Ontario In Fifth Month Of Battle With Forest Fires

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Last April 1 a forester sighted faint wisp of smoke rising from Ontario's rich timberlands. It was the first sign of the many fires, which have flared into one of the worst forest killers the province has seen.

Today, in the fifth month of the battle by firefighters, at least 136 separate blazes are still destroying forestland. More than 200,000 acres, or millions of dollars worth of timber, have been devoured. Thirteen fires still are out of control.

The siege between man and his old enemy, fire, now is the longest in the history of the province. Ontario has not been free from forest fires for four months.

It began with the warning of the one forester. Within a month the forest protection service had all 3,000 men in its regular force plus 3,000 volunteers in action and counted the days to victory.

NEW ENEMY

But it didn't count on a new enemy, hot weather. The heat dried up streams and allowed flames to burrow a foot below ground until the earth itself became hot. Lightning started new fires faster than they could be reached. Rain never came—only the blazing sun.

Men came from every walk of life. Highly paid or unemployed, they took up hose, shovel and axe, laboring against towering flames for 65 cents an hour and meals.

Jack Dillon, with the lands department in Toronto, says there is no composite picture of a firefighter or his working day.

Only stamina limits the hours he labors. He can be between 18 and 60 but his average age is 30. He is best at the job if he is a bushman, for the fear and strain is less.

For most, the strain is great and flies can nearly drive a man berserk. Last year, his nerve shattered, one firefighter plunged screaming into the heart of a blaze to die.

NO END IN SIGHT

There is no shortage of equipment. A new high-pressure lightweight pump is proving itself. Pack tractors, equipped with treads, go anywhere a man can walk.

Victory is not yet in sight. Only heavy rain that will soak deep into the smouldering earth can help achieve it. None is forecast, and already the flames have consumed tens of thousands of acres of valuable timber, from southern hardwoods to northern spruce.

The foresters, Mr. Dillon said, cannot remember a year when the fires were "so consistently bad."

The final heat for race winner was won by Doctor F. C., owned and driven by Ralph McFadyen, and we are sure his thousands of friends throughout this province will be proud and glad of his victory. With not very much racing experience he had the honor of winning the largest stake ever won by a Maritime bred pacer over a Maritime track. Laurel Henley (MacLeod) was 2 and Jinny Budlong (LeBoeuf) 3. Time, 2.13¾—a new record for Doctor F.

Our congratulations also to all the other owners and drivers who made their final payments in this stake, which was raced for as follows: $1,000 for each dash, making a total of $5,000. That same night Barbara Ann Queen, owned by H. J. Monaghan, Sydney, and driven by Cyril Smith, won races 5 and 6. Neil Budlong (Conroy) 2. Time, 2.12⅝, 2.11—a new record for Barbara. Cyril Smith also won race 1 with Lady Abner in 2.17⅝. Winner of race 2 was Theora's Ensign, owned by A. D. Napke, Newcastle, N.B. and driven by Johnny Conroy. Eddie Hoosier (S. Walker) 2. Time, 2.13¾—a new record. We are grateful to F. Rankin McLaine and Rollie Wood who saw the races and very kindly gave us completed score cards.

Wednesday night was really race night throughout the Maritimes. A record crowd of 4,105 fans were on hand at Saint John Exhibition Park to see the recent import Ben Brooke C. finish first in dashes 5 and 8 for the C & R Stable and driver Art Davidson; Ann's Boy (E. Goguen) 2-2. Time, 2.13, 2.13⅝. The 4th and 7th dashes were won by Ramona Chips (M. Lawson) owned by the Bright Spot Club, best time 2.15⅝.

At Moncton Wednesday night there were three double winners. In the 1st and 4th dashes Mae Federal (Cormier) was 1-1, best time 2.19. In the 2nd and 6th dashes Laurel Chief (D. A real good racing program was put on at Summerside Raceway on Wednesday night. Those interested in speculation did well on the mutuels, the payoffs being quite large in several cases. S'side Mourns Death Of Mr. Cyrus B. Morris Summerside mourns the loss of one of its finest and best known citizens by the death of Mr. Cyrus B. Morris at his home in Summerside on Thursday morning.

