned off. They threw the Reds' permit me to crawl back on the road.

"We lived on a handful of rice or anything we could find lying around...

"Last night I got on this road that leads to Wonju. About 300 came past in groups of three and four. I'd get down in the ditch and make out I was dead. I kept doing that all night.

"This morning I spotted a plane. I waved and walked one-half mile. I ran into some Americans and Frenchmen.

"I was so happy to see them I just cried."

Daring Attempt To Save Life Of Woman Fails

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21—(AP) - A 32-year-old woman died today despite a daring lifesaving attempt by Frankford Hospital doctors who pumped her blood through a dead man's kidney.

The doctors didn't give up on their technique, though. They continued the experiment was not successful in saving the woman's life because there was too great a lapse of time between the death of the man and the time his kidney was put to work to purify her blood.

At the time of the woman's death doctors said the kidney still was functioning but not efficiently enough to remove the accumulated impurities.

The kidney was removed from the body of Wayne H. Deveney, a 30-year-old truck driver killed in a highway accident, and used to try to purify the blood of Mrs. Richard Irvine, mother of three children.

Deveney was killed shortly before 4 a.m. The kidney was removed at 4:45 a.m., and 15 minutes later Mrs. Irvine's blood began to flow through the spare kidney, kept "alive" in a special apparatus.

The spare kidney was placed on a clay filter inside a glass jar. Tubes carried blood from Mrs. Irvine's arm into the kidney artery, out its veins and back again into Mrs. Irvine's arm.

The kidney was kept alive through use of a salt solution, dripping onto it from an electrically-controlled device which also kept the kidney warm and moist at a temperature of 40 degrees centigrade. The doctor who performed the

Islanders Prominent At Alberta Meeting Of Maritime Association

Prince Edward Island was well represented among the 400 native sons of the Maritimes who attended the recent 21st annual dinner of the Maritime Provinces Association in Edmonton, Alberta. One of the chief speakers at the function was the Rev. G. H. Villett, D. D., Principal of Alberta College, who is a native of Hampton, P.E.I., who spoke on "Canada's Cozy Corner."

Other speakers included Air Vice Marshal C. R. Dunlap a native of Sydney Mines, N. S., Frank Freeze, formerly of Penobscus, N. B., and now of Calgary, and Rev. Paul J. O'Reilly, vice-rector of St. Joseph's Seminary, a native son of Argentina, Newfoundland.

Among those attending the function were Hon. J. J. Bowlan, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, who also hails from Prince Edward Island, and Hon. A. J. Hooke, Minister of Economic Affairs in the Alberta Government.

Re-elected president of the Association was Mr. Edgar E. Nobles, formerly of New Brunswick. Former Island members on the executive include Mrs. C. R. Bradshaw and Elmer Lane.

Rev. George Harrison Villett referred to above, was born at Hampton, P.E.I. and attended the public schools and Prince of Wales College. After teaching two years, he went to Alberta and graduated from the University of Alberta and St. Stephen's College.

During World War I he served with the R.A.F. as a pilot, and on his return was ordained a minister of the Methodist Church, later the United Church of Canada. He served at Iron Springs, Taber, Pincher Creek, and McDougall Church, Alberta, before going to Vancouver where for twelve years he ministered at Canadian Memorial Church.

In 1947 the Board of Governors of Alberta College appointed him Principal of that institution. In that year Union College, Vancouver, conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Divinity for outstanding leadership among the youth of British Columbia.

Dr. Villett is a member of the Board of Governors of St. Stephen's College, Mount Royal College, Calgary, and McDougall Church. He is a Rotarian, President of the Associated Temperance Forces of Alberta, and serves on many boards of various groups in Edmonton.

This same impression is conveyed by a New York Times dispatch which said the Soviet Union was believed ready to listen to Western charges in return for the right to get in its own ticks. The appearance of near-agreement on the agenda matter, however, should not lead anyone to believe that either side will enter any conference, if it is held, with the idea that settlements can be produced.

All Russia has done is to deny that she is guilty of anything. The latest round of notes has merely served to establish identical charges by each side against the other.

The result of any meeting which may now be produced will be to see which side can shout the loudest.

Mrs. Tucker is alive and well. Doctors at Chicago say their tests show the transplanted kidney is functioning. It replaced one of Mrs. Tucker's kidneys, destroyed by disease.

Foreign diplomats in Moscow point out that Allied words regarding the principal issue—the European armaments race—are patchy to ideas already expressed by Russia.

The Allies obviously thought that they were being tough when they countered Russian suggestions for talk about Germany with their own desire to talk about rearmament of the Russian satellites in violation of the Paris peace treaties.

However, says an Associated Press dispatch from Moscow, "indication is given that the Soviet Union has much that it wants to say on this subject (the existing level of armaments) and that it may look upon the Foreign Ministers Council as the forum for it."

There have been other types of techniques used in similar ailments but in none of these was use of the kidneys restored.

In Chicago, an experiment was tried eight months ago during which a dead woman's kidney was transplanted into the body of Mrs. Tucker, 44.

900 Blood Donors Urgently Needed

The Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service is saving lives every day of the year in Prince Edward Island as well as in the other seven Provinces of Canada in which this programme is active. Many spectacular cases have been reported by our hospitals quite recently. Outstanding among the 2,000 who have benefited by transfusions during the past year was the man who was haemorrhaging severely as the result of gastric ulcers. He was given twelve bottles of blood and is now well on the road to recovery due to the availability of blood. Another noteworthy case was the woman who had a ruptured appendix accompanied by the premature birth of twins—though the twins were born dead the mother lived—saved by blood transfusion and skilled medical attention.

However, Prince Edward Island's supply of blood is again all but exhausted and requires at least 900 bottles to replenish it for the next three months. All in good health who are between the ages of 18-65 will have an opportunity to help maintain the Province's supply when the Mobile Team from Halifax holds clinics in Charlottetown and Summerside on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. Since the service is available to all, friends of anyone who can should contribute towards it. How can anyone expect to draw out from the bank if he or she does not deposit—that is if he or she is able. Due to the prevalence of flu all of the well population will be expected to be donors and thereby help the Island to again reach its quota and insure an adequate supply for the next three months' use.

Barbara Stanwyck Is Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21 - (AP) - Barbara Stanwyck today obtained a divorce from Robert Taylor—a divorce which, she testified, she requested.

Composed and low-voiced, the movie star told Judge Thurmond Clarke: "Shortly after Mr. Taylor's return from Italy in December"—where he had been making a movie—"he came to me and asked for a divorce."

Asked by her counsel what her reaction was, Miss Stanwyck said: "I was very shocked and grieved. For several weeks I was under the care of my physician."

The Taylors were married May 14, 1939, and separated last Dec. 14. The actress, under terms of a property settlement, will receive 15 per cent of Taylor's gross earnings until his death or she remarries.
