Three Escaped Prisoners Still At Liberty

Three prisoners who escaped from Prince County Jail on Tuesday evening, after attacking the assistant jailer Roy Grady, were still at large last evening.

The three are: Arthur Cannon, of Duver, serving 18 months for indecent assault, and also awaiting trial on charges of jail breaking, and breaking, entering and theft, that took place last month.

Ensor Perry, of Summerside, who was serving four months for breaking, entering and theft. He also has charges pending against him of jail breaking, and breaking, entering and theft in connection with last month's jail break.

Fred (Mousie) Peters, of Summerside, was to have been a Crown witness yesterday morning before the Grand Jury in a charge of possession of stolen goods which has been laid against Alfred (Toad) Cahill. Peters was serving six months for breaking, entering and theft committed in December.

He also had a charge of jail breaking pending against him at the time of his latest escape. Officials believe the latest jail break was well planned.

The possibility that outside help was available to make their escape successful is strengthened by the fact that jail authorities a few days ago found and confiscated two hack-saw blades and two knives in one of their cells.

Cannon is about 28 years of age, about 5 feet 9 inches, weighs about 190 pounds, has jet black hair, round face, and pleasant appearance.

Peters, about 22, is approximately 5 feet 10 inches, weighs about 170 pounds, has dark hair and is dark complexioned.

Perry, about 19, is about 5 feet 6 inches, weighs about 135 pounds, is dark complexioned, has dark hair, and a thin face.

Local police and the various R. C. M. P. detachments are co-operating in maintaining a constant vigilance for any or all three escapees. It is also considered that they may try to leave the Island for the mainland by motor boat under cover of darkness and authorities have been alerted to this possibility.

Let's Talk It Over

There are two conditions existing in Summerside right now that need only a coincidence of time and place to result in a serious accident. One is the fact that some of our intersections where "stop" signs are placed have thick hedges on either one side or the other, which make it impossible to see very much of the through street unless you go out rather dangerously far into the street to do so.

The other is the fact that a few drivers go down those through streets much too fast.

Some day one of these speeders will see a car coming out of a cross street, after the driver has made the required stop and thinks the way clear, and the speeder will not be able to stop in time to avoid the other car. With the hedges as they are, there is not too much the driver on the "stop" street can do, but the driver on the through street should bear in mind that reasonable speed on these streets will insure everyone's safety.

Of all the stories coming out of the Coronation, none has been more touching than the one about the old scrub lady who was sent to the Coronation by the tenants in the building where she worked. A poverty-stricken old lady, nearing the sunset of life, was made very happy. She was going back to the land of her birth, and was to see her beloved Sovereign. Such an experience would make up for many years of drudgery.

The Canadians who represented us and our love and loyalty to the throne at the Coronation in London would all be very proud of their roles. But none more proud than this old lady, who was representing not only the people for whom she worked, but their very wonderful compassion. All of them have reason to feel proud of their part in this great event in our history. When "the tumult and the shouting dies," their sacrifices will stand as a monument to their generosity.

Grand Jury Recommendations

Re S'side Jail Conditions

—With Mr. Justice George J. Tweedy presiding, the June term of the Supreme Court commenced at Summerside yesterday morning.

In the only indictment before the court, a Grand Jury composed of nine members considered the crown's evidence against Alfred (Toad) Cahill of Summerside indicted on two counts, (1) shop breaking and theft; (2) possession of stolen goods.

The Grand Jury found no bill on the first part of the indictment but returned a true bill on the second part charging him with possession of stolen goods.

Cahill was arraigned and entered a plea of "not guilty".

The trial will commence this morning at 11:00 A.M. The charges resulted from a break at the War Surplus Store last December.

During the morning, when the Grand Jury had retired to consider the crown's evidence, Mr. D. O. Stewart, Q. C., acting for the crown, advised the court that one of the prisoners, Fred (Mousie) Peters, who escaped on Tuesday evening was a witness in the case against Cahill, and asked that his evidence, as given before the magistrate, be read.

In his address to the jury, Mr. Justice Tweedy expressed concern over the number of jail breaks that have occurred at Prince County Jail, and urged the jury members to spend considerable time, when making their inspection of the jail, to see that proper care is taken for the safe custody of prisoners within the institution.

He said that the jury in this respect, have a duty to the public and that they should try to solve the difficulty of retaining prisoners in this jail.

Judge Tweedy said that when a prisoner is lodged in jail the public have a right to expect him to remain there until sentence is passed.

He said they should "see that care is taken to provide for the maintenance, care and safe custody" of those in jail.

"You will report your findings to the court," he said, "and make any recommendations which may be reasonable and practical for the improvement of these conditions."

Mr. Justice Tweedy said that he was not sure how many of the law which have escaped the notice of the Attorney-General you may bring them to the attention of the court so that they may be properly dealt with.

Public Responsibility

Judge Tweedy concluded his address to the jury by saying "It is my considered opinion that you get just the law enforcement you look for and deserve, so if you hear any complaints about lack of enforcement, or otherwise, then take it as a personal matter and lend more support as a good citizen to the enforcement branch of our law."

In opening his address to the Grand Jury Mr. Justice Tweedy said that at this first session of the first term of Supreme Court following the coronation of Queen Elizabeth he wanted his first words to be those repeated so often on Coronation Day, "God Save The Queen."