Mr. Morris was born at Bedeque, September 16, 1876, a son of the late Joseph Morris and his wife, the former Anne Wright, of that place. He was educated in the district school and prepared himself for a business career by graduating from the Charlottetown Business College, and his first employment was with Wright Bros., at Victoria.

Later, and for several years, Mr. Morris successfully engaged in the lobster canning business, and established a Prince Edward Island branch in Summerside of the N. B. firm of Fred Magee Ltd., and was made its manager for the province. He later became actively engaged in the fox industry, becoming a director in several companies.

His next business trip was to enter into a mercantile partnership with Joseph A. Bernard at Tignish, in which he continued until his retirement in 1940.

After his retirement Mr. Morris was active in various capacities in Summerside, conducting one of the drives some years ago in aid of the Prince County Hospital, assisting in the victory loan campaigns, and at one time was in charge of the selective service bureau here.

Left to cherish his memory are the following children; Victor, in Cornwall, Ont.; Allie, Mrs. Arnold Wilson, Stratford, Ont.; Florence, Mrs. James A. Morrison, Summerside; Mrs. Jean Woodcock, Winchester, Mass.; also six grandchildren. He was predeceased by two other children, Arthur and Doris.

Surviving also are two sisters, Mrs. Robert Holland, Bedeque, and Harriet, retired nurses, in New Hampshire.

A man of pleasing personality and excellent qualities, the passing of Mr. Morris will be deeply regretted by those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, which included the members of the Masonic fraternity, in which order he had the distinction of being the oldest past grand master in this province.

In religion, the deceased was a member of the United Church of Canada.

The funeral will take place today at 2 p.m. from the Compton Funeral Home, where a service will, in the absence from the province of the pastor of Trinity United Church, be conducted by Rev. Donald J. MacKay, of the Presbyterian Church. Interment will be in People's Cemetery. —S.

CANADIAN APPEARANCE

TORONTO (CP)—Alan Young, popular Canadian-born comedian, will make his first Canadian appearance in several years on the CBC television show, "On Stage with Denny Vaughan" Aug. 3.

Sport Echos From Prince County

There is a great deal of local comment about our Island boy from Alberton, Joe O'Brien, who drove Scott Frost to a win in the famous Hambletonian for one of the richest stakes in harness-racing competition. We are all proud of Joe's achievement, but at the same time we should not forget that Joe's brother Claud, was the one who broke and trained Scott Frost, and we think he should get his due share of credit for this.

When the Rotary and Y's Men Little Leaguers are pitted against each other in a league game at Queen Elizabeth Park, the event draws about the largest crowd to attend sporting functions here in Summerside, excepting, of course the harness racing cards. These teams are at the top of the league, and very evenly matched, and play a brand of ball that pleases spectators even if they are not the mothers and daddies or grandaunts of the boys who are participating.

Miss Yungblut, catcher of the Air Force Daks, is a newcomer to the team and has added a lot of strength to this club. She takes a man-sized cut at the water-melon, runs like a fugitive from justice, and handles herself generally well in other phases of softball play.

We saw the Grand River girls for the first time this year. They have a particularly strong club with the willow, but play a lot of hop-scotch out in the field when the ball comes their way. With more practice these girls will likely settle down to a better fielding game, and then watch out for this ball club. Even now watching them play has its compensations.

Looks as if next week will be the banner harness racing week for Summerside Raceway. Some fine classes have been mobilized and if we get any kind of a friendly grin from the weatherman there should be heaps of excitement and real enjoyment at the Summerside track. The biggest crowds of the season are expected.

Since we have no adult baseball in Summerside this year, fans seem to have worked up a higher than usual interest in the goings-on of the major leagues. The tight race in the American League has everybody talking, and the Boston Red Sox' mad dash towards the summit have the whole town talking.

Hutt Bros. Open Wood Working And Boat Shop

A modern well equipped wood working mill for the manufacture of windows, doors, etc., in conjunction with a boat building shop where lobster boats are already under construction, has been added to the growing list of enterprises in west Prince County.

