

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

MAY 11, 1889.

Notes and Comments.

We learn that the speech of Mr. Blake, M. P., on the motion to go into committee of supply, has been extensively misrepresented throughout the country.

Wouldn't it be well to make an effort to obtain the Northern Light for service at Summerside, Charlottetown and other ports in the late fall and early spring months?

The mails have arrived on time during the past week. This fact gives satisfaction to the public and reflects credit upon the captains of the steamers, compelled to meet the demands of an increasing freight business.

It is hoped that the Short Line of railway to be opened up this summer will be used in the transport of fish from the Maritime Provinces to the interior of Canada.

Mr. George Johnson, the Canadian statistician, has pointed out that the Dominion had half a million of people in 1810, while the United States at that same year had seven and a quarter millions.

But the greatest interest centres at Ostia, for it, as your readers know, was the great port of Rome, especially from the time of its enlargement and improvement by Claudius.

Personal.

Hon. J. O. Aeneault, Wellington, is registered at the Osborne.

The Rev. S. Weston Jones returned last evening, after a four days visit to St. John.

Sappers Winchester and Houston have returned from the Royal Military College, Kingston, looking well.

Livly Randolph Churchill is about to make her debut in literature, it is said, with an article in Longman's New Review on her experiences in Russian society life.

Mr. W. W. Stanley, of Stanley Bros., returned from the Southern States last evening. We are pleased to learn that he is much improved in health.

Word comes from Honolulu that Rev. Father Damien, widely celebrated as the leper priest of Molokai, died at Kalawa, Hawaii, April 10.

Local Notices.

Opened to-day, cases two novelties in ladies American Straw hats.—Beer Bros.

All wool worsted suit made to order, from $14 up, at John Macleod & Co's.

If Frowse Bros. can't fit a boy with a good cheap suit, its no use trying this town.

The rush to McEachern's boot store still continues. Call down and see him to-night, if you want a pair of boots or shoes.

Varia.

Nothing seems to be talked about in London now but General Boulanger. He has been chased out of Paris, and the excitable French people were unable to remain calm when he was so near to them as Brussels.

The allusion to Dickens' well-known character, Mrs. Leo Hunter, seems to have been lost upon the French journals, who believe her to be a living person.

Much interest is excited at the results of the excavations of ancient remains by the Italian Government. Besides those which are being executed in Rome in the forum of Augustus, two important sets of explorations are being made at Falerii and at Ostia.

But the greatest interest centres at Ostia, for it, as your readers know, was the great port of Rome, especially from the time of its enlargement and improvement by Claudius.

The other day I came across a paragraph in one of the essays of Elia, in which Lamb gives an account of his feelings upon attending an instrumental concert which may be interesting to some of your readers:—

What a different opinion was that of Bishop Beveridge: "That which I have found the best recreation both to my mind and body, whenever either of them stands in need of it is music, which exercises at once both body and soul; especially when I play myself; for then, methinks, the same motion that my hand makes upon my instrument the instrument makes upon my heart.

"Law Student" is very irate with me for the lines I published regarding the legal profession. He accuses me of ignorance—"crass ignorance"—he calls it, for being unaware of the significance of the legal terms which were used.

The devil came up to the earth one day, And into the Court he wended his way, Just as the Attorney with a very grave face, Was proceeding to argue the point in a case.

Now, a lawyer His Majesty never had seen; For to his dominions none ever had been, And he felt very anxious the reason to know Why none had been sent to the regions below.

'Twas the fault of his agents, His Majesty thought, That none of these lawyers had ever been caught!

Well, the lawyer who rose, with a visage so grave, Made out his opponent a consummate knave!

And Satan felt very greatly amused To hear the Attorney so badly abused.

But soon as the speaker had come to a close, The Counsel opposing him fiercely arose, And heaped such abuse on the head of the first, That made him a villain of all men the worst.

Thus they quarrelled, contended and argued so long, 'Twas hard to determine which of them was wrong, And concluding he'd heard enough of the fuss, Old Nick turned away and soliloquized thus:—

"They've puzzled the Court with their villainous cavil, And I'm free to confess it they've puzzled the Devil, My agents were right to let lawyers alone, If I had them they'd swindle me out of my throne."

An Honest Saloon Advertisement. Friends and neighbors: Grateful for the liberal encouragement received from you, and, having supplied my tavern with a new and ample stock of choice wines, spirits, and lager beer, I thankfully inform you that I continue to make drunkards and beggars for the sober, industrious and respectable community to support.