"In a democratic system such as that under which we are privileged to live," he said, "we pride ourselves in the fact that we are governed by certain rules of law. Laws which are in harmony with the will of the people and with the spirit of the times. But," he said, "it is not only essential to have good laws. It is no less essential that they should be well administered."

"The Grand Jury," he continued, "is a very old and venerable institution. It is but another manifestation of our democratic way of life, giving as it does to the people a very important voice in the administration of justice."

Grand Jury Report

Following is the Grand Jury's report: "We, the foreman and members of the Grand Jury for the June term of the Supreme Court, hereby submit the following report: We inspected the goal and wish to make the following recommendations: "Have radiator removed from visiting room, as we consider it entirely too large for the size of the room."

Have rooms formerly occupied by R.C.M.P. cleaned and redecorated: Have floor repaired in women's section, all windows repaired and painted.

Outer cement walls on both sides are heaving badly and need to be attended to at once.

We wish to draw your immediate attention to results now pending which are as follows: new locks, ventilator opening, coal chutes and goal doors. We consider this would reduce the possibilities of escape from goal. We consider the general condition of the prisoners' quarters as very unsanitary and recommend an immediate clean-up and arrangement made with proper authorities to see that they are kept clean.

We recommend that consideration be given to provide parking accommodation in front of Court House to relieve the congestion on Central Street.

Respectfully submitted for self and fellows, George W. Hogg, foreman.

Other members of the Grand Jury were: Amos Hubley, Arthur MacEwen, Joseph B. Wood, Frank Platt, Preston Kennedy, all of Summerside; Walter Newcombe, Port Hill; Stanford Green, Elm-dale; Wesley Dignan, Woodstock.

Sheriff's Report

Following is the report of Sheriff J. Hubert Hall: "We have had 98 persons committed to Prince County Jail since last regular sitting of the Supreme Court under the following offences: 65 for drunkenness, under P. E. I. Temperance Act; 5 for possession, under P. E. I. Temperance Act; 3 for drunkenness, under Indian Act; 1 reckless driving; 1 traffic By-Law; 1 false pretences; 3 vagrancy; 1 poaching fish; 1 assault; 1 indecent assault; 1 incest; 8 breaking, entering and theft; 6 theft; 1 carrying an offensive weapon. Total 98.

Four of the 98 prisoners were also serving time for breaking lawful custody.

One of the 98 prisoners was sent to higher court for breaking lawful custody, and breaking, entering, and theft.

The following are still serving sentence: 1 drunkenness; 1 indecent assault; 1 theft; 8 breaking, entering, and theft.

Coronation Day Observed At Borden

Flagpole Presented

Beginning the Coronation celebrations at Borden on June 2nd, a large parade moved off from Borden High School, headed by the R.C.M.P. in their colorful scarlet tunics, and composed of ex-servicemen, headed by Leading Seaman Walter Westhaver, and flag bearers Gordon Jay and Tony Noonan, accompanied by drummer Ernest Pike. These were followed by C. G. I. T. and Explorers, Boy Scouts and Cubs, and nearly 300 school children from Borden, Charlottetown, and Cape Traverse districts, accompanied by their teachers. The parade marched through the town to the Legion Hall.

To open the coronation a new flagpole was presented by Mr. J. McIsaac, president of the Canadian Legion, and while the children sang "O Canada" the flag was reverently raised by His Worship Mayor Leard. Following remarks by the chairman, Mr. P. J. McInnis, stirring addresses were given by Mayor Leard, Rev. Reginald MacDonald, and Rev. Mr. Howe. Mr. J. McIsaac, representing the Legion, Mr. A. P. Cerrito, the Scouts and Cubs, and Mr. Russell Bell the C. G. I. T.

Seated on the platform were representatives of the different organizations: Mrs. J. V. MacDonald, Altar Society; Mrs. Westhaver, Sacred Heart Club; Mrs. Jack McIsaac, Social Club; Mrs. Preston Darrach, Women's Institutes; Mr. Bedford MacDonald, the teachers; and Mr. Gilbert Bell, secretary of the committee.

At the conclusion of the addresses all united in singing "God Save the Queen", after which whistles and sirens blew, and church bells rang for over five minutes. The children were then treated with confectionery by the town, and during the balance of the afternoon races by the children and a game of softball were the order of the day. In the evening a huge bonfire was held, and all enjoyed a sing-song.

Social Evening

The members of the Borden Legion, No. 10, held a social evening and dance in the Legion Hall, attended by about 60 couples. Mr. John Sanford as master of ceremonies opened with a very fine programme as follows:

Toast to the Queen, by President J. J. McIsaac, responded to by singing "God Save the Queen."

Violin solo: "Danny Boy", by Fred MacCulloch.

Solo: "Cheating Heart", by Bobby Campbell.

Solo: "Road to the Isles", by Mrs. W. S. Jardine.

Solo: "Prince Edward Island", by Gordon Jay.

Violin selections by Bill Chaisson.

Solo: "Rose of Tralee", by Gordon MacCulloch.

Recitation, by Gideon Keene.

This was followed by remarks by Mayor Leard and Father Reginald MacDonald, and a sing-song led by Mrs. Jardine and Mrs. Toombs as accompanist. A beautiful lunch was then provided by the wives of the members, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, with Mrs. Stanley Howatt at the piano, Fred MacCulloch, violin, and Bobby Campbell and Mr. Burke, guitars.