Owned and operated by the Hutt brothers, Mont, Cecil and Harvey, the mill is located near their homes at Alberton South. The main building, where all types of mill work will be done, is a two story structure 40 x 40 and houses molders, tenoning machine, mortising machines, power saws, band saws, jointers, variety molder, sizing planes, belt and arm sanders and other small electric tools. Two Dewalt saws are on order. The first carload of pine was unloaded the first part of this week.

The fishing boats are being built in a shop formerly operated by the late Mr. William Aubrey, whose style of lobster boat, well known to Island fishermen, will be continued under the supervision of Mr. Phillip Kinch of Alberton South, who worked with Mr. Aubrey for several years. The first boat is nearing completion and will be delivered to Mr. Frank McNeill of Alberton.

Mill superintendent is Mr. Ezra Mills of Woodstock, N. B., and Mr. Harvey Hutt is business manager.

Kinkora Man Injured By Potato Sprayer

Mr. P. J. Greenan of Kinkora suffered the loss of two fingers and part of a third finger from his left hand in a painful accident while spraying potatoes on the farm of Mr. Jack Farmer in Kinkora yesterday morning.

While riding the tractor-drawn sprayer Mr. Greenan's pant leg became caught in the moving sprocket of the sprayer, and in reaching down quickly to tear free the clothing, the fingers of his hand were caught, crushed, and held fast by the sprocket teeth. The ends of the fingers had to be severed on the spot by a jackknife in order to free the injured hand.

He was rushed to Dr. H. M. Simms in Bedeque and then to Prince County Hospital where he was resting as comfortably last night as his injury would permit.

Closing Exercises At Summer Training School

The summer teacher training school, sponsored by the Department of Education, and under the direction of Mr. W. A. MacPhee, held its closing exercises yesterday at Prince of Wales College. The courses were designed to assist experienced teachers seeking refresher work as well as those teachers holding or seeking permits, to obtain instruction and advice for the coming year's work. Classes were held each morning with the afternoons being reserved for library work, under supervision of Miss Mary Donahue. Special classes were conducted by Dr. L. W. Shaw.

There was a total of 75 teachers attending the school, an increase of 20 over last year's total. In addition to these a number of Island teachers are in attendance at summer schools at Mount Allison University, University of New Brunswick, and the Departmental school at Halifax. These are being held at various times throughout the summer.

Assisting the director, Mr. MacPhee, were: Mrs. Mary Deans, Keene Teacher's College, Keene, N.H.; Miss Helen Yeo, Mr. Willard Brehaut, and Mr. Winston Ross.

Swimming Event Scheduled In Prince County Sunday

An interesting sports event is scheduled for Sunday afternoon on the Kildare River when, for the first time swimmers from Alberton and vicinity will attempt to swim from the Kildare bridge to the Montrose bridge. The number of entrants could not be learned last evening but at least six are expected to try the three mile test which is being considered for an annual event.

The starting point will depend on wind direction but is likely to be the Kildare bridge. Outboard motor boats will accompany the swimmers all the way and with favorable weather a large crowd is expected at the finish line to cheer the winner and enjoy a swim in the beautiful Montrose River.

Let's Talk It Over

by "d"

The story is told of a mentally deranged person who was caught sticking a pin in his arm. Asked why he did this, he answered: "It feels so good when I stop." Admittedly this unfortunate person was not behaving parionally, and his method is hardly recommended for pleasure seekers, but the story illustrates one of the great truths of human experience, i.e. that joys of life are accentuated by the contrast of suffering and misfortune. Parents cherish and enjoy their children with a deep and abiding love, but this love lies inert beneath the surface of their consciousness, and its being taken for granted more or less lessens its intensity. But if a child is lost in the wood for a few days, if hope for its recovery dies, and then almost miraculously it is restored to its parents, their love for it is intensified, and they are conscious of joy never before experienced in their lives.

We sometimes envy a person whose life seems a continual round of pleasure and fulfillment of promises with no disappointments or apparent sorrows. It is doubtful if that person is getting out of life what we imagine he is. His pleasures are watered down and rendered insipid by the mere fact of their monotonous repetition without the contrast of disappointment and sorrow to give them a filip. You can't get the mountain peaks of life's experiences without the deep valleys that are adjacent to them., and the level plain is not desirable even if it is a plateau. Let us count not only our blessings, but also our misfortunes which give these blessings a richer meaning.
